FROM THE DESK OF FATHER JEFF

Preparing Our Hearts for Lent:

There are times of great joy and comfort in being a Catholic priest. For me, one of those times is praying the Liturgy of the Hours. Catholic priests are required to pray The Liturgy of the Hours five times a day. We made the promise to God to pray these five times each day at the time of our ordination. In fact, to not do so willingly is a mortal sin. The priest is required to pray these hours for the sanctification of self, the Church, and for the People of God. It is truly beautiful that the religious from all around the world are praying the same exact prayers at all hours of each and every day, all so that the world may be sanctified. Permanent deacons, at the time of their ordination, also made the promise to God, to pray the Liturgy of the Hours two times a day, in the morning and evening.

As part of the Liturgy of the Hours, this reading (provided below) was given to us by the Church a couple of weeks ago. I think that even though it is not directly related to the Season of Lent, it can be helpful to aid our reflection as we prepare our hearts for this powerful season and therefore I wanted to share it with all of you.

“From the treatise On Spiritual Perfection by Diadochus of Photice, bishop
(Cap. 12, 13, 14: PG 65, 1171-1172)

All our love must be for God

No one who is in love with himself is capable of loving God. The man who loves God is the one who mortifies his self-love for the sake of the immeasurable blessings of divine love. Such a man never seeks his own glory but only the glory of God. If a person loves himself he seeks his own glory, but the man who loves God loves the glory of his Creator. Anyone alive to the love of God can be recognized from the way he constantly strives to glorify him by fulfilling all his commandments and by delighting in his own abasement. Because of his great majesty it is fitting that God should receive glory, but if he hopes to win God's favor it becomes man to be humble. If we possess this love for God, we too will rejoice in his glory as Saint John the Baptist did, and we shall never stop repeating: His fame must increase, but mine must diminish.

I know a man who, though lamenting his failure to love God as much as he desires, yet loves him so much that his soul burns with ceaseless longing for God to be glorified, and for his own complete effacement. This man has no feeling of self-importance even when he receives praise. So deep is his desire to humble himself that he never even thinks of his own dignity. He fulfills his priestly duty by celebrating the Liturgy, but his intense love for God is an abyss that swallows up all consciousness of his high office. His humility makes him oblivious of any honor it might bring him, so that in his own estimation he is never anything but a useless servant. Because of his desire for self-abasement, he regards himself as though degraded from his office. His example is one that we ourselves should follow by fleeing from all honor and glory for the sake of the immeasurable blessings of God's love, for he has loved us so much!

Anyone who loves God in the depths of his heart has already been loved by God. In fact, the measure of a man's love for God depends upon how deeply aware he is of God's love for him. When this awareness is keen it makes whoever possesses it long to be enlightened by the divine light, and this longing is so intense that it seems to penetrate his very bones. He loses all consciousness of himself and is entirely transformed by the love of God.

Such a man lives in this life and at the same time does not live in it, for although he still inhabits his body, he is constantly leaving it in spirit because of the love that draws him toward God. Once the love of God has released him from self-love, the flame of divine love never ceases to burn in his heart and he remains united to God by an irresistible longing. As the Apostle says: If we are taken out of ourselves it is for the love of God; if we are brought back to our senses it is for your sake.”

As we prepare for Lent, may we ask ourselves, “How can I glorify God through humility? How can I live for Him and love Him even more?”

Healthy Habit #2 — Forgiveness

All of us have been hurt by the words or actions of another. You feel angry and betrayed. But did you know that by harboring anger in your heart, you are damaging your health? Chronic anger puts us in the fight or flight mode, which results in elevated blood pressure, compromised immune system, stress, and anxiety, which over time can have lasting effects. Here are a few suggestions to help:

- Recognize the value of forgiveness and how it can improve your life.
- Acknowledge your emotions about the harm done to you, recognize how those emotions affect your behavior, and work to release them.
- Pray. The Surrender prayer is a valuable tool in letting go of anger and resentment.
- Join a support group or see a counselor.
- Choose to forgive the person who's offended you.

Be kind to one another, tender-hearted, forgiving each other, just as God in Christ also has forgiven you.

This small group series features Fr. Michael Gaitley of the Marian Fathers of the Immaculate Conception and the Director of Formation for the Marian Missionaries of Divine Mercy.

In this vastly popular ten-part series, Fr. Gaitley combines history, Scripture, prophecy and the lives of saints to show God's merciful love for you'.

The series begins on February 7, from 9:30-11:30, in the Bishop Leonard Room, and will continue every other Wednesday through April 3.

The culmination of this journey is the celebration of Divine Mercy Sunday on April 7, a special feast day celebrated on the Sunday after Easter.
