ROSARY WORKSHOP

The Mysteries of the Rosary are meditations on episodes in the life and death of Jesus from the Annunciation to the Ascension and beyond, known as the Joyful (or Joyous) Mysteries, the Sorrowful Mysteries, and the Glorious Mysteries. Each of these Mysteries contemplates five different stages of Christ's life. On Saturday, September 30, 2023, there will be a workshop on the Rosary. The parish community is invited to come and learn more about the rosary. In the coming weeks, we will share more about the rosary and the workshop.

GOSPEL MEDITATION - ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

Isn't it easy to relate to Peter? One moment Jesus announces Peter's deep communion with God the Father. The very next, when he rejects the logic of Jesus' suffering and death, Jesus calls Peter Satan. We Christians shouldn't be too shocked when we experience both spiritual highs and lows, when we perceive breathtaking contradictions in our hearts.

Like the great apostle, you and I are recipients of unfathomable graces. God dwells in us, calls his beloved children, and takes care of our every need. And we also continually fail to embrace our sufferings with trust in Jesus. We know the truth of the creed, but we easily scorn the weight of the cross.

The good news is that, like Peter, we are never abandoned by the Lord even at our worst moments. Peter will eventually learn the beauty of the cross when he is willingly crucified. But it took time for him to get there. And it takes time for us, too. This week let's not be too shocked at these divisions in our hearts but accept them and patiently seek to be more obedient to Jesus' cross-shaped plan for us.

— Father John Muir

Helping Others Grow

Jesus said, "If another member of the church sins against you, go and point out the fault when the two of you are alone."

(Matthew 18:15)

How have you been able to follow Christ more closely because others patiently loved you?

Use this question for personal prayer, beginning a meeting, or conversations with others to prepare for the September 10, 2023 readings:

Reading I Ezekiel 33:7-9 The prophet a watchman

Reading II Romans 13:8-10 Love fulfills the Law

Gospel Matthew 18:15-20 Fraternal correction

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP - RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

How many public self-storage facilities can you find in your city or town? They seem to be popping up everywhere. One day I was talking to my neighbor and he was explaining that he just wanted to have his garage back again. He was thinking about moving everything to a storage unit so he could gain what he wanted more than all that stuff: space. We talked about the fact that if he chose to follow through with it there was no shortage of places to house all of it. Of course, we also agreed that it would be better to simply let go of all it. He could sell it or give it away. But, of course, it was good stuff! So good, in fact, one was tempted to rent a whole new space to house it!

I am not against stuff in principle, but I do realize that stuff can become a stumbling block to real freedom. Sometimes our possessions take on an importance that begins to dictate how we act or how we give of ourselves to God and others. An everyday steward seeks detachment from things of this world that will one day pass away. Things that we possess should be seen as pathways into experiences that glorify God, whether they allow us to serve others, enrich our lives lived daily for God, or even help make leisure and recreation time resting in God's presence easier. But the simpler the life, the fewer distractions there are from focusing on those we love and our relationship with God. And besides, do you really think a monthly payment to house stuff you don't really need is the best stewardship way of life?

22nd SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Question:

Why does Mary have so many feast days and names?

Answer:

Christians first began celebrating feast days in honor of Mary, the Mother of Jesus, in the fifth century. That celebration (originally called the Feast of the Dormition and now known by Roman Catholics as the Solemnity of the Assumption) was celebrated on August 15. Very soon, however, other special days dedicated to Mary began to appear in Jerusalem, Rome, and other major cities of the Christian world. These days of feasting became important parts of the life of the community. But, more importantly, each of these unique celebrations became an opportunity to focus on a different facet of the Christian faith, as believers focused their attention on specific events or mysteries of the lives of Mary and her Son.

Over the centuries, some of these celebrations became universal (such as the Assumption on August 15, the Immaculate Conception on December 8, and the Solemnity of Mary, Mother of God on January 1). Other celebrations were more closely tied to certain religious orders (such as the Carmelites celebration of "Our Lady of Mount Carmel" on July 16 or the Servite Friars feast of the "Seven Sorrows of Mary," which is now celebrated as the Memorial of Our Lady of Sorrows on September 15).

In more recent times, Marian apparitions (like Guadalupe, Lourdes, and Fatima) have inspired special liturgical celebrations. Pope Francis has added two new celebrations of Mary to the Church's calendar: The Memorial of Mary, Mother of the Church (on the Monday after Pentecost) and the Commemoration of Our Lady of Loreto (on December 10). The various titles of Mary (like those we find in the Litany of the Blessed Virgin Mary) help us to reflect on different aspects of Mary's faith and the ways that the Holy Spirit is at work in her and through her, especially as the Mother of Jesus.

In the end, whatever the event or mystery being celebrated in a particular liturgy or the title of Mary being used, we are invited to always see Mary in connection with the saving work of her Son. She is, of course, a patroness and protector for every Christian, but she is also a model of discipleship and contemplation: "Having entered deeply into the history of salvation, Mary, in a way, unites in her person and re-echoes the most important doctrines of the faith: and when she is the subject of preaching and worship she prompts the faithful to come to her Son, to his sacrifice and to the love of the Father" (Lumen Gentium, 65). ©LPi

The Real Presence

EUCCHARISTIC MIRACLES AND THE SAINTS

History testifies to the fact that during the persecutions that occurred in the early days of the Church, many martyrs died attesting their allegiance to the Faith and their belief in the Holy Eucharist. The inscriptions and artwork that adorn their tombs in the catacombs clearly indicate this. What may have been the Church's first Eucharistic miracle occurred during the time when Mass was celebrated secretly. This Eucharistic miracle involved a young Roman acolyte named Tarsicius who lived during the third century persecution by the Emperor Valerian. The leaders of the Church were so impressed with Tarsicius' fidelity and courage that they entrusted him with carrying the Blessed Sacrament to the Christians in prison who were awaiting martyrdom. Because adult men were often under suspicion of being priests, the custom was initiated of allowing young men too young to be priests to perform this service of consolation to the condemned. This was done with the utmost secrecy, since the discovery of their mission would result in imprisonment or death. The history of St. Tarsicius relates that unbelievers met him one day while he was carrying the Blessed Sacrament. For reasons not stated, Tarsicius had come under suspicion; it can be speculated that it was his reverential demeanor which aroused the Pagan's interest. When they inquired about where he was going, he refused to speak. In anger, they beat him to death with clubs and stones. Afterward when they turned his body over, they could find no trace of the Eucharist in his hands or in his clothing. Devout Christians claimed the body of the young martyr and buried it in the cemetery of St. Callistus. It appears that for a time, his relics were kept in the tomb of Pope Zephyrinus - this fact being deduced from evidence of a devotion to Tarsicius which existed there. St. Tarsicius' relics are now rumored to be in the chair of San Silvestro in Capite, Rome. The altar of the fresco-painted crypt of this church was built to receive the body of the saint, but his bones have not been found there. The earliest and most positive information concerning this young martyr is found in a poem composed by Pope Damasus (366-384) in which the details of his martyrdom are given. In this poem, the pontiff compared Tarsicius to the protomartyr Stephen, who was also stoned to death for his faith and ministry to the Church. (Acts 7:57-60).

75th Year Queen of Martyrs

“Father Kennedy said the convent will cost about $125,000 and that the minimum needed is $85,000.” Stating that the parish debt at the time was $206,000, Father Kennedy evaluated the parish income and realized it would be “utterly impossible to build a convent or make any parish improvements without a major fund-raising appeal”

The current living quarters of the nuns was on the third floor of the school building. “Construction of the convent will make a classroom and meeting room available for school use.”

Fundraising for the new Convent continued. By May 1957, the Convent plans were becoming a reality. The two and a half floor building would accommodate 10 sisters, a chapel, recreation area, utility, kitchen and dininConvent slated-

Convent Slated In Northridge

A convent for the Sisters of Mercy who teach in Queen of Martyrs elementary school will be constructed on the Northridge parish property, Father Richard Kennedy said Saturday.

The proposed building will provide accommodations for 10 sisters. In addition to living quarters, there will be a chapel and recreation, kitchen, dining and utility facilities.

Construction plans call for a two-and-a-half story building of cement block, with buff-brick facing and limestone trim to harmonize with the present combination church-school.

The six teachers now teaching at Queen of Martyrs live in two rooms above the school. The new convent will release a classroom and a meeting room for school use.
