Christmas Special Collection

for seminarian education and infirm priests

During this holy time of giving, please remember our clergy.

Christ was born to share God's good news. Today, our Catholic clergy dedicate their lives to sharing this same message with the world.

Your gift will help us educate our seminarians and provide for the needs of our infirm priests.

Look for your envelope in the December 15 issue of The Catholic Missourian

The Seven Sisters Apostolate is a call to strengthen the Church by ensuring that a Holy Hour is prayed each day of the week for the sole intention of a specific priest.

Please contact the parish center to join a group forming to pray for Fr. Alex!

There will be no walking rosary in December. Watch this space for January details!

Advent Reflections Part 1: The Annunciation

The following, reprinted with permission, is the transcript of a podcast author Joe Benevento recorded for Catholic Charities of Central and Northern Missouri, based on the gospels' portrayal of St. Joseph. The CCCNMO blog page where you can find these reflections and other news is at cccnmo.diojeffcity.org/category/news/

What Catholic doesn't love the traditional Christmas narrative, from the Annunciation straight through to the Three Wise Men? I worry, though, that some Catholics enjoy that narrative the way they enjoy "A Christmas Carol," or "It's a Wonderful Life."

Those fictions feature the appearance of angels, or spirits visiting in dreams, just like the Bible story. If someone in real life told us they had been visited by an angel or that they were changing their lives based on a dream, we might question their sanity. Fiction is different though; works labeled fiction explicitly tell us that "this didn't really happen"; in fact, fiction featuring ghosts or angels is usually categorized as "Fantasy." Yet the story of Mary and Joseph, "really did happen," and we need to appreciate how big a distinction that is.

Unlike Scrooge, the Virgin Mary was real. She was a young Jewish woman, recently contracted in marriage to a man named Joseph. Catholics believe that Mary was conceived without original sin, but could Mary understand the depth of that reality? Joseph was a simple craftsman, who expected a very ordinary marriage and family life with Mary. Suddenly, Mary learns she is to birth the long awaited Messiah. No lesser figure than the Archangel Gabriel delivers this message. How would that not overwhelm an actual human being? Yet Mary remains composed and delivers a beautiful affirmation of her willingness to remain God's servant. How many of us, though, really reflect on how astonishing and brave her reaction was?

And if what Mary does isn't incredible enough, consider Joseph. When he learns Mary is pregnant, and knows he isn't the father, he's naturally upset, but kind enough not to want Mary exposed. But how did Joseph learn of Mary's pregnancy? It had to have been before she was "showing," so it must have been Mary herself who told him. When Mary told Joseph she was pregnant though still a virgin he didn't believe her. Why would he? He was a real person, not a fictional character and a pregnant virgin was not possible. Yet the Bible tells us an unnamed angel (Joseph doesn't merit an Archangel) reveals to him, within a dream, that all is well. And so he takes Mary into his home as his wife.

We should reflect on this truth. In real life, who believes something just because they dreamed it? As in fiction, once we wake from a dream, we conclude, "that didn't really happen." In the Bible, it seems that people named Joseph are expected to accept dreams as something more. But if Joseph is to be accepted as a real person, then his decision to stay with Mary is almost more incredible than the miraculous truth of the Virgin birth itself. God, for whom all things are possible, saw to that birth, but Joseph, an ordinary man with no halo yet, has to utilize his trust in Mary and the assurances of a dream angel to decide he should stick with the woman he loves. It's an amazing feat of courage for which Joseph has never really been fully celebrated.

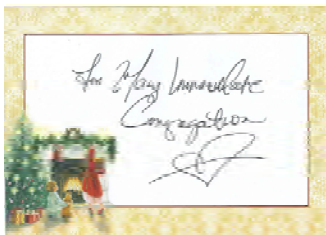

In fantasy fiction, we accept angels and other supernatural elements readily. The Gospels aren't fiction, though. So Joseph's acceptance isn't just something some author decided for him; but rather a life-changing choice based on faith in both the Most High and his wife Mary. Mary and Joseph begin to earn the title the "Holy Family" when Mary accepts God's plan, and works to convince her husband that all is righteous and blessed. They begin to become the Holy Family when they are willing to accept what seems like far-fetched fiction, as the reality that will challenge and bless the rest of their lives together.

Fellowship Carry-In Breakfast

January 7, 2023
in the school gym
after 9am Mass

Carry-in breakfast food to share with your fellow parishioners. All are welcome even if you attended another Mass.

This note was left in the church: My name is Deborah and I just wanted to again thank you for Saving My Life Time & Time Again even if you had no idea that you had. Your church is full of Love and full of faith. Thank You for keeping my faith alive. May you have Blessed Holidays~ Love, Deborah.

We have four local benevolence clients named Deborah, but really, I have no idea who this might be. It is a marvelous reminder that what we do to "the least of these," we do until Jesus Himself.

GOSPEL MEDITATION - 3rd Sunday of Advent

Why do we believe in Jesus and the Catholic Church? Why should we continue to do so? We've never seen him face-to-face (at least not most of us, I assume). Most of us have never had mystical visions of angels or saints. We live in the same world as our atheist and secularists friends. Why do we believe in Christ if we've never seen him?

The simple, symbolic answer the Gospel presents to us this week might surprise us: we believe because of John the Baptist. Early in John's Gospel we hear: "There was a man sent from God, his name was John. He came for testimony, to bear witness to the light, that all might believe through him." The Baptist powerfully announces Jesus. This is a historical fact, and it is also now a pattern at work in our lives.

John the Baptist stands for the entirety of the old covenant, everything entrusted to the Jewish people. And yet he prophetically opens the door to something entirely new in Jesus, to the revival and fulfillment of God's promises. In every generation, and in every human life, God continues to do this. He has done it through people named Augustine, Francis, Catherine, Theresa, and countless others. In my life, the Baptist's spirit has come through persons named Eric, Paul, Mary, and Ron. I challenge you to name at least three people through whom God has announced the coming of Jesus in your life. Consciously thank God for their testimony. And let's commit ourselves to listening to the spirit of John the Baptist testify again this week so that we might more strongly believe in the light.

Christmas Masses

Christmas is on a Monday this year. Please attend one Mass as usual for the 4th Sunday of Advent, and then choose one of the below Masses for Christmas:

4pm Sunday at the Newman Center

Midnight at Mary Immaculate

9am Monday at St. Rose

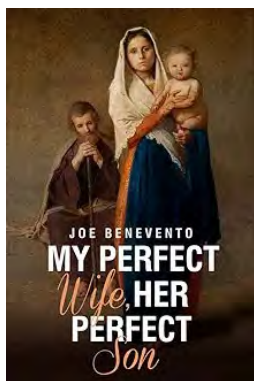

11am Monday at Mary Immaculate

Mary, Mother of God (New Year's Day) also falls on a Monday, and it is not a holy day of obligation this year. Mass will be offered at 10am.

Please continue to pray for Fr. Alex as he recovers from a serious car accident.

Parishioner Joe Benevento has had a new book come out in 2023, "My Perfect Wife, Her Perfect Son," a sometimes comic but always very Catholic and reverent account of the Holy Family through the viewpoint of St. Joseph. The book has been reviewed and endorsed by a number of Catholic writers and theologians, including Father Patrick Gilger of Loyola U, in Chicago and Dr. Hosffman Ospino of Boston College and has over 30 5 star reviews on Amazon. Recently, Joe committed to contributing 100% of all his author royalties on the novel in perpetuity to Catholic Charities of Central and Northern Missouri. They are now working with him to try to increase awareness about the novel. Joe will be doing a series of Advent Reflections, which Catholic Charities will air as a podcast. They are especially hopeful that parishioners throughout our area will purchase the novel as an Advent read and/or Christmas gift. More than a third of the novel covers the events in the traditional Biblical Christmas narrative, while the remainder is an imaginative look at what the Holy Family's life might have been like right up to just before Christ's ministry. The book is available through amazon or any number of online venues.

Bishop McKnight's Prayer Intention for December: For the family; that all fathers, mothers and children of our community may follow the example of the Holy Family in practicing the virtues of family life and be bound more strongly together in the bonds of charity.

The Holy Father's Prayer Intention for December: We pray that people living with disabilities may be at the center of attention in society, and that institutions may offer inclusive programs which value their active participation.
