Sunday March 3, 2024~ The Third Sunday of Lent

From the Bishop's Pen...

"The water that I shall give you will become a spring of eternal life."

We have a group of elect entering the Church and a group of candidates receiving full communion in the Church at the Easter Vigil, so my reflections are from the Third Sunday in Lent, Cycle A.

In the first reading from Exodus, the Israelites thirsted for water to drink. However, their thirst showed their lack of trust in God. He had led them out of the captivity of slavery in Egypt and parted the Red Sea for them. Yet, their thirst led them to "put God to the test", that is what the word Massah means in Hebrew. Meribah is Hebrew for "quarreling", which is what the Israelites did with God, because they constantly wanted assurance that He was with them and would take care of them. Why did they always need reassurance?

They needed reassurance, because the Israelites were always wallowing in self-pity. They were hurting and angry with God. The Israelites did not have true "faith and trust" in God. The Israelites had "faith and trust" in God only when He worked a wonder for them. However, when that wonder faded from memory, so did their "faith and trust" in God. The Israelites' "insatiable thirst" for another sign from God, was the result of feeling sorry for themselves, living in their own self-pity.

In the Gospel, the Samaritan woman came alone at midday to Jacob's well to draw water, because she was rejected by the other women, probably because of her lifestyle. She too was living in self-pity. Jesus saw in her, a woman who had an "insatiable thirst." He saw a woman who thirsted for love, who had five husbands and currently had another lover. Jesus offered this woman "living water," and the Samaritan woman went from self-pity and rejection and thirst to "faith and trust" and fulfillment in Jesus, in His grace, and in His gift of the Holy Spirit.

The Samaritan woman's thirst for "living water" led her to the source of "living water," Jesus Christ. It is the same "insatiable thirst" that has led our Catechumen, Candidates, and children to seek full reception, full initiation into the Church, the Body of Christ. These Catechumen and Candidates are seeking the waters of eternal life through Baptism, Confirmation, and the Eucharist.

So, how does our "insatiable thirst" lead the rest of us to trust and believe in Jesus' gift of "living water" and eternal life through the Holy Spirit during this Lenten Season? It leads us to make our "daily trip to the well." We need to come to the same well from which the Samaritan woman left as a disciple of Jesus. We need to come to the well of prayer. When we pray, we draw from the well of Jesus' grace, wisdom, and love, refreshing and nourishing our souls, strengthening us for the discipleship He calls us to.

– Bishop Roy Campbell

INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

Jesus was not afraid to confront iniquity wherever he encountered it, and his zeal for righteousness was so strong it looked like anger as he drove the moneychangers from the temple. Pray that, with that same devotion and care, he will cleanse our hearts from sin.

WHY DO WE DO THAT?

CATHOLIC LIFE EXPLAINED

End of Mass

Question:

Is it ever Ok to leave Mass before it ends?

Answer:

This is an interesting question because beneath the surface there seems to be an assumption that if it's okay, then why do we have to stay after we receive communion? The short answer is "no," but we definitely want to go a bit deeper as we consider why.

First, when we think about questions like this, we must consider this in adult terms. If there is something gravely important that we need to do, then we must attend to that. However, if it is a matter of convenience or preference, then we really have to stop and think again. First, while we always want to recognize the importance of sacramental communion in the Mass, we also need to understand how important the time of thanksgiving and prayer after communion is. This is summarized in the Prayer After Communion offered by the celebrant and then we are also commissioned to "Go forth" during the Dismissal of the Mass, reminding us that we have been entrusted with a gift — the Word of God and the Presence of Christ in the sacrament — and that we are to share that gift with others.

QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK - FOR YOUR REFLECTION

FIRST READING

The "10 Commandments" given to Moses at Mount Sinai reveal God's moral and ethical expectations for Israel. Which of these Commandments do you personally find most challenging to follow?

SECOND READING

Early in his letter to the Corinthians, Paul speaks of his firm conviction in the power and wisdom of his proclamation, "Christ crucified." What are you confident about in your faith life?

GOSPEL READING

Jesus' deep passion ("zeal") for the Jerusalem Temple led to his strong (and violent) reaction to what he witnessed in the Temple. What is something you feel passionate about as it relates to your faith?

CATHOLIC TRIVIA – DID YOU KNOW?

Question: What is unique about the dimensions of the papal flag?

Answer: (a) It is one of only two square country flags in the entire world. (b) It is one of only two triangle country flags in the entire world (c) It is one of only three octagon country flags in the entire world

SHARING THE GOSPEL

Imagine coming to your church to pray. All around your church, you see people selling animals. It smells like a barn. The animals are loud. The people are shouting. You cannot even pray with all the noise and activity going on around you. That is what Jesus found in today's Gospel. It broke his heart and made Jesus angry. God's house is not supposed to be turned into a barn or a store. It should be a special place where people can meet with God and talk to him. Jesus cleaned out his Father's house. He turned it back into a place of prayer.

PRAYER

God, my church is a place for prayer. Help me to remember that always.

MISSION FOR THE WEEK

Read John 2:13-25 with your family. Ask God to help you keep your church clean. Church should never be a store or a barn. It should be a special place to pray.

SOMETHING TO DRAW

Draw a picture of people singing and praying in your church.

WHY DO WE DO THAT?

CATHOLIC LIFE EXPLAINED

If we simply leave after we receive communion, we risk two things. First, there is the possibility that we will turn our reception of communion into a purely personal, individual experience that is separated from our common experience of worship — and communion in the fullest sense — and, second, we lose an opportunity for gratitude and serious reflection if we simply leave after communion. This time of thanksgiving, reflection, and, ultimately, missioning, are important and, in the end, an essential part of the celebration of the Mass.

CATHOLIC TRIVIA – DID YOU KNOW?

You are correct if you answered (a) It is one of only two square country flags in the entire world.

Note: The other square flag is the flag of Switzerland.

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP

Can you recite the Ten Commandments by heart? Several years ago a national US survey found more people could identify the ingredients in a Big Mac and name the children in the Brady Bunch television show than recite the Ten Commandments. Of course, being able to recite them is not nearly as important as living a life in harmony with them. However, if we simply live to not break them then we are only living out half of our discipleship.

Every commandment calls us to action beyond the simplicity of its words. We are not to kill, but we are also called to support life. We are not to steal, but we are also to share what we have freely. We are to have no other Gods before our God, but we also need to actively praise and glorify Him.

To live a moral life is to do more than follow rules and laws. It is to actively live in a way that gives witness to the Good News of Jesus Christ. This way of living is stewardship. As we focus more on the penitential message of Lent, we need to not just reflect on what we have done wrong, but equally what we have failed to do. To be given so much by a loving God and not share those things with God and His people is wrong as well. Perhaps as we reflect on these things we might find ourselves adding something to our lives that will last for many Lenten seasons to come.
