NOVEMBER: THE MONTH OF THE HOLY SOULS

Among the many traditional devotions in the Catholic Church, there is the beautiful practice of praying for the Holy Souls in Purgatory. One can easily find this devotion within the corporal and spiritual works of mercy, namely praying for the living and the dead. During the month of November, the Holy Mother Church enjoins Her members to commemorate all of the souls who have departed from this life, but have not yet attained the joys of heaven. There are various practical and concrete ways in which we can merit graces for the souls in purgatory, whether they be our family and friends or brothers and sisters in Christ.

The greatest and most powerful means to exercise an act of love toward our beloved deceased is by requesting a Holy Mass to be offered in their memory. First of all, this is the highest form of prayer with infinite value because it is the work of God given to us to offer back to Him. Second, all graces come through the Sacrifice of Christ. One cannot emphasize enough the importance of encouraging family and friends to have Holy Masses offered for their deceased loved ones.

After Our Lord Jesus Christ, we turn to the Most Blessed Virgin Mary. There is no greater intercessor before God than Our Blessed Mother. When imploring Her assistance and joining our prayers to Hers for the departed faithful, graces flood into purgatory. She has consistently urged Her children to reverently and devoutly pray the rosary on a daily basis. Every Hail Mary prayed well will greatly benefit a soul. Thus, let us employ a very simple and yet powerful means given to us to gain graces for the faithful departed

Finally, it is good to visit a cemetery and offer our prayers there. One could either pray at the graveside of a beloved departed or simply for those who are buried at a cemetery nearby. The Fatima prayer is a great prayer to pray when visiting a cemetery. It goes as follows:

"O my Jesus, forgive us our sins, save us from the fires of hell, lead all souls to Heaven, especially those most in need of Thy mercy. Amen."

Another prayer known as the 'eternal rest' prayer could also be recited:

"Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon them. May the souls of all the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen."

Other than the saints who have been canonized by the Church, we do not know with certainty the state of the other souls. While it is very important that we hope for the glorious beatific vision for the souls of our loved ones and those who have passed from this world, we should never presume that they are already in heaven with God. It does not hurt to offer prayers and merit graces for them. No graces go to waste even if someone whom we are praying for is in heaven already. The graces will be applied elsewhere.

The love we show to the souls in purgatory is the love that we are expressing to Our Lord Jesus Christ:

"Amen, I say to you, whatever you did for one of these least brothers of mine, you did for me" (Mt 25:40). May we take advantage of all the opportunities given to us this month to love extraordinarily well.

PLEASE PRAY

Please pray for Karl P. Baldwin, Ann Bannon, Patricia Broderick, Prudence Carracini, Mark Driscoll, and Mary Grover who died recently. We also pray for the sick of our Collaborative and for those that care for them.

We pray that all those serving in the Armed Forces may return home safely and soon.

The Holy Father's special intention for the month of November is for the prevention of suicide. Let us pray that those who are struggling with suicidal thoughts might find the support, care, and love they need in their community and be open to the beauty of life. We also pray for those who have lost loved ones to suicide—that they may be comforted in their grief and find hope and healing through the compassion of others and the mercy of God.

FROM OUR HOLY FATHER

As we celebrate the Jubilee of the Synodal Teams and Participatory Bodies, we are invited to contemplate and re-discover the mystery of the Church. She is not merely a religious institution, nor is she simply identified with hierarchies and structures. The Second Vatican Council reminds us that the Church is the visible sign of the union between God and humanity, where God intends to bring us all together into one family of brothers and sisters and make us his people: a people made up of beloved children, all united in the one embrace of his love.

Contemplating the mystery of ecclesial communion, generated and preserved by the Holy Spirit, we can also understand the meaning of synodal teams and participatory bodies. They express what occurs within the Church, where relationships do not respond to the logic of power but to that of love. The former – to recall a constant warning from Pope Francis – is a “worldly” logic. Conversely, in the Christian community, primacy belongs to the spiritual life, which reveals to us that we are all children of God, brothers and sisters, called to serve one another.

The supreme rule in the Church is love. No one is called to dominate; all are called to serve. No one should impose his or her own ideas; we must all listen to one another. No one is excluded; we are all called to participate. No one possesses the whole truth; we must all humbly seek it and seek it together.

The very word “together” expresses the call to communion in the Church.. Pope Francis reminded us of this in his final Message for Lent: “...to journey together. The Church is called to walk together, to be synodal. Christians are called to walk at the side of others, and never as lone travelers. The Holy Spirit impels us not to remain self-absorbed, but to leave ourselves behind and keep walking towards God and our brothers and sisters. Journeying together means consolidating the unity grounded in our common dignity as children of God” (Message for Lent, 25 February 2025).

Walking together: this is apparently what the two characters neglect to do in the parable we have just heard in the Gospel. Both the Pharisee and the tax collector go up to the Temple to pray. We could say that they “go up together” or, at least, they find themselves together in the sacred place. Yet they are divided; and there is no communication between them. Both take the same path, but they do not walk together. Both are in the Temple; but one takes the first place, and the other remains behind. Both pray to the Father, but without being brothers and without having anything in common.

This division depends above all on the Pharisee’s attitude. His prayer, though seemingly addressed to God, is only a mirror in which he looks at, justifies and praises himself. As Saint Augustine writes, he “went up to pray: he had no mind to pray to God, but to laud himself” (Discourse 115, 2). Feeling superior, he judges the other with contempt and looks down on him. The Pharisee is obsessed with his own ego and, in this way, ends up focused on himself without having a relationship with either God or others.

Brothers and sisters, this can also happen in the Christian community. It happens when the ego prevails over the collective, causing an individualism that prevents authentic and fraternal relationships. It also occurs when the claim to be better than others, as the Pharisee does with the tax collector, creates division and turns the community into a judgmental and exclusionary place; and when one leverages one’s role to exert power, rather than to serve.

We should, however, focus our attention on the tax collector. With the same humility that he showed, we too must recognize within the Church that we are all in need of God and of one another, which leads us to practice reciprocal love, listen to each other and enjoy walking together. It is based on the knowledge that Christ belongs to those who are humble, not to those who elevate themselves above the flock (cf. Saint Clement of Rome, Letter to the Corinthians, c. XVI).

The synodal teams and participatory bodies are an image of this Church that lives in communion. Please trust me when I tell you that by listening to the Spirit in dialogue, fraternity and parrhesia, you will help us to understand that, prior to any differences, we are called in the Church to walk together in the pursuit of God. By clothing ourselves with the sentiments of Christ, we expand the ecclesial space so that it becomes collegial and welcoming.

This will enable us to live with confidence and a new spirit amid the tensions that run through the life of the Church: between unity and diversity, tradition and novelty, authority and participation.

We must allow the Spirit to transform them, so that they do not become ideological contrapositions and harmful polarizations.

It is not a question of resolving them by reducing one to the other, but of allowing them to be purified by the Spirit, so that they may be harmonized and oriented toward a common discernment. As synodal teams and members of participatory bodies, you know that ecclesial discernment requires “interior freedom, humility, prayer, mutual trust, an openness to the new and a surrender to the will of God. It is never just a setting out of one’s own personal or group point of view or a summing up of differing individual opinions” (Final Document, 26 October 2024, 82). Being a synodal Church means recognizing that truth is not possessed, but sought together, allowing ourselves to be guided by a restless heart in love with Love.

Dear friends, we must dream of and build a more humble Church; a Church that does not stand upright like the Pharisee, triumphant and inflated with pride, but bends down to wash the feet of humanity; a Church that does not judge as the Pharisee does the tax collector, but becomes a welcoming place for all; a Church that does not close in on itself, but remains attentive to God so that it can similarly listen to everyone. Let us commit ourselves to building a Church that is entirely synodal, ministerial and attracted to Christ and therefore committed to serving the world.

Upon all of us, and the Church spread throughout the world, I invoke the intercession of the Virgin Mary with the words of the Servant of God Don Tonino Bello: “Holy Mary, woman of conviviality, nourish in our Churches the desire for communion ... Help them to overcome internal divisions. Intervene when the demon of discord creeps into their midst. Extinguish the fires of factionalism. Reconcile mutual disputes. Defuse their rivalries. Stop them when they decide to go their own way, neglecting convergence on common projects” (Maria, Donna dei Nostri Giorni, 99).

May the Lord grant us this grace: to be rooted in God’s love so that we may live in communion with one another and be, as a Church, witnesses of unity and love.

If a candidate wishes to speak with a priest faculty member during his visit, we will arrange for that as well. There is also the option to attend virtually via the Chapel live-stream link of evening prayer followed by a Zoom meeting. The Zoom meeting link is available once registered.

The next First Friday Visit will be held on Friday, November 7th.

PAUL HARRIS AWARD

Arlington Catholic High School's School Counselor and Interact Leader, Christy Kiernan, was a Paul Harris Fellow Recipient at this year's dinner on October 21st. Christy was celebrated with an evening of fellowship, recognition, and community pride for her embodiment of "Service Above Self." Many of our staff joined in to celebrate their colleague. Congratulations, Christy!

STEM UPDATES

Arlington Catholic High School's new STEM Lab was developed through a collaborative initiative involving educators, facilities personnel, and students, with the generous support of a donor. The lab provides a highly adaptable, future-oriented environment engineered to support diverse STEM activities—including robotics, engineering, and physics. Families love that we begin STEM in our Early Learning Center and continue into High School with coding and programming robots. The younger students start with hands-on activities that spark excitement and inspire our students of all ages to explore the world of STEM!

ACDC PRESENTS

Arlington Catholic Drama Club is launching its first show of Season '26 this November! Make 'Em Laugh by Jason Odell Williams opens on November 6th at 7:00 PM in Barton Hall, Saint Agnes School, and runs until November 8th! We're thrilled to kick off the season with this sitcom-filled comedy, which our students have worked incredibly hard to complete.

GRANDPARENTS/GRANDFRIENDS DAY

Saint Agnes School and Arlington Catholic High School celebrated Grandparents & Grandfriends on campus. Over three days, families gathered on Medford Street, enjoying Gail Ann's donuts and coffee while visiting the school. K0-4th grades students attended a Mass and participated in classroom activities with crafts and photos. The next event, hosted by the sophomores, started with Mass and included a luncheon in the ACHS cafeteria, where students served their grandparents. This connected well with Father Dominic's homily on St. Teresa of Avila's Feast Day, emphasizing that we are the hands and feet of Christ on earth. Last Friday, grades 5-8 hosted their grandfriends, sharing Mass and playing "oldies bingo." Grandparents are vital to our community; they serve as gentle faith leaders, guiding hearts and passing down faith from generation to generation.

HARVARD UNIVERSITY BOOK AWARD

Arlington Catholic High School senior, Jameson Gonzales, was recently honored at Harvard University's annual Recognition Breakfast after being selected as this year's Harvard Book Award recipient. This prestigious award is presented to the top student in the junior class who demonstrates exceptional academic achievement, leadership, and a commitment to excellence. We are incredibly proud of Jameson for representing our school community with distinction!
