Pope Leo XIV views the Church, in all its members, as increasingly called to be “a missionary Church that opens its arms to the world , proclaims the word...and becomes a leaven of harmony for humanity.”

The goal is to bring to all peoples the Gospel promise of true and lasting peace, which is possible because Christ has overcome the world.

He stresses the urgency of fostering a spirit of missionary discipleship in all the baptized.

We see evangelization as the core activity of the life of the Church. In The Joy of the Gospel, Pope Francis says: "I dream of a 'missionary option,' that is, a missionary impulse capable of transforming everything, so that the Church's customs, ways of doing things, times & schedules, language and structures can be suitably channeled for the evangelization of today's world rather than for her self-preservation. Pope Francis challenged us to go beyond ourselves, & Pope Leo is just as challenging.
