SUNDAY OCTOBER 26, 2025 ~ THE THIRTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

From the Bishop's Pen...

"He who humbles himself will be exalted."

How many of us, as parents, would single out our love for one child over another? I don't think any of us would do that. We love all our children the same. Each child receives all the love we have to give to that child, and the number of children we have does not limit the amount of love that we have to give to each of them. This is just how God loves us. He gives each of us all the love He has, because He gives each of us all of Himself.

Yet, each of us has a different capacity to receive God's love, so God gives each of us different temperaments, different gifts, and talents, and it is up to us to develop and use them to do God's will and to help each other. We should thank God and humbly accept and use these gifts to do His will.

Yet do we sometimes rationalize that our gifts and talents are of our own making, and focus only on how they enhance our own perception of ourselves? When this happens, we exalt pride in ourselves and forget who the source of our gifts and talents is. This is how the Pharisee in today's Gospel saw himself. When we misuse our God-given gifts, we commit sin. The tax collector knew he sinned by using his gifts to cheat his fellow man.

The Pharisee may have followed the letter of the Jewish laws, but certainly not the spirit of those laws. He wanted to "show off" before God and others. His prayer was to tell God how "good" he was. His pride would not let him admit that he too was a sinner. The Pharisee tried to justify himself before God, but only God can justify someone.

The tax collector, on the other hand, prayed humbly and with a contrite heart. He knew that he truly needed God's help. Because he humbled himself before God, begging forgiveness, he opened himself to God's grace; and God justified him.

We can see the same attitudes in ourselves today, as we see the attitudes between the Pharisee and the tax collector. Going to confession and confessing our sins to a priest bothers a whole lot of people in the world today. How many times have we tried to convince ourselves that, "I don't need to go to confession, because I really haven't sinned."? How many times do we think that our sins are so bad that God will not forgive us? We should never feel that our sins are so bad, that God will not forgive us. Jesus has already paid the price for God's forgiveness for all our sins. All we need do is to humbly ask God for His forgiveness.

– Bishop Roy Campbell

INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

The Pharisee took such pride in his good deeds that he forgot to ask God for forgiveness; the tax collector acknowledged his many sins, and went home justified. Remember that we are saved not by our own merit, but by the mercy of God.

WHY DO WE DO THAT?

CATHOLIC LIFE EXPLAINED

Why Kneel?

Question:

Why do we kneel at Mass?

Answer:

Since the beginnings of the Church, kneeling has been a key posture of prayer. We see Sts. Peter and Paul in the Acts of the Apostles kneeling in prayer. Early in the 4th century, the Council of Nicea prohibited kneeling on Sundays and special feasts. Kneeling began more as a posture of penance for our sins, but in the history of the Church, it has become more a posture of reverence and solemn prayer.

You will notice that the times we kneel at Mass are tied to the consecration of the holy Eucharist. We kneel in both anticipation of what will occur and then in awe of what has taken place: Jesus Christ becomes truly present to us under the guise of bread and wine. The profoundness of this event has over time led the Church to mandate in the current General Instruction of the Roman Missal that kneeling is the only posture allowed during this time. The sheer awesomeness of the holy Eucharist leads us to fall to our knees in wonder and thanksgiving.

Questions of the Week - for Your Reflection

1st Reading Question:

Sirach teaches us that God cares deeply about our desire for justice. Can you think of a time when you fought against an unjust situation?

2nd Reading Question:

As Paul nears the end of his life, he shares with Timothy how he fought hard for the faith, ever grateful for the Lord's support. As you look back on your life, can you see where God has been present?

Gospel Question:

Jesus teaches the crowds about the importance of humility. Does humility come to you naturally or do you have to work at it?

CATHOLIC TRIVIA...

Question:

In Matthew's Gospel, the Beatitudes are the beginning of which sermon by Jesus?

Answer:

- (a) The Sermon on the Mount (b) Olivet Discourse
(c) Upper Room Discourse

DEVOTIONS, EXPLAINED! CONNECT WITH TRADITION AND GROW YOUR FAITH

Prayer for the Dead

It may seem strange to pray for someone who is already dead and who, according to our earthly reckoning of time, has already undergone judgment. But God is not subject to the constrictions of time as we understand them. Our prayers for the dead are, like our prayers for the living, an expression of charity and the unity that exists between all members of the Body of Christ.

Prayer for the dead is a practice which not only predates Catholicism but predates Jesus Christ, as we see in the Second Book of Maccabees (2 Maccabees 12:42-45).

"By virtue of the 'communion of saints,' the Church commends the dead to God's mercy and offers her prayers, especially the holy sacrifice of the Eucharist, on their behalf," says the Catechism of the Catholic Church (CCC 1055). The most common Catholic prayer for the dead is as follows: "Eternal rest grant unto them, o Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon them. May the souls of the faithful departed rest in peace."

For Our Young Parishioners

SHARING THE GOSPEL

If you have ever thought that you were better than somebody else, you are not alone. Even grown-ups think that way sometimes. The truth is, you really are not better than anyone else. You sin. You make mistakes, just like other people do. No matter how big or how small you think your mistakes are, they still make God angry. Instead of looking down on other people, remember your own mistakes. Ask God to forgive you.

PRAYER

Dear God, I am so sorry I ever thought I was better than anybody else. Please forgive me.

SOMETHING TO DRAW

Draw a picture of something you did wrong. Then draw a picture of yourself asking God to forgive you.

MISSION FOR THE WEEK

Ask everyone in your class to make cards for people in prison. Jesus knows when people are truly sorry for what they have done wrong. Jesus wants to forgive prisoners, just like he wants to forgive you.
