14th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Do you ever feel restless? I certainly do. Daily tasks and challenges, but also the more basic demand of simply existing — sooner or later, this can all feel crushing and tire us out.

Which is why Jesus' words are such stunningly good news: "Come to me all you who labor and are burdened and I will give you rest" (Matthew 11:28). How vastly weird that this man speaks as though he is capable of giving us the deep repose we desire. Is his claim the height of absurd grandiosity? No, because next he immediately proclaims that he is "meek and humble of heart." We here touch a mystery: Jesus is capable of giving us rest because he is the one who forever reposes in the heart of God the Father. He is "yoked" to the Father in his divinity. But he is humbly "yoked" to us, sharing in our humanity.

The good news, my fellow tired-out friends: we don't have to despair in our burdens and exhaustion, no matter how heavy they feel. This week, join me in opening our hearts to hear him say to us, "Come! I will give you rest." We come to him in the Church, Eucharist, the Scriptures, prayer, in the poor. There he will give us rest.

— Father John Muir

Coming Back to Church

Question:

I have been away from the Church for a few years and really want to get active again, not so much for me, but for my children. Is this a bad reason to come back to Church?

Answer:

If you are on your way to the supermarket, and you are forced to detour from your usual route because of road work, does the food you buy taste different? Is the meal less filling? Are the vegetables less tasty? Of course not. In our faith journey, there are many detours called sin. Some are greater than others, some are even a bit longer. But God's grace comes to us in ways we understand and recognize and need. Your children leading you back to the Church is not as important as the fact that you are back. This is an opportunity for you to renew, strengthen, and deepen your faith. Regardless of how we get to Church, or what draws us closer to God, the fact is we are there. Do what you need to do to get right with God and the Church. Go to confession, begin good family religious practices, and be involved in the ministries your parish offers. Be more than a lukewarm parishioner. Be the kind of Catholic you want your children to be.

VOCATION VIEW

"We are to live a life in the Spirit, putting to death the works of the flesh. Ask God to help you always live as a child of the Light."

(Romans 8:13)

ST. KATERI TEKAKWITHA

On July 14th, we celebrate the feast of the "Lily of the Mohawks." St. Kateri Tekakwitha is the first Native American woman to be canonized. Orphaned by a smallpox outbreak, Kateri survived with severe scarring and impaired eyesight. Despite tragedy, she was a devout girl at a young age, often building crosses from sticks in the woods. When she was 18, she began secret instruction in the Catholic faith with French missionaries. Her commitment to Christianity and vow of virginity was misunderstood and ridiculed by her fellow villagers. She escaped to a nearby mission, where she attended daily Mass, taught the children, and cared for the sick and the elderly. Sometimes the greatest misunderstandings can come from those closest to us. Like St. Kateri, God invites us to be faithful to our commitments of faith and to always respond in love.

The Real Presence

MORE EUCHARISTIC MIRACLES

Of all the generals that served King Louis XIV of France (reigned 1643-1715), General Turenne was considered the bravest by the king and was the most respected by members of the court. Turenne, however, was a Calvinist, an error he refused to correct despite the wishes of the king and the efforts of the celebrated orator and bishop, Bossuet. Turenne's prejudices against the Church were many. He was especially opposed to the doctrine of the Real Presence of Christ in the Blessed Sacrament, which seemed to him to be incredible, although he allowed that such a doctrine must be beautiful and consoling to those blessed with faith. He was known to have said: "Were I to be convinced of the Real Presence of Jesus in the Sacrament, prostrate in the dust, I would adore Him incessantly." Despite Turenne's obstinacy, Bishop Bossuet continued to discuss the doctrine with him; the two met for this purpose in the Louvre, the palace which today is used as an art gallery. During one of these meetings, fire was discovered in one of the galleries. With the blaze threatening to destroy many works of art, Turenne hurried at once to the scene and proceeded to direct the men in their efforts to put out the fire. Every effort was exerted to control the fire, but all measures were in vain. The bishop, seeing the immensity of the fire and the imminent danger, is said to have followed a divine impulse. With all haste he made for the chapel, removed the ciborium containing the Blessed Sacrament and carried it to the opposite end of the burning gallery. After walking through clouds of smoke, he approached the flames and pronounced a benediction. At once the flames began to die down until they were at last extinguished. The workers were struck by the might and majesty of the miracle and fell to their knees, intoning the Te Deum. Turenne likewise was amazed and fell to his knees to adore the Blessed Sacrament, which he now acknowledged with newfound faith. From the time of this miracle in 1667 until his death, Turenne was known to have loved and practiced the true Faith and to have adored with all humility and devotion the Holy Redeemer present in the Sacrament of the altar.

(PRACTICING) CATHOLIC - RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

By Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

A Ballad of Flesh and Spirit

"My yoke is easy and my burden is light," says the man hanging from a cross. And if we only went on what we see with our eyes — flesh driven through by nails and sword, swollen from beating and inches from expiration — it would seem like a joke.

I'll tell you something we all know: this life on earth is hard. It's either too long or it's too short. It's frequently painful. It's riddled with problems that seem to make no sense. It is, as Dickens wrote, "made of ever so many partings welded together."

But it's also shockingly, senselessly beautiful. It is full of physical experiences of love, joy, and peace that are so powerful they leave you breathless. It is both these things — good and bad, hard and wonderful, just as we are both body and soul, spirit and flesh.

No one knows the Father except the Son, who entered into our bodily existence to free us from enslavement to it. No one knows the Son except the Father, and the means by which they know one another — the love passing between them, the Third Person himself — has been shared with us, has made its dwelling within us through baptism.

"Brothers and sisters, we are not debtors to the flesh, to live according to the flesh." - Romans 8:12 ©LPi

Seeds of Faith

Jesus said, "Other seeds fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked them. Other seeds fell on good soil and brought forth grain, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty." (Matthew 13:7-8)

How do you provide "good soil" for the faith of others to grow?

75th Year Queen of Martyrs Church

Fall of 1953, the Queen of Martyrs school saw its first, and Dayton's only undefeated, untied, football team with 8 straight wins. Only in their second year of participation, Queen of Martyrs were the champions of the CYO American league.

Holy Angels, champions of the CYO National league, took an early lead in the game. In the second period, Dave Trochel-man scored the team's first touchdown. Dave Skowronski scored early in the second half.

At the end of the day, Holy Angels won the game 32-13.

David Skowronski, Queen of Martyr left halfback, cuts to the right in an attempt to avoid a Holy Angels' tackler in the fourth quarter of the CYO championship contest at the U. D. stadium Sunday afternoon.
