Lord God, we sometimes put the words "I have decided to follow Jesus, no turning back" on our lips. When I am tempted to turn back, remind me of the blessings I have gained by following you, Lord. Then fill me with an even greater determination to live under the guidance of your Holy Spirit each and every day.

A Prayer for the Fourth

Loving God, we thank you — the true Father of our country — for the blessings of this land and the gifts of cultures around the world. Prompt us to strive for justice for all, at home and abroad. Remind us, in the words of the hymn, that “this is our Father's world” and that your goodness prevails. Amid tragedies and conflicts, guard us against despair. Help us focus on the kindness evident daily: from generous neighbors to conscientious public servants (because most are). On Independence Day and every day, “O let [us] ne’er forget that though the wrong seems oft so strong, God is the Ruler yet.” Amen. —Sandy Hyland

Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Reflecting on the Word

When I entered religious life at eighteen, my grandfather refused to say goodbye. He did not want me to leave him and move to another city. That was painful for both of us. Even though we would see each other in a few months, my leaving him and moving away was a challenge to him and to our relationship. When I left the community to do some growing up, I moved back home. Still, my music ministry did not allow me to be as present to him as he wanted. A commitment to following Jesus, in whatever way of life, has its costs.

Jesus resolutely determined to go to Jerusalem, the place where he would face rejection. That resolution ultimately cost him his life. Going through Samaria he experienced rejection, a foretaste of that ultimate rejection. When James and John sought revenge on the Samaritans, the cost was rebuke by Jesus. The way of Jesus is not about revenge. God's call to Elisha cost him his former way of life. And Paul's challenging the Jewish Christians to treat the Gentile Christians differently cost them their understanding of the Law. The freedom of living by the Spirit has its costs.

Following Jesus can cost us, especially when it calls us to live in ways different from our family, friends, co-workers, government, and even other members of the Church. Our pro-life stance can seem unrealistic. Our call to respect the dignity of all people, including those some would rather exclude, can seem lax and too open. The biblical justice Jesus taught differs greatly from an “eye for an eye” or “equal share of the pie” mentality. What does resolutely determining to journey with Jesus cost you

Perfect order

By the time the summer solstice occurs, it feels as if the season has been in full swing for weeks. It's bittersweet that just when summer officially starts, the length of daylight begins decreasing. Before we're ready to let go of the season, summer marches toward fall, and then winter with the year's shortest day.

Yet that is our Creator's plan: "You have fixed all the boundaries of the earth; you have made summer and winter" (Psalm 74:17). God fashioned the world to be beautiful, good and perfectly symmetrical. With concise order, he ordained seasons, rhythms, orbits and natural boundaries. As God's beloved children, we're blessed to enjoy the intricacies and patterns of this magnificent universe.
