

Camp Summit || Youth Code of Conduct

(excerpted from Safeguarding God's Children: NFCYM Policies for Protecting Young People)

Youth participants will:

- Project an image of Christian consideration, sensitivity, and respect to everyone and to the property around them through language, dress, and behavior
- Refrain from inappropriate touching and verbal property
- Respect other persons and/or property
- Refrain from actions that could result in injury and/or damage to property
- Adhere to stated curfew
- Maintain the spirit of the event
- Attend all scheduled activities, arriving promptly, and staying for the entire event
- Be aware of noise levels in the sleeping areas, chapel, and evenings

Youth Participants will not:

- Possess weapons of any kind
- Possess any type of alcohol
- Possess any type of illegal drugs
- Engage in any form of peer sexual harassment
- Visit or gather in the cabins of other gender

If a problem of any kind occurs at Camp Summit, young people will immediately go to a trusted adult (Leadership Team of Camp) to discuss the matter.

Youth and parents understand that failure to agree to and abide by the Youth Code of Conduct will bar youth from participation in Camp Summit.

Camp Summit relies on high school students and young adults throughout the diocese to ensure that every young person attending camp are aware of the Youth Code of Conduct and the sanctions for non-compliance. Parents bear the responsibility for sharing this information with their children prior to camp. Whether or not this occurs, youth are held to the Youth Code of Conduct throughout the entirety of camp.

If a young person violates the Youth Code of Conduct, any or all of the following actions may be implemented:

- Reporting of misconduct to local authorities, if the violation in any way violates local ordinances or laws.
- Dismissal of youth from Camp Summit by requesting that parents of the participant transport their child home in a timely and safe manor.
