Pastor's Notes:

What is a synod, and what part do we play?

The term "synodality" comes from two Greek words roughly meaning "common road." A synod is an ecclesiastical council or meeting to consult on church matters. Often the synod produces a document which becomes part of the teaching magisterium of the Church. For example, Pope Benedict XVI convened a synod on the Bible and the Church, and a document, Verbum Domini, was promulgated the next year. Pope Francis has already convened major synods on the topics of the family (2014), on youth (2018), and on the Church in the Pan-Amazon region (2019). This synod will be a little different in that it is essentially a "synod on synodality", that is, on what it means to have dialogue and consultation between all members of the Church body, both clerics and lay men and women. The process of this synod is also highly unusual. It begins not in Rome, but in the local church, the parish! Last weekend we heard the story of the rich man who asked the Lord how he was to inherit eternal life. The Gospel passage (Mark 10) showed how Jesus encountered the man, listened to him, and helped him discern the path to follow. Celebrating a Synod means doing as Jesus did - he encounters the rich man on the road; he then listens to his questions, and finally he helps him discern what he must do to inherit eternal life. Encounter, listen and discern. If we are to follow Christ, we must follow him in the world as it is, not in a fictitious world as we would like it to be. As Pope Francis said "God is not found in neat and orderly places, distant from reality, but walks ever at our side. He meets us where we are, on the often rocky roads of life .... God, as revealed in Christ, travels the paths of history and shares in the life of humanity. Are we prepared for the adventure of this journey? Or are we fearful of the unknown, preferring to take refuge in the usual excuses: 'It is useless' or 'We've always done it this way?'" (opening homily, October 10). We will choose a parish contact person (or two) to be our representative. Our parish consultations, beginning in Advent, will revolve around various questions that are relevant to our local church and the global Church. We will encounter each other and, in the process, encounter the Holy Spirit. - - - Fr. Jim

Synodality
