A Message from Fr. Matt

©LPI

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

One of the things that surprises my brother priests, especially those who grew up in Pittsburgh and have mostly been assigned to churches in Allegheny County, is how many of the kids in our area hunt, and how young they are when they start. This was a surprise to me as well when I first got up here, but now I know and understand it as a great part of our culture. A few years ago, one of my priest friends was at Mass with me at our school and I asked the kids, since it was buck season, if anyone had gotten a buck yet. A bunch of hands went up. I didn't think much of it, but he was amazed. I saw him at big diocesan event later on in the year and he was telling everyone about all of these little kids and their bucks! When you're not from here, you just don't understand! This year, one of our young guys, Gunner, was telling me about a deer that he missed during archery season. He was so funny. He had an easy shot, took dead aim, and missed! Guess whose fault it was that he missed? His dad's! His dad had given him an arrow with bad fletching! I didn't know what fletching was when Gunner said it. I have come to learn that fletching is the feathers or material at the end of the arrow and makes it stable and aerodynamic. Now to be honest, Gunner and his dad don't really agree about this situation. But Gunner is pretty sure!

"Repent and believe in the Gospel." These are words that we have heard many times. You may even have heard some version of them on Ash Wednesday as you were marked with ashes. Sometimes when we hear something so often, we get used to it and it loses a little bit of its meaning. This phrase is not one of those that we should let that happen with. So, what does it mean?

The word "repent", believe it or not, has its roots in archery. It means to change where you are aiming. The Greek word metanoia, which we have talked about before, is similar, but repent has a more physical, bodily sense to it. It isn't just about changing your mind. It is about looking at where you are aiming and physically adjusting your aim so that it is on Jesus. Repent also has a very singular sense to it. It is about you looking at you. Not you looking at others. We are all pretty good at seeing the mis-aims of others. Lent isn't about that. Dad may have handed you an arrow with bad fletching but this is the time to look at what you have done, how you have aimed, and how you could do it better!

"Believe" is the other big word in Jesus' message today. We are called to believe in what God said to Noah in the First Reading from the Book of Genesis; God has made a covenant with all living creatures that He will not forget. We are called to believe what St. Paul tells us in the Second Reading; Through the waters of Baptism, we are cleansed and made a part of Jesus who saves us. What does it mean to believe?

Believing, like repenting, has more of a physical and personal side to it than we think. What we are called to here is not just intellectual belief. It is not enough to say that it makes sense or is rational. It is not enough just to believe with our minds. Believing means living it out. It means living and acting and making decisions based on what you say that you believe. It is almost like putting on glasses so that you see everything through the lens of what you believe. Can you see everything, make every decision, no matter how big or small, through the lens of one who is loved and saved by God? That is what it means to believe.

So, we begin this Lent with a challenge. Repent and believe. Don't pass by those words as old hat. Remember what they mean. Change your aim where you need to. Let your belief in the Gospel impact how you see and decide everything. Repent and believe.

Peace and Love,
Fr. Matt

Lenten Baby Bottle “Change a Life” Drive

This year’s Drive will benefit Little Lamb Resale.

At Little Lamb, the answer to a crisis pregnancy is to eliminate the crisis & celebrate Mom & Baby.

They sell adorable thrift clothing (Maternity & Birth– 2T) in a boutique setting in the city. But shop volunteers do so much more! They connect moms in need to life affirming organizations that support parenting with free resources.

LLR is a Project of the National Women's Coalition for Life, a Tax- Exempt 501(c) 3 Private Foundation. Due to the steep rent, LLR is in need of donations so that they can continue to minister to the needs of families and be a home-base for pro-life efforts in the heart of the city.

Please grab a bottle in your church entrance and fill it with coins, cash or a check payable to National Women's Coalition for Life. Give online at www.tinyurl.com/Lambspgh. Thank you for helping to “Change a Life” by supporting this Drive!

Choir rehearsals are every Wednesday, at 7:00 pm at St. Wendelin. Please come and learn some new music and sing some old classic favorites as we prepare for the Easter Season and more. We hope you can join us! We are also looking for instrumentalists of all kinds to enhance our music and worship team! Please contact Steve Dunn for more information!

Join us for dinner from the Nature of Fire food truck and a talk by Dave VanVickle - all are welcome & everything is free!

Presented by St. Clare & St. Francis Parishes with Nature of Fire

Congratulations to St. Clare parishioners Montana Geibel and Kobe Ball for achieving Highest Honors (4.0 +) on the St. Joseph High School Honor Roll.

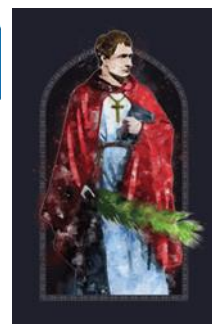

DID YOU KNOW?

Who was St. Valentine?

He was either a Roman priest or a bishop in central Italy who was martyred in the 3rd century. His remains are buried along the Via Flaminia in Rome.

History is not sure whether there is a connection between St. Valentine and romantic love. His very status as a martyr makes him a great patron for love.

In the Middle Ages, it was said that birds began to pair on St. Valentine's Day, lovers exchanged letters and tokens of affection on this day. This can be found in literature from 14th- and 15th-century France and England.

St. Clare continues to collect nonperishable food items for the Petroleum Valley Food Cupboard. Boxes are located in the back of each church for donations. Thank you for your support!
