QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK

Page 2

First Reading:

The prophet Malachi informs the priests of Israel that God is aware that their instruction has caused many to stumble in their faith. Have you ever had to help someone who has lost their faith?

Second Reading:

Paul expresses his gratitude to the Thessalonians for their openness to hear and believe the word of God taught by them. Who in your life might be open to hearing the word of God from you?

Gospel:

Jesus challenged the crowds and his disciples to be as servants to each other, acting always in humility. How might you be a servant to someone at work or at home?

TODAY'S READINGS

Malachi 1:14b—2:2b,
8-10; Psalm 131;
1 Thessalonians 2:7b-9,
13; Matthew 23:1-12

REFLECT & RESPOND TO SCRIPTURE

Our First Reading is from the Old Testament Book of Malachi. Malachi is the last of the Twelve Minor Prophets in the Bible, and it is thus the final Book of the Old Testament, placed just prior to Matthew. Scholars debate whether the author actually is someone named Malachi, as in Hebrew “Malachi” means “God’s messenger” and it may not even be a proper name. The Book of Malachi is among the shorter books in the Bible with just over 1,300 words. To put that in perspective, the Book of Genesis contains more than 32,000 words.

In this passage God, through Malachi, addresses those who do not sincerely practice their faith. It is interesting to note that at one point in today’s readings, Malachi states, “You have turned aside from the way.” The “Way” with a capital “W” was what early Christians were called. It stems from Jesus’ statement, “I am the way, the truth, and the life.” Malachi points out to those to whom he was writing that turning aside from the way is an unacceptable and insincere act. Acting in this way is the opposite of humility.

St. Paul understood what it meant to be humble. For him the focus was always on the faith and on Christ, not on any personal glorification. In the Second Reading drawn from his First Letter to the Thessalonians Paul says, “We were determined to share with you not only the gospel of God, but our very selves as well.” This idea of serving, of giving self, is key to living a stewardship way of life. In the Gospel, as we will see, Christ really emphasizes it. Paul makes it clear he was among the Thessalonians to give something to them, not to take something from them. Paul also stresses the love aspect of giving in this way: “...so dearly beloved you had become to us.”

Paul clearly liked and respected the Thessalonians for many reasons. He points out one particular cause that also has an obvious message for us. Paul says, “And for this reason we too give thanks to God unceasingly, that, in receiving the word of God from hearing us, you received not a human word but, as it truly is, the word of God.” Paul consistently taught that the Word comes from God. For Paul this Word was beyond human opinion. Paul did not have “blind faith.” He could see how effective it is with those who hear it and believe it. Paul knew that there was power in the Word of God to change lives.

The Word of God could not be more powerful than it is the Gospel Reading from St. Matthew. As the Lord has been doing throughout our recent Gospel Readings, He takes to task the “scribes and the Pharisees.” Jesus points out that it is all right to “do and observe all things whatsoever they tell you, but do not follow their example.” It is the same message that God provides through Malachi in the First Reading.

Nevertheless, it is in Jesus’ final reminder in this reading that we find the real jewel among His Word. The Lord says, “The greatest among you must be your servant. Whoever exalts himself will be humbled; but whoever humbles himself will be exalted.” Jesus was truly the greatest among them, but He always spoke of Himself and viewed Himself as a servant. The basic issue for us as His followers is, “Are we more like the Pharisees or more like the Lord?” We are called to imitate Him and to pursue His philosophy and style. His kingdom is different. In the Lord’s kingdom we are measured by how we serve and honor others, not by how we may be served. Do we always serve and honor others?

ACT OF SPIRITUAL COMMUNION

*My Jesus, I believe you are really here in the Blessed Sacrament.
I love you more than anything
in the world, and I hunger
to receive you.
But since I cannot receive
Communion at this time,
Feed my soul spiritually.
I unite myself to you now,
as I do when I actually receive
You in Holy Communion. Amen.*

OUR CATHOLIC FAITH

SAINT OF THE WEEK: VENERABLE MOTHER HENRIETTE DELILLE

Henriette DeLille was born on March 11, 1813, in New Orleans. She was the daughter of a French father and a Creole mother who was of African descent. As a free person of color, Henriette grew up in the French Quarter, an area that was deeply divided by race and social class. In 1835, Henriette and her friends founded the Sisters of the Presentation, a community who dedicated themselves to the education of children from marginalized populations, the care of the elderly and the sick, and the spiritual needs of their community. Henriette served as the leader of the community and took on the name Sister Mary Therese, although everyone continued to call her Mother Henriette. She worked tirelessly to raise funds, recruit new members, and expand the reach of their mission. In 1842 the Congregation changed its name to the Sisters of the Holy Family.

In 1988, Henriette DeLille was declared a Servant of God by the Catholic Church, which recognized her lifelong commitment to the service of others and her exemplary life of holiness. In 2010, Pope Benedict XVI recognized her heroic virtues and declared her to be Venerable.

MEETING CHRIST: EXPLORING THE LITURGY SERIES

WHAT POPE FRANCIS SAYS ABOUT THE EUCHARIST - REFLECTIONS & PRAYERS

AN ACT OF CHRIST

The mission and the very identity of the church flow from the Eucharist.

Pope Francis reminds us that we do not make the Eucharist happen. It is not our action, but God's action, with Christ himself coming to be with us, to be part of our lives. This is very important, because it is what connects the liturgical action with our very lives. When we take up the call to act as Christ does in all that we do, we keep enacting this connection every day. As Pope Francis says, our celebrations may be technically and ritually flawless, but if they do not lead us to encounter Jesus Christ, they are "unlikely to bear any kind of nourishment to our heart and our life."

PONDER: How can I be sure to consciously connect liturgy with my life?

PRAY: God of mystery and wonder, increase my awareness of your presence everywhere!

MEDICINE, NOT REWARD

We come to Eucharist not to receive a prize for being perfect but to receive the medicine and nourishment we need.

Pope Francis stunned the world early in his papacy by identifying himself first and foremost as a sinner in constant need of God's grace. In the Eucharist, he says, we have chance after chance to meet God face to face and to be healed and fed. Eucharist is not a reward for good deeds done. It is rather the nourishment our sometimes jaded and overwhelmed spirits need to regain their strength. To be filled with God's grace is our aim everytime we gather. And God is always ready to meet us, feed us and hold us close!

PONDER: Do I come to Mass consciously in need of healing? What nourishment do I need from God today?

PRAY: God of Mystery and wonder, help me to approach your table with awe and humility.

WHAT DO WE GATHER FOR?

Why do we go to Sunday Mass? Are we seeking affirmation or something more?

Pope Francis seldom speaks of "going to" Mass, but rather of "living" it. He expects us to be active participants in the unfolding liturgical action. We all come to Mass with needs, wants and hopes - that's a given. But when we gather in community, our own personal intentions give way to something bigger than what's on our minds. We are asking for the grace to move beyond ourselves - grace to live our lives better, to love our families more, to be more honest and more faith-filled than when we entered - so that we may bring Christ to the world. We're not looking for a pat on the back, but for God's strength.

PONDER: Is there someone I can pray for at Mass that I might not have considered before?

PRAY: God of mystery and wonder, help me lay my needs aside, so that I may be open to do your will!
