Sunday December 17 2023 ~ The Third Sunday of Advent

From the Bishop's Pen...

"There is one among you whom you do not recognize."

Who is God? How do we recognize God among us? John the Evangelist tells us "God is love, and whoever remains in love remains in God and God in him." How can we know God if we don't believe in Him and His love for us? How can we believe in God and His love for us, if we do not know who we are? How can we know who we are if we don't know our relationship with God? If we do not know who we are, then we end up "Looking for love in all the wrong places."

That aptly describes the priests and Levites and other Jews who questioned John the Baptist as to who he was. Was he the Messiah? John told them, "I am not the Messiah." So, they asked him, "What are you then?" He said: "I am the voice of one crying out in the desert, 'Make straight the way of the Lord' as Isaiah the prophet said."

When the Pharisees continued to question John about who he was, he answered them, "I baptize with water; but there is one among you whom you do not recognize, the one who is coming after me, whose sandal strap I am not worthy to untie." John the Baptist knew who he was. He believed in God's love for him. He knew God and knew his relationship with God. John's love for God allowed God's love to be the guiding light in his life.

Because John clearly knew who he was; he humbled himself before God. He saw where his salvation lay. He understood that he was a lamp, and his fear was that it might be blown out by the wind of pride. This allowed him to grow in God's love for him and his love for God.

That is the preparation we should be making this Advent, as we rejoice on this "Gaudete Sunday." "Gaudete" is Latin for "let us rejoice." So, let us rejoice that we are halfway to celebrating the birth of our Lord, who loves us so much, that He came among us as a man, as one of us, for our salvation. We must never forget who He is and how much He loves us. Jesus loves so much that we should always rejoice, knowing that He will come to us again.

SHARING THE GOSPEL

People noticed John the Baptist. He loved God, and he used words honestly. He really wanted to help people change and grow closer to God. He stood out as someone really different and special. People came from all around to hear him and learn about him. When people asked him questions, he pointed them to Jesus.

PRAYER

Jesus, help me to be different because I love you.

SOMETHING TO DRAW

Draw a picture of yourself being honest and kind with your family.

WHY DO WE DO THAT?

CATHOLIC LIFE EXPLAINED

THE SIGN OF PEACE

Question:

Why do Catholics give the sign of peace to one another at Mass?

Answer:

The sign of peace is a part of the Mass that takes place immediately after we offer the Lord's Prayer. Inspired by Jesus' words to his first followers, we stand together in a spirit of communion to pray as Jesus taught us: "Our Father who art in heaven..." In this prayer, we call for the coming of God's kingdom in all its fullness and ask that God provides for our needs — "Give us, this day, our daily bread" — to forgive our sins and to bring us to the joy of heaven.

It is almost natural, then, that the rite of peace would follow. As the celebrant prays that Christ's peace will fill our hearts, our communities, the Church, and the whole world, we extend to those around us a sign of peace (usually a hug or a handshake) as a symbol of the communion that we experience now and will experience forever in the fullness of the reign of God.

We are also reminded of Jesus' teachings that if we are at prayer and remember that a brother or sister is holding something against us, then we are to go and seek reconciliation with them before we continue our prayer (see Matthew 5:23). And so, the sign of peace also reminds us of the need to truly be in communion — united in love and peace — with God and one another before we approach the altar to receive the Eucharist.

Answer: (a) Hemp or Flax (b) Cotton (c) Silk
(d) Rayon

ANSWER ON PAGE 5

WHAT DO THE LITURGICAL COLORS OF ADVENT SIGNIFY?

Once Thanksgiving has come and gone, our culture moves on quickly to the celebration of the Christmas season. All around us, there will be an explosion of Christmas reds and greens, holly and evergreen, ornaments and wreaths. However, you might notice that your parish is colored a different way. Rather than reds and greens, the altar is draped in a deep violet, the priests wear violet vestments, and our wreaths have candles of that same violet and a lovely rose.

Why does the Church abstain from the colors of Christmas until the 24th? And why do these seemingly random shades of violet and rose take their place? It is because violet and rose are the liturgical colors of Advent. As a preparatory season, Advent does not yet share in the joy of Christmas. Rather, it anticipates it through penance and the practice of patient waiting.

Violet is the liturgical color that symbolizes penance, sacrifice, and prayer, and as such, it characterizes both Advent and Lent. Moreover, during Advent, we meditate particularly on the coming of our King at Christmas. In this way, the color violet—traditionally associated with royalty—takes on a dual meaning, representing both the penitential nature of the season and the kingship of the coming Christ.

The Third Sunday of Advent is called Gaudete (“Rejoice”) Sunday. On this day, we celebrate that our wait is almost over and we witness the sudden introduction of a lovely shade of rose in our churches and our Advent wreath. As the liturgical color used to signify joy, rose is used in the third week of Advent in anticipation of the coming of the Messiah.

These colors of the Advent season are not arbitrary—rather, they are intentional reminders of how we should orient our hearts as we prepare for the coming Christ. While it is fine to join in the festivity around us, we must keep our hearts aligned with the Church during this season, joining in the hopeful and penitential anticipation of our coming Savior.

WHY DO WE DO THAT? CATHOLIC LIFE EXPLAINED

So, the next time you’re at Mass and the time comes for the sign of peace, remember that this is a moment to celebrate the gift of Christ’s peace that each of us has received from God and to pass that peace along to those around us. We need this moment to practice, because this is also the same peace of Christ that we are instructed to carry out into the world at the end of Mass when the priest or deacon says to us, “Go, in peace, glorifying the Lord by your life.”
