Pastors Note ~ First Communion

Eucharist – First Communion Sunday at St Henry Parish 2019

Eucharist comes from the Greek eucharistia, meaning thanksgiving. Ever since Pentecost, when the Church, the People of God, began building a church, they were sustained with the spiritual food in times of trials and in time of celebration. Eucharist is that food, the real presence of the risen Lord. The Second Vatican Council, in its Constitution on the Church, rightly proclaimed that the Eucharistic sacrifice is “the source and summit of the Christian life.” The Eucharist is, for Catholics, both a meal and a sacrifice. The Lord gave us the Eucharist at the Last Supper because he wanted us to share in the life of the Trinity, the loving communion of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. We become united to God at our baptism, and receive a further outpouring of the Holy Spirit at our confirmation. In the Eucharist we are nourished spiritually, brought closer to God, again and again: “By eating the Body and drinking the Blood of Christ in the Eucharist we become united to the person of Christ through his humanity,” write the bishops. They remind us of the words of Jesus in John’s Gospel: “Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood remains in me and I in him” (Jn 6:56).

The First Eucharist for our children also has meaning for the whole parish community. We smile at the children, not just because they look cute, but because they are joining us at our family table: the table of God’s family.

First Eucharist

A toddler’s move from high chair to the family table is a momentous event. A seat at the table acclaims a new status: big boy or big girl. The move to the table brings new privileges. There, a child can share fully in the family meal and in the table conversation. The move also brings new responsibilities. The little one must have table manners, get involved in the meal prayer, and perhaps help set or clear the table.

First Communion is just such a momentous experience. A child, baptized as an infant into the family of God we call Church, at last takes a place at the Lord’s table with the grownups. Grandparents, aunts and friends join the youngster’s immediate family in celebrating the event.

First Eucharist at St Henry Parish

Children prepare for first Eucharist weekly through the faith formation program.

Celebrations at Sunday Eucharist

To celebrate their new place at the Table, the children attend Mass. The Sunday following their first Eucharist, they come dressed in their first Eucharist dresses and suits. They bring all of their First Communion gifts received the week before. These are blessed and will be a reminder of their special place at table from this day forward, Sunday after Sunday for the rest of their lives. There is always a place for you at table!

SPAMMING

There continues to be a large amount of SPAMMING going on which appears on the face of it to come from local parish priests. These have gone from coming strictly via email, to now coming through text messages.

The message usually asks for gift cards or a wire transfer of funds. A number of unsuspecting parishioners through out the Archdiocese have fallen for this scam.

We are asking you to ignore all electronic requests such as the ones stated above. The only way we can stop people from being taken advantage of is to spread the word that this is going on.

Stewardship ~ 3rd Sunday of Easter

"Peter was distressed that Jesus had said to him a third time, 'Do you love me?' and he said to him, 'Lord, you know everything; you know that I love you.' Jesus said to him, 'Feed my sheep.'" (John 21:17) All of us are challenged to show our love for Jesus and others. Discern how God is calling you to use your time in prayer, your talent in charitable works and your treasure to assist those who in need. Remember that giving is an act of worship and helps advance the mission of our parish and greater Church.

A member of the St. Henry Respect Life Committee will be leading the rosary. Rosaries will be available for those who do not have one. Please come and pray for all the children who died from abortion and for the mothers who, for whatever reason, made the terrible mistake of ending the lives of the children they were entrusted with. This is truly a spiritual work of mercy.

Fire of Love: Scott Hahn Reflects on the Third Sunday of Easter

Christ Appears at Lake Tiberias,
William de Brailes, c. 1250

Acts 5:27–32, 40–41    Psalms 30:2, 4–6, 11–13
Revelation 5:11–14    John 21:1–19

There are two places in Scripture where the curious detail of a “charcoal fire” is mentioned. One is in today’s Gospel, where the Apostles return from fishing to find bread and fish warming on the fire.

The other is in the scene in the High Priest’s courtyard on Holy Thursday, where Peter and some guards and slaves warm themselves while Jesus is being interrogated inside (see John 18:18).

At the first fire, Peter denied knowing Jesus three times, as Jesus had predicted (see John 13:38; 18:15–18, 25–27).

Today’s charcoal fire becomes the scene of Peter’s repentance, as three times Jesus asks him to make a profession of love. Jesus’ thrice repeated command, “feed My sheep,” shows that Peter is being appointed as the shepherd of the Lord’s entire flock, the head of His Church (see also Luke 22:32).

Jesus’ question, “Do you love me more than these?” is a pointed reminder of Peter’s pledge to lay down his life for Jesus, even if the other Apostles might weaken (see John 13:37; Matthew 26:33; Luke 22:33).

Jesus then explains just what Peter’s love and leadership will require, foretelling Peter’s death by crucifixion (“you will stretch out your hands”).

Before His own death, Jesus had warned the Apostles that they would be hated as He was hated, that they would suffer as He suffered (see Matthew 10:16–19, 22; John 15:18–20; 16:2).

We see the beginnings of that persecution in today’s First Reading. Flogged as Jesus was, the Apostles nonetheless leave “rejoicing that they have been found worthy to suffer.”

Their joy is based on their faith that God will change their “mourning into dancing,” as we sing in today’s Psalm. By their sufferings, they know, they will be counted worthy to stand in heaven before “the Lamb that was slain,” a scene glimpsed in today’s Second Reading

(see also Revelation 6:9–11).

5 de mayo de 2019 - 3er Domingo de Pascua

"Pedro estaba angustiado porque Jesús le había dicho por tercera vez "¿Me amas?" y él le dijo: "Señor, tú lo sabes todo; sabes que te amo". Jesús le dijo: "Apacienta a mis ovejas". (JUAN 21:17) Todos nosotros tenemos el desafío de mostrar nuestro amor por Jesús y por los demás. Percibe cómo Dios te está llamando a usar tu tiempo en la oración, tu talento en obras caritativas y tu tesoro para ayudar a los necesitados. Recuerda que dar es un acto de adoración y ayuda a avanzar en la misión de nuestra parroquia y de la Iglesia en general.

Misiones Católicas

Muchas gracias por su generoso apoyo la semana pasada al Llamado para las Misiones Católicas. Nuestra parroquia recaudó $1,859.66 para fortalecer la Iglesia en casa y asegurar que el Evangelio se difunda en todo Estados Unidos.

Scott Hahn Reflexiona Sobre el 3 Domingo de Pascua

Cristo en el lago Tiberíades,
William de Brailes, c. 1250

Hechos 5,27–32.40–41 Salmo 30,2.4–6.11–13

Apocalipsis 5,11–14 Juan 21,1–19

Hay dos sitios en la Escritura donde se menciona el curioso detalle de unas “brasas”.

Uno es en el Evangelio de hoy, cuando los apóstoles regresan de la pesca y encuentran pan y pescado calentándose junto al fuego. El otro, la escena que sucede en el patio del Sumo Sacerdote la noche del Jueves Santo, donde Pedro, junto con algunos guardias y esclavos, se calienta mientras Jesús es interrogado adentro (cfr. Jn 18,18).

Ante el primer fuego, como Jesús había predicho, Pedro lo niega tres veces (cfr. Jn 13,38; 18,15-18.25-27).

Pero hoy, las brasas son parte de la escena del arrepentimiento de Pedro, en la que Jesús le pide tres veces una profesión de amor. Él mandamiento repetido tres veces: “apacienta mis ovejas”, muestra que Pedro ha sido designado como pastor de todo el rebaño del Señor y cabeza de su Iglesia (cfr. Lc 22,32).

La pregunta de Jesús: “¿Me amas más que estos?”, es un fuerte recordatorio de la afirmación que Pedro había hecho, de que daría su vida por Jesús incluso si los otros apóstoles fallaban (cfr. Jn 13,37; Mt 26,33; Lc 22,33).

Jesús explica después a Pedro lo que su amor y su liderazgo requerirá, prediciéndole que morirá crucificado (“...extenderás tus manos”).

Antes de su propia muerte, Cristo había advertido a los Apóstoles que serían odiados como Él era odiado; que sufrirían como Él habría de sufrir (cfr. Mt 10,16-19.22; Jn 15,18-20; 16,2).

El comienzo de esa persecución se deja ver en la primera lectura de hoy. Los Apóstoles, después de ser azotados como lo fue Jesús, se alegran “por haber sido considerados dignos de sufrir”.

El fundamento de su alegría es la fe en que Dios cambiará “en danza su lamento”, como cantamos en el salmo de este día. Sabemos que, por sus sufrimientos, serán dignos de situarse en el cielo, de pie, ante “el Cordero degollado”; una escena que se vislumbra en la segunda lectura (ver también Ap 6,9-11).
