"One of the Pharisees , a doctor of the law, asked Him, tempting Him: Master, which is the great commandment of the law? Jesus said to him: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and with thy whole soul and with thy whole mind. This is the greatest and the first commandment. And the second is like to this: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments dependeth the whole law and the prophets."

"Do not despise any man, however poor he may be; but behave with full respect and kindness to every well-intentioned man, especially to the poor, as to our members worthy of compassion — or, rather, to members of Christ — otherwise you will cruelly wound your soul. O, how easy it would appear to be to live in simplicity and love, and yet how difficult it is for our corrupt hearts to live in love! At every step there is a pretext for enmity against our brother."+ St. John of Kronstadt

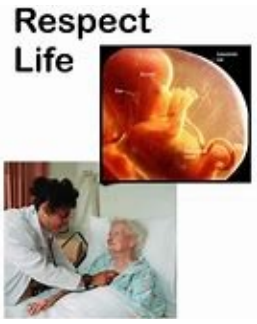
Christ Our Hope: In Every Season Of Life
Respect Life Month Statement, October 2019

Most Reverend Joseph F. Naumann
USCCB Committee on Pro-Life Activities

Although we must cherish, protect, and defend human life year-round, the Catholic Church in the United States sets aside each October as Respect Life Month.

This year's theme, Christ Our Hope: In Every Season of Life, is particularly suited for our times. While attacks against human life seem to grow ever more numerous and callous, we know that Christ has conquered sin and death. Through our Christian hope in the Resurrection, we are given the grace to persevere in faith.

Jesus asks us to be as leaven in the world, to bring His light to the darkness. Our daily activities take each of us to places only we can go, to people only we will meet. May we allow Christ to renew and strengthen us, that He may work through us in each moment of every day.



Be assured of my prayers for you and for our common efforts to bring about a world in which every life is cherished. And so, together, may we hold fast to Christ, our hope.

"You must love every man with your whole soul, but put your hope in the one God, and serve Him alone. For as long as He is protecting us and our friends (the angels) are helping us, our enemies (the demons) cannot inflict evil upon us. But when He forsakes us, the also our friends turn away from us, and our enemies receive power over us."

Saint Matthew, Apostle and Evangelist

St. Matthew the Apostle, also known as Levi, was one of the twelve apostles of Jesus. He was also one of the four Evangelists as author of the Gospel of Matthew, and is also known as Matthew the Evangelist.

Saint Matthew's story is an unlikely vocation story with an unlikely candidate called by Jesus to be a disciple. The story simply tells us that Jesus is walking by, sees Matthew at his tax collector's table and says: "Follow me." Matthew stops business at once, closes his books and goes off behind Jesus. Matthew follows the call from Jesus immediately, in the same manner as the fishermen Andrew, Simon, James and John followed Jesus' call immediately.

After calling four fishermen to follow him, Jesus now calls a cheat, an extortionist of his own people to also follow him. None of these first five disciples come with high-class resumes that would qualify them in the eyes of the world to be apostles and to proclaim the Kingdom of God. Later at Matthew's house, during a meal with sinners and other tax collectors, Jesus strikes out at the criticism the Pharisees directed towards his dining companions.

Jesus tells them that he came to call, not the self-righteous, but sinners. No one can approach or follow Jesus unless he or she confesses that sinfulness and repents. Matthew was called; he was responsive to the call and was a repentant sinner. If Jesus could do amazing deeds in, with, and through Matthew, he can do the same in, with and through each one of us.

This is a story about Gospel reversals, about the ways of God being different from the ways of the world, about God turning sinners into saints. It is the story of every single vocation, the story of every single saint. Each and every one of us is basically unqualified. Each one of us is a sinner. Yet, the call of Jesus, the grace of God and the love of the Holy Spirit can do marvelous things.

Holiness is never about our talents, our heroic deeds, or our amazing accomplishments in life. We are called by Jesus to walk with him, to be formed by him, to allow him to perform wonders in and through us. That is why we need to listen each day so that, we, too, will hear the words: "Follow me."
