Are you interested in learning more about the Catholic Church? Perhaps you're not Christian, not Catholic, or just curious. Our staff is here for you! Contact Fr. Dave Poecking or Dee Fitzsimmons to learn more. Adults interested in becoming Christian, adult Christians interested in becoming Catholic, and adult Catholics in need of First Communion or Confirmation, please call Fr. Dave or Dee for information about the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA).

The Christian faith does not change; the grace of the sacraments remains for every generation. But our emphasis can change over time – in the way we see the faith, express the faith, live out and grow in the faith. We build on the past to meet the needs of the present. Today, Pope Francis has called us to emphasize the Church of Mercy. In a hurting world, the Church provides hope and forgiveness. How can we spread the word to our neighbors that our parish is a place to receive mercy and hope?

How to Love One Another

So if there is any encouragement in Christ, any incentive of love, any participation in the Spirit, any affection and sympathy, complete my joy by being of the same mind, having the same love, being in full accord and of one mind. Do nothing from selfishness or conceit, but in humility count others better than yourselves.

—Philippians 2:1-4

Lately I've heard complaints—worshipers blocking the lanes of the parking lot, worshipers noisy or rude to each other in church, fighting over seats in the cry room. I have occasionally tried to lay down some house rules, but folks often respond badly—e.g.:

- "I'll stop coming to church! I could go to another church, you know!"
- "How come you're picking on me and you don't tell _____ to behave themselves?"
- "It's my church and I'll do as I please!"

Tertullian quoted the amazement of the pagans at the first Christians: "See how they love one another!" It's often hard to imagine an outsider saying such a thing about us. To my shame as a pastor, I've not been able to lead you beyond such small-mindedness. Nevertheless, in hope that the Spirit of God will yet soften our hearts, I'll point out a few consequences of Christian charity:

1. Charity requires mindfulness of others. Please don't park yourself in doorways, blocking the way for those coming in or going out. Please don't park yourself at the end of a pew, blocking ingress. If by reason of handicap or illness you believe you must have an easy escape route, then please alert the ushers, so we can make the necessary accommodations.

2. A similar rule applies to parking. Park first in the church parking lots, by pulling all the way forward to the end of each lane. Only when the lots are full should you then look for street parking. (Keep in mind that the Carnegie Borough lots, such as the one next to the fire hall, are available for us on weekends.) If by parking for your own convenience, you close off a space that someone else could have used, what will you say to the Lord on Judgment Day, when he asks you why you impeded others coming to him?

3. Keep your priorities in order. If you delight in talking with your neighbor, please talk in Holy Family Hall. If you delight in talking to the Lord, then please come into the church and maintain a reverent quiet—if not out of love for the Lord, then out of respect for those praying. If you must leave Mass early because of illness or some other moral urgency, then leave—but don't then stop in Holy Family Hall to chat like teenagers in a shopping mall.

4. Infants and toddlers have every right to be in church. In fact, it is necessary for them to be in church: How else will they acquire the habits appropriate to Christian worship? How will the Lord lead you to patient love, if every difficult person were kept out of church? And if the Lord kept unpleasant people out of church, would you yourself be welcome?

   As a convenience to parents of young children, however, our new church features a "cry room" as a temporary refuge. In the cry room, parents have greater liberty to deal with fussy children and teach them how to worship. It's not meant to be a permanent lounge for anyone, not even for families.

   I'm sympathetic to some of the excuses, e.g., "I can't hear in church," "The pews aren't comfortable," or "I'm allergic to incense." If you have such a personal problem, I'll try to make some accommodations for you—but please don't use your problem as a pretext for self-entitlement.

We're approaching Easter—and the Easter crowds. Let them marvel, "See how they love one another!"

—Fr. Dave

On Mission for The Church Alive! is a diocesan-wide planning initiative in which Bishop David Zubik invites all Catholics to envision how our parishes, schools, and ministries can best respond to the changing landscape of our communities so that they remain vital centers of worship and service.

Bishop Zubik is asking you to join him in:

www.onmissionchurchalive.org

PRAYER

STUDY

CONSULTATION

It's about relationship -

our relationship with Jesus and our relationship with each other in Him. Bishop has begun this process with a year of prayer to strengthen our personal relationship with the Lord and to guide our communal discernment of how God is calling us to fulfill His mission together. Over the last year, thousands of parishioners have gathered in intentional prayer at their parishes and across the diocese.

Prayer continues always!

Check out prayer resources for your parish at onmissionchurchalive.org/year-of-prayer/toolkit/

Flip over this page to learn about:

- The challenges and opportunities facing our parishes and schools
- Consultation with our priests, deacons, religious, and lay leaders to date
- Next steps in this consultative process

What is Bishop Zubik asking us to study?

How can we best proclaim the Good News in a Changing World?

What is getting in the way of people coming to know the Lord? What are parishes and schools doing to be centers of evangelization?

On Mission for The Church Alive! involves a comprehensive study of our Church in Southwestern Pennsylvania to understand the challenges and opportunities to get people excited about their faith.

Challenges

- In the last 10 years, Mass attendance, weddings, infant baptisms, and Catholic elementary school enrollment has declined more than 40%.
- 50% of our 200 parishes run annual deficits. Many parishes are rapidly depleting their savings to pay the bills.
- The number of priests in active ministry will decline from 225 to 125 in the next 10 years.

Opportunities

- What are best practices from nationwide and among our parishes and schools with respect to evangelization and outreach?
- What can we learn from the more than 40,000 Catholics who participated in one of the most successful philanthropic campaigns in the US Catholic Church?
- What are innovative models of ministry that celebrate priestly identity and responsibly call forth the gifts of the laity?

www.onmissionchurchalive.org

Key Consultation To Date:

- A survey of priests in active ministry
- Feedback forums with 700 lay ministers
- A survey of permanent deacons
- Focus groups with priests, deacons, young adults, parish leaders

Bishop Zubik wants your input.

Consultation and collaboration is essential to building and maintaining our relationships in Christ. Over the past 12 months, the On Mission for The Church Alive! initiative has consulted with the priests, deacons, religious, and lay ministers through many different methods.

Look for April's bulletin insert that will list the parishioners from your parish who are leaders in On Mission process and how you will participate in this important initiative.

SEAS EVANGELIZES

What is the appropriate time for performing works of charity?

Pope St. Leo the Great answers the question this way: "...My beloved children, any time is the right time, but these days of Lent provide a special encouragement. Those who want to be present at the Lord's Passover in holiness of mind and body should seek above all to win this grace [of charity]. Charity contains all other virtues and covers a multitude of sins.

As we prepare to celebrate that greatest of all mysteries, by which the blood of Jesus Christ destroyed our sins, let us first of all make ready the sacrificial offerings — that is, our works of mercy..."

Remember, praying for each other, praying for the living and the dead, is one of the spiritual works of mercy. (See all of the Works of Mercy listed below.) Let's keep praying for each other, friends, enemies, difficult people, those we find easy to love ... everyone needs our prayers, and we all need each others' prayers! Let's especially pray for those who belong in our pews every week, but somehow don't always, or even often make it...for those who are missing from our community...for those who have lost contact with the Church, and/or with God. Stay tuned: next week we'll share an Evangelization Prayer for Returning Catholics, just in time for Easter!

SACRAMENT OF PENANCE

FOR THE FIRST TIME ON MONDAY.

Our Gospel was the story of Jesus calming the sea. Fr. Dave compared the Sacrament to being rescued from a sinking boat and being given a new and even better boat. (You had to be there; it was great.) Many thanks to him, Fr. Robin, and the visiting priests who heard the confessions of all the children in our Parish. Check out the display that the Second Grade Class created in Holy Family Hall.

Special thanks to catechists, Betty Dlugos and Patty Reaghard who helped to prepare the little ones. Thanks, also, to the other catechists who helped prepare their classes to receive the Sacrament, and to Nick Will for providing the beautiful music.

Thanks to Steve Geitgey who showed a great (and short) video on why we need the Sacrament of Penance —please take a few minutes and look it up on YouTube: "Sophia sketchpad Confession."

And finally, a tremendous amount of thanks goes to Judy Castello and Lori Dedola who gave up their "day off" to shop, cook, and clean for the Celebration Dinner that was held prior to the Penance Service. There really are no words that can say how much it was appreciated! —Mary Kay Smith
