BLESSED ARE THE MOM'S

How can it be a large career to tell other people's children about the rule of three, and a small career to tell one's own children about the universe? How can it be broad to be the same thing to everyone, and narrow to be everything to someone? No. A woman's function is laborious, but because it is gigantic, not because it is minute. I will pity Mrs. Jones for the hugeness of her task; I will never pity her for its smallness. – G. K. Chesterton

I have such a great mom. She taught me a lot. But the greatest gift was her love and her faith. I feel blessed to have never doubted that my mom (and dad) loved me deeply and truly believed in God and in the Church. Of all the things I have benefited from my parents, these are the greatest.

Actually, I have a second great mom (not to be confused with a "second grade" mom). This month of May we can't help but think of the Mother of God, whose name almost matches the month itself. As we recall Our Lady of the Rosary's apparition to the three children of Fatima on May 13th, we get a chance to encounter again the loving care of Blessed Mary. At the Cross, Jesus told her to take us as her own, and as in all things she humbly embraced God's will for her life. And that maternal care didn't stop with her earthly life, but continues in heaven, as seen by her care for Lucia, Francisco, and Jacinta. What a gift is this mother who remains with us throughout our earthly life.

One of my favorite saints, Pope St. John Paul II, lost his mother at age nine. His last sibling died a few years later, and he was left with only his dad. The two men remained strong in their Catholic faith, including the rosary. The saint recalls how the Mother of God became a mother to him and remained with him throughout his life. He felt so close to her that he chose a huge 'M' as the main decoration of his coat of arms, with the phrase "completely yours" (Totus Tuus), referring to giving everything to Our Lady because she gives all of herself to Jesus.

What a great second mom we all have. Let us not be far from her or hold back our hearts. May our words be free like a young child's. This past week at Family Adoration a child sat next to me and talked for five or so minutes about everything on their mind – family, friends, Jesus. There was no fear of acceptance, no filter, no worries. It was a great reminder of how we are supposed to be with the Lord in our prayer.

We should cherish our moms – physical and spiritual, earthly and heavenly. Talk to them often and tell them you love them. (Pray the Rosary.)
