OUR ARCHDIOCESAN FAMILY PRAYER

Loving and Faithful God, through the years the people of our archdiocese have appreciated the prayers and love of Our Lady of Prompt Succor in times of war, disaster, epidemic and illness. We come to you, Father, with Mary our Mother, and ask you to help us in the battle of today against violence, murder and racism.

We implore you to give us your wisdom that we may build a community founded on the values of Jesus, which gives respect to the life and dignity of all people.

Bless parents
that they may form their children in faith.
Bless and protect our youth
that they may be peacemakers of our time.
Give consolation to those who have lost loved ones through violence.
Hear our prayer and give us the perseverance
to be a voice for life and human dignity
in our community.

We ask this through Christ our Lord.
Our Lady of Prompt Succor, hasten to help us.
Mother Henriette Delille, pray for us
that we may be a holy family.

WEEKLY REFLECTION
Luke 10:25-37

There are some things in this world that seem so simple but are in fact quite complicated. Music, for example, is easy to recognize and even a child can tell you when a note is played wrong. However, music is also complex. There are academics who make their careers solely on the mathematics of music.

Similarly, a child's toy, the spinning top, is so simple it can be grasped by a child in a matter of minutes. However, physicists spent centuries failing to grasp how it worked before an answer came. It is still considered one of the most complicated problems of mechanical physics. Our faith is not much different. It is so simple that a child can understand it, but it is also endlessly and beautifully complex. Just look to the work of theologians such as Aquinas or Karl Rahner, SJ if you need some intellectual weightlifting.

Aquinas and Rahner are great, but we do not need to be genius-level theologians to live our faith. Musicians do not need to know the math behind the music to play it well. Nor do children need to understand the top to enjoy it.

In this Sunday's Gospel, the scribe and Jesus have a conversation about exactly this issue. The scribe wisely boils down the entirety of the Scriptures into the simplicity of a few lines. The whole of the Torah and God's Word means that "You shall love the Lord, your God, with all your heart, with all your being, with all your strength, and with all your mind, and your neighbor as yourself." (Luke 10:27).

However, the scribe is not satisfied with that. His immediate instinct is to complicate the message. Looking for a way to "justify himself," he tries to figure out who his "neighbor" is (10:29). Should it just be our family or just those in our neighborhood? Or, perhaps, just our brothers and sisters of faith? Clearly, he wants to figure out who he does not have to love.

Jesus does not respond to him with a deep, theological answer but tells a simple story: the Good Samaritan. The answer could not be clearer. Your neighbor is everyone.

As we begin this week, let us make a simple prayer for the simpler side of our faith:

God, let me never ask, "who is my neighbor."

Stephen Kramer, S.J.
