

From the Principal

And now, the end is near, and so we face the final curtain....

As we roll into the last week of school, it is crazy to reflect on how fast the year has gone. I remember being a kid and each day dragging on. I would often be with my nana and comment on how long each day was. She would say, "Wait until you get to my age, then each day flies by." Perspective is a crazy thing. Each of us takes on each day, yet our experiences and how we see the world can be so different.

From my perspective, I think this was a good year. The school had to work through what the new principal would do (that guy 😊) and eight new teachers who had to find their way and learn what it means to be a Bernardian. I am very proud and grateful for where the school is today. I am even more excited to continue improving next year.

This week, the juniors will be giving their final internship presentations to faculty, staff, intern hosts, and their families. Meanwhile, the freshmen and sophomores will be taking their finals starting on Tuesday.

Thank you for your support, encouragement, and help this year. Without the support of everyone (families, faculty, staff, alumni, board, friends, and the community), this job would be impossible. The thing I've learned about this position is that it really is a group effort that supports, helps, and guides me at times. I couldn't have done it without all of you. I know we will continue to grow and be better together, and I look forward to next year, all the exciting things planned, and the fun we will have.

I wish you all a restful summer with lots of fun and sleep (for all my teenagers). Make sure you do your summer reading. See you all soon.

God Bless STB
