SUNDAY MASS READING 8/24

First Reading: Isaiah 66:18-21

Isaiah portrays a time when people from many nations will gather in Jerusalem and proclaim God's glory. God's messengers will teach many nations about God. Just as the Israelites bring offerings, these messengers will bring people from all nations to worship.

Second Reading: Hebrews 12:5-7, 11-13

The Hebrews are told that God disciplines those he loves. When a parent disciplines a child, the child usually learns what is expected of him. The Hebrews are encouraged to face life's trials as a form of discipline, and attempt to learn something from them.

Gospel: Luke 13:22-30

Jesus warns that the door to God's kingdom will be locked for those who ignored his wishes. Many people will come from all nations and take their place in God's kingdom. Others will not be recognized by God, and he will reject them.

AUGUST IS DEDICATED TO THE IMMACULATE HEART OF MARY

PRAY UNCEASINGLY LIKE ST. MONICA DID!

By Fr. Dan Cambra, MIC

“How often does a woman get to say that she prayed for her son and he became, not only a Catholic, but a priest, bishop, saint, Doctor of the Church, and one of the founding fathers of Western civilization? What unimaginable power there is in the tears and prayers of St. Monica!

In August each year, the Church celebrates the feasts of the great St. Monica (on Aug. 27) and her son, St. Augustine of Hippo (Aug. 28), Doctor of the Church and creator of the famous “Rule of St. Augustine.” These feasts take on a special new meaning now that we live under the reign of Pope Leo XIV, the first pope from the Augustinian Order (the OSAs)

Lost sheep

Dr. Robert Stackpole describes for us St. Augustine in a passage from his great book from Marian Press, Divine Mercy: A Guide from Genesis to Benedict XVI:

Saint Augustine was born in 354 in a small town in what is now Algeria, North Africa. His father was a pagan, but his mother was a devout Christian believer who was later canonized and is known to the whole Catholic world as St. Monica. As a young man, Augustine prepared for a career as a teacher of Rhetoric and subsequently taught in Carthage and Rome. Unfortunately, despite having a saint for a mother, as his career progressed he wandered far from his Christian upbringing, and his life sank into an abyss of pride and lust.

Like many young pagan men of his time, he lived with a mistress and conceived a child with her out of wedlock. However, the Lord did not want to lose hold of this lost sheep altogether: thus, inspired by the writings of the Roman philosopher Cicero (and, no doubt, prompted by the Holy Spirit), Augustine began what would prove to be a lifelong search for wisdom. ...

In 386, Augustine moved to Milan to a new teaching post, and there, by divine providence, he encountered the preaching of the archbishop of the city, the great theologian St. Ambrose. As a result of the example and preaching of this great saint, as well as the prayers and tears of his saintly mother, Augustine was quickly plunged into a profound inner struggle, wrestling with his sins of the flesh and with temptations to intellectual pride. The turning point of this struggle came in the summer of 386 when Augustine was sitting in a garden, recollecting his past life and gazing into the depths of his own soul. ...

Augustine converted decisively, and went on to become one of the greatest bishops, theologians, and writers of religious rules in the history of the Church. Pope Leo’s public statements and official papal documents have normally included at least one quote from St. Augustine. We will all be learning a great deal more about this Father and Doctor of the Church throughout the pontificate of the first American pope!

But it’s almost more important that we all learn from St. Augustine’s mother Monica about the power and importance of persistent, untiring prayer.

Model of prayer

Many of our Catholic brothers and sisters mourn that their children or grandchildren have wandered away from the full practice of their Catholic faith. They take comfort from the example of St. Monica, whose steadfast, persistent habit of prayer for her husband, Patricius, and her son, Augustine, were so spectacularly rewarded.

How often does a woman get to say that she prayed for her son and he became, not only a Catholic, but a priest, bishop, saint, Doctor of the Church, and one of the founding fathers of Western civilization? What unimaginable power there is in the tears and prayers of St. Monica!

And so many of our brethren today seek to imitate her, seek to help their loved ones return to the faith by similar prayers, tears, fasting, and works of mercy done on their behalf.

This is good, and something we should all be doing for our friends, family, and neighbors who have lost or wandered away from their faith.

Persist for Purgatory

But I want to encourage you all to take a slightly different approach, as well. Pray for the living, certainly, but do not forget to also pray for the dead. Persist in your prayers, fasting, almsgiving, indulgences, and other suffrages for the dead, for they can’t help themselves.

Be a St. Monica, not necessarily for the next generation, but for those who have gone before. They gave us so much by their lives; let us show our gratitude for those who have gone before with the same steadfast habits of prayer and tearful beseeching of God's grace that St. Monica brought to bear to set her husband and son free from sin through grace and the Sacraments.

After all, it's easy to get distracted by the pleasures and comforts of this world. It's also easy for our compassion, our Christian works of mercy, to focus solely on the visible suffering of those right in front of us, the needs of our communities and our households, and to forget or neglect those who have died. "They no longer suffer," we tell ourselves. "At least their suffering is at an end."

That's not necessarily the case, as St. Faustina was reminded by the Holy Souls who visited her, asking for her prayers and the Masses they needed to move on to heavenly glory and leave the sufferings of Purgatory behind. Many of those who die who will ultimately reach Heaven nevertheless spend some amount of time in Purgatory.

The month of the Immaculate Heart

During August, the month of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, let us honor and imitate St. Monica and St. Augustine. Let us live under the mantle of the Blessed Mother, steeped in the fiery charity of her Immaculate Heart, and with our Rosaries, Divine Mercy Chaplets, and other prayers and devotions, be mini Monicas for the many, many sinful and fallen away Augustines of this world.

Pick a great sinner, either a public figure or someone in your community, parish, or even in your family, and commit to praying for them every day. And don't forget to pray for the Holy Souls in Purgatory every day. They can't pray for themselves.

May God bless you!

Fri. Aug. 29—Memorial of the Passion of St. John the Baptist

O God, who willed that Saint John the Baptist should go ahead of your Son both in his birth and in his death, grant that, as he died a Martyr for truth and justice, we, too, may fight hard for the confession of what you teach. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God, for ever and ever.

St. John the Baptist has two feast days—his birth (June 24) and his passion/martyrdom (August 29). Unlike most saints, whose primary commemoration is the day of death (their "heavenly birthday"), John's nativity is celebrated because of his unique role in salvation history: he was sanctified in the womb and called from birth to prepare the way for Christ. The two feasts together highlight the fullness of his witness: from birth, he embodies prophetic fidelity to God's call, and in death, he models ultimate obedience, courage, and self-denial. This dual commemoration allows the Church to reflect on the whole arc of John's vocation—from the joyous herald of the Messiah to the faithful martyr who points beyond himself to Christ—thus framing him as an example of preparation, witness, and holiness.

Santa Mónica: un ejemplo de mujer con santidad actual

Santa Mónica es una mujer de la que conocemos su vida, pero sobre todo la gran labor de oración que hizo por su hijo Agustín a lo largo de más de 20 años

Santa Mónica, llevada a los altares mayores por su estilo de vida en santidad y oración, fue dada en matrimonio muy joven a un hombre pagano llamado Patricio, de quien tuvo varios hijos, entre ellos Agustín, cuya conversión alcanzó de la misericordia divina con muchas lágrimas y oraciones. Sin duda es un modelo perfecto de madre cristiana.

Hoy queremos compartirte cinco datos de la vida de santa Mónica con los que te puedes identificar y pedir su intercesión.

1 Punto de referencia

En una época en la que la mujer estaba siempre y en todo caso relegada a un papel subalterno, obligada a vivir a la sombra de su marido, condenada al olvido y sin consideración por sus verdaderos talentos y capacidades, esta mujer excepcional supo sublimar el papel que le ha asignado la historia y la sociedad, convirtiéndose en un punto de referencia y símbolo para las mujeres y madres de todas las épocas.

2 Mujer aguerriada

Imaginemos a una madre, una mujer cristiana, que se quedó viuda temprano, con tres hijos que cuidar y todo el peso de la responsabilidad sobre sus hombros. Parece una historia como muchas otras, una que podemos escuchar todos los días, o que quizás incluso hemos vivido muy de cerca en nuestra familia.

3 Pilar de familia

En la cultura antigua, en casi todas las sociedades, ser esposa y madre representaba la máxima aspiración y la plena realización de una mujer; en muchos casos, era inevitable estar sometida al marido.

En este caso seguramente seremos capaces de darnos cuenta de cuánto coraje y fuerza necesita una madre para sacrificar su propia vida para emplear cada momento de su existencia, sola y exclusivamente, para el cuidado y el bienestar de su hijo.

No pensemos solo en el bienestar del cuerpo, sino también y sobre todo en el del espíritu y el alma; que sobre todo en los más jóvenes, está constantemente perturbado por pensamientos y estímulos que no siempre son comprensibles para ellos mismos.

4 Mujer de oración y fe

Después de casarse según los deseos de la familia, tuvo tres hijos que crecieron en el fervor de su fe. Una fe tan ardiente e inquebrantable que hasta su marido, un pagano, se contagió a tal grado que se convirtió al cristianismo.

Nadie como San Agustín entiende la fuerza de la oración de una madre por su hijo; pues durante veinte años su madre, santa Mónica, rezó por su conversión y lo consiguió. Él mismo lo cuenta en su libro Confesiones.

Él dijo que su madre iba tres veces al día frente al Sagrario, en Hipona, y le pedía a Jesús que su Agustín se volviera “un buen cristiano”.

Era todo lo que ella quería. No pedía que él fuera sacerdote, obispo, santo, doctor de la Iglesia y uno de los mayores teólogos y filósofos de todos los tiempos; solo que creyera. San Agustín dijo que las lágrimas de su madre frente al sagrario eran como “la sangre de su corazón destilado en lágrimas en sus ojos”.

5 Madre y abuela entregada

Durante sus años paganos, Agustín tuvo una concubina con la que tuvo un hijo llamado Adeodato. El hijo permaneció bajo su custodia y ambos vivieron con santa Mónica; su nieto falleció con 16 años y vivió lo suficiente como para ser testigo de la muerte de su abuela. Santa Mónica tuvo un profundo impacto, no solo en su hijo, sino también en su nieto.

Gran intercesora

Una vez que San Agustín se convirtió, en los últimos días de su madre, tuvieron un hermoso diálogo; la conversación más santa entre una madre y un hijo, después de las que Jesús tuvo con la Virgen María.

«Hijo, en cuanto a mí, ya no encuentro ningún atractivo por esta vida. No sé qué sigo haciendo aquí y por qué me encuentras aquí. Este mundo ya no es un objeto de deseo para mí. Solo había una razón por la que quería quedarme un poco más en esta vida: verte como un cristiano católico antes de morir. Dios me ha concedido más allá de todas mis expectativas, me ha concedido verte a su servicio y liberado de las aspiraciones de felicidad terrena. ¿Qué estoy haciendo aquí?».

«Enterrarás este cuerpo, dijo, donde más te guste, no quiero que te molestes. Solo por esto te ruego que estés donde estés, te acuerdes de mí en el altar del Señor».

Santa Mónica es la santa patrona de las mujeres casadas, madres, abuelas y viudas; también es la santa patrona de las personas que viven matrimonios difíciles, de las que tienen hijos problemáticos, y de las conversiones de familiares.

Ella es la amiga que nos consuela desde el cielo. Entiende bien la desesperación de los padres frustrados y confundidos al ver a sus hijos alejarse de la Iglesia.

VIGESIMO DOMINGO EN TIEMPO ORDINARIOPrimera Lectura: Isaías 66:18-21

Isaías describe el futuro cuando gente de muchas naciones se reunirán en Jerusalén para proclamar la gloria de Dios. Los mensajeros de Dios enseñarán a todas las naciones acerca de Dios. Así como los israelitas llevan ofrendas, estos mensajeros llevarán gente de todas las naciones a adorar.

Segunda Lectura: Hebreos 12:5-7, 11-13

Se les dice a los hebreos que Dios disciplina a aquellos a quienes ama. Cuando un padre disciplina a un niño, el niño generalmente aprende lo que se espera de él. Se alienta a los hebreos a enfrentar las dificultades de la vida como una foma de disciplina, e intentar aprender de ellas.

Evangelio: San Lucas 13:22-30

Jesús advierte que la puerta del reino de Dios estará cerrada a aquellos que ignoren sus deseos. Mucha gente vendrá de todas las naciones y tomará su lugar en el reino de Dios. Otros no serán reconocidos por Dios, y El los rechazará. ©1998 Bon Venture Services
