Catholic Home Missions Appeal

This weekend we will be take up the Catholic Home Missions Appeal. Nearly 40% of the dioceses in the United States and its territories are considered mission territories because they are unable to fund essential pastoral activities needed in their communities. Your support funds religious education, seminary formation, lay ministry training, and other programs that build vibrant faith communities right here in the United States. Please be generous. More information can be found at www.usccb.org/home-missions
