2nd Sunday in October

dear Padre

March 22, 2015

Does our earthly suffering lessen our time in purgatory?

I've had three miscarriages and have chronic pain from a serious auto accident. Does God look at this as a form of penance for my sins? Will I have less time in purgatory because I suffered so on earth?

God is love. Jesus revealed this to us in John's Gospel. We enjoy a relationship with God as his children, and good parents don't enjoy seeing their children suffer. Therefore, God doesn't intentionally inflict pain and suffering upon his children or delight in our suffering.

Our illnesses, afflictions, and injuries are simply a sign of our own human weakness, limitations, and imperfections—physical as well as spiritual. They're not a sign of God's desire to teach us a lesson for the mistakes we've made or even for the sins we've committed.

As for the time we'll spend in purgatory, we need to remember that, although our sins are forgiven by our Lord's life, death, and resurrection, sin has an effect on our souls that must be purified before we enter heaven. This last purification, or purging, is the purpose of purgatory.

How much time this final purification takes is up to our Lord, whose love and mercy know no bounds.

Fifth Sunday of Lent

God continues to love us, even when we fall short time and again

In today's first reading, God promises a new covenant in which he will forgive humankind's sins. The passage from Hebrews reminds us that Jesus was obedient to his Father in order to save us. In the Gospel, Jesus makes it clear that he was sent by the Father to die for our sins. A voice from heaven confirms this.

Today we are called to remember God's faithfulness to us, his people. Humankind has rejected and betrayed God throughout history, and continues to do so today. In spite of this, God has never abandoned us. He continues to call us to turn away from sin and receive new life and salvation through his son, Jesus.
