ST. CAMILLUS AND ST. AGNES

FEAST OF THE EXALTATION OF THE HOLY CROSS

Christ Jesus, though he was in the form of God, did not regard equality with God something to be grasped. Rather, he emptied himself, taking the form of a slave, coming in human likeness; and found human in appearance, he humbled himself, becoming obedient to death, even death on a cross.

WELCOME

Very Rev. Marc J. Bishop, VF
Pastor St. Camillus and St. Agnes

Dear Faith Family,

I am always proud to be the pastor of our community and never prouder than when our community fully expresses itself, as it did this past Sunday. The 75th Anniversary Festival was not dampened by the powerful rains. The hard work of the committee and volunteers made for a celebration that welcomed at least 300 people to Fr. O'Leary Hall in St. Camillus Lower Church. It was a true expression of the spirit that is St. Camillus and CPARL. Please, join me in gratitude for the excellent team that put on the event.

At the 10:00 AM Mass last weekend, we blessed a new Gospel Stand that was generously donated by Elizabeth Turgeon in loving memory of William, John & Gloria McCarthy.

We are grateful to the Knights of Columbus members who supported the 75th Anniversary Festival. The Knights have also donated new American and Holy See Flags for our Churches. They were placed in the Churches last weekend.

This weekend, our Collaborative Pastoral Council will receive a blessing of commission at the 10:00 AM Mass and will begin the new CPC term with a meeting after the Mass. The CPC is a group of parishioners from our faith family that are charged with advising the Pastor of ways in which the Collaborative needs to be served. They are also commissioned to further our mission by participating in events and clearly communicating the vision of the Collaborative. I am grateful for their willingness to serve our Faith Family.

This weekend we celebrate the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross. We will display a relic of the Holy Cross prominently at St. Agnes Church for your veneration before and after Mass. The relic is normally situated on the Mary Altar at St. Agnes Church.

God Bless,
Fr. Marc

PLEASE PRAY

Please pray for June Gold and Ann M. Longleway who died recently. We also pray for the sick of our Collaborative and for those that care for them.

This Sunday, the Church celebrates the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross. In Boston, it is also the titular feast of our Cathedral – unique in not being dedicated to a saint or the Holy Trinity, but to the Holy Cross itself, the central symbol of our faith. In the Old Testament, Moses lifted a bronze serpent on a pole to bring healing. In the New Testament, Christ was lifted on the Cross, showing perfect obedience to God and bringing salvation to all. As Christians, we are each called to carry our own cross daily – through illness, hardship, or personal struggles – as a way of living out our faith. Today, we give special witness to our mission as members of the Church in Boston, united under the sign of the Cross.

St. Agnes and St. Camillus Churches are open daily for personal prayer.

WALKING WITH FAMILIES IN FAITH

SCOTT MORIN
DIRECTOR OF EVANGELIZATION

This summer, Meredith and I both participated as leaders in the Faith and Family Life Catholic Ministry Workshops in Chicago. Here are some take-aways.

One of the great joys of my ministry as Director of Evangelization is walking with families on their journey of faith, especially parents who are trying to pass that faith on to their children. The desire is there, but many parents feel uncertain about how to start. Maybe they didn't grow up with faith being lived out at home. Perhaps they feel unqualified, as if they need a theology degree to raise children in the Church. Maybe they feel disconnected or even unworthy because life has led them away from regular church attendance. But here's the good news: they are not alone. At CPARL, we are committed to supporting parents and families together.

A Collaborative That Walks Together

As a Church, we are all called by our baptism to share in the mission of making disciples. That mission starts in the home. The Church calls the family "the domestic Church" because it's in the family that children first learn who God is and how to follow God. Our collaborative is here to nurture, encourage, and equip parents in this sacred work. Supporting families isn't a side program - it's part of our whole culture. Every ministry, every event, every homily has the potential to uplift our parents and help them grow as disciples. Here are just a few of the ways CPARL is intentionally investing in families:

- Parish Leadership—Clergy, staff, and ministry leaders continually discern how to accompany parents better and support adult faith formation. We're not just talking about logistics; we're crafting a culture that welcomes and walks with adults at every stage of the journey.
- Ministry Formation—Leaders are trained to think beyond events and into relationships: How are we helping people grow closer to Christ? How are we meeting them where they are? How are we inviting them deeper into the life of the Church?
- Lenten Missions and Retreats—We offer practical formation to help people feel confident in inviting others into faith, starting with their own families.

A New Way to Welcome Parents

Picture this: a parent walks into the lower church hall for their child's First Communion meeting. They're overwhelmed—juggling jobs, sports practices, meals, and maybe some guilt for not having been to church in a while. They love their kids and want them to know God, but they're unsure of what to expect... or what might be expected of them. We've reimagined this first step.

Instead of an information dump or a classroom lecture, we call it "the Visit." It's not a meeting—it's a conversation. It's a chance for parents to be heard, to share their hopes and struggles, and to know they're not being judged. We let them know: You belong here. We're glad you came. We're walking with you.

It All Comes Back to Jesus

Many of our parents didn't grow up with a living relationship with Jesus. They may have learned about Him, but never felt close to Him. That's where we begin. We introduce them—not just to information—but to Jesus Himself. Through storytelling, Scripture, conversation, and prayer, we help parents encounter the living God who loves them and is calling them back into relationship.

Equipping Parents - Not Expecting Perfection

Parenting doesn't come with a manual. Most parents are just doing their best, one day at a time, and hoping they're getting it right. At CPARL, we don't expect perfection. What we offer is companionship, encouragement, and practical tools - how to pray as a family, how to discuss God at the dinner table, and how to live the faith even in busy, chaotic seasons of life. We help parents become not just teachers of the faith, but witnesses - people who live it out in their own imperfect but faithful way.

Rooted in Relationship

If there's one theme that ties all of this together, it's relationship. Over the past several years, we've been intentionally building strong, trusting relationships with parents, with leaders, catechists, and with one another. We take time to listen, to understand where people are spiritually, and to discern together where God is leading them next. Ministry flows from that kind of trust and connection.

Want to learn more or get involved?

Reach out (faithformation@cparl.org) to Meredith Smith, Director of Faith Formation, or me, Scott Morin, Director of Evangelization. Whether you're a parent or someone who wants to support our families, we'd love to have you walk this journey with us. Together, we are building up the domestic Church, one family at a time.
