When the Lord told his disciples to go and teach all nations and baptize them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, he conferred on them the power of giving men new life in God.

He had promised through the prophets that in these last days he would pour out his Spirit on his servants and handmaids, and that they would prophesy. So when the Son of God became the Son of Man, the Spirit also descended upon him, becoming accustomed in this way to dwelling with the human race, to living in men and to inhabiting God's creation. The Spirit accomplished the Father's will in men who had grown old in sin, and gave them new life in Christ.

Luke says that the Spirit came down on the disciples at Pentecost, after the Lord's ascension, with power to open the gates of life to all nations and to make known to them the new covenant. So it was that men of every language joined in singing one song of praise to God, and scattered tribes, restored to unity by the Spirit, were offered to the Father as the first-fruits of all the nations.

This was why the Lord had promised to send the Advocate: he was to prepare us as an offering to God. Like dry flour, which cannot become one lump of dough, one loaf of bread, without moisture, we who are many could not become one in Christ Jesus without the water that comes down from heaven. And like parched ground, which yields no harvest unless it receives moisture, we who were once like a waterless tree could never have lived and borne fruit without this abundant rainfall from above. Through the baptism that liberates us from change and decay we have become one in body; through the Spirit we have become one in soul.

The Spirit of wisdom and understanding, the Spirit of counsel and strength, the Spirit of knowledge and the fear of God came down upon the Lord, and the Lord in turn gave this Spirit to his Church, sending the Advocate from heaven into all the world into which, according to his own words, the devil too had been cast down like lightning.

If we are not to be scorched and made unfruitful, we need the dew of God. Since we have our accuser, we need an advocate as well. And so the Lord in his pity for man, who had fallen into the hands of brigands, ...entrusted him to the Holy Spirit. Now, through the Spirit, the image...of the Father and the Son have been given to us, and it is our duty to...make it yield a rich profit for the Lord.

—Against the Heresies, St. Irenaeus, b. 130

Lord, before each of us was conceived, you conceived us in your mind from all eternity. And you did not repeat yourself once. Just as the genetic code of each individual is unique, so are his or her fingerprints. As we learn about the biology of prenatal development, so let us learn about the uniqueness of your love for us. May we all find comfort that you know each of us uniquely, and love each of us infinitely.

Social Justice Corner

From June 22-29, the US Church will once again celebrate Religious Freedom Week. As it happens, in April the House of Representatives passed a new bill which threatens to severely limit the freedom of the Church, not in the area of worship, but in many of the ways we teach, and serve, and care for the "least of these" in society—in accord with the Catholic faith. The guiding intention of the Equality Act of 2019 is to uphold the dignity of every individual and to offer meaningful protection against unjust discrimination. But, if it becomes law, it would initiate a severe conflict between the federal government and the Church.

The bill's proposals include 1) adding the new terms, "sexual orientation" and "gender identity" and a definition of "sex" to federal civil rights laws; 2) expanding the types of entities covered under those laws; and 3) exempting itself from the requirements and conscience protections of the Religious Freedom Restoration Act of 1993. Such sweeping new norms would negatively impact very sensitive areas of citizens' lives including but not limited to:

- personal privacy
- foster care
- athletic injuries
- free speech
- parental rights
- single-sex schools
- the unborn
- healthcare
- promotion of marriage
- women's shelters
- religious liberties
- athletic scholarships
- adoption agencies
- charitable services

Please take time to pray and visit USCCB.org > Issues and Action > Religious Liberty. Join the bishops in asking all the Senate to oppose this bill. You may leave a message at the U.S. capitol switchboard, 202-224-3121. —Penny Cowan
