Dear parishioners,

Have you begun your spring cleaning? With weather getting warmer and covid restrictions beginning to loosen, it's that lovely time of year to face the dreaded closets, tool sheds, garages, junk drawers, etc. – any of those places that tend to accumulate the 'stuff' of life. The effort required to go through everything is, at times, nothing short of heroic – however the reward is ever so satisfying.

Have you ever seen the connections between our physical lives and our interior lives? As the annual spring cleaning ritual is one that most of us do instinctively to our homes, so also there is something inside us that wants to be purified, cleansed, and made right. Enter here the sacrament of reconciliation. Can I invite you to consider a real good examination of your conscience and a good 'spring cleaning' for your soul?

Listed are a few links to some good examinations of conscience. Find the one that you can spend some time with in prayer, talking opening with our Lord Jesus about where you've been struggling. He is our salvation and the healer of our souls. So often we do not experience the interior freedom that God desires for us simply because we don't allow Him to minister to our hearts in the confessional.

The word reconciliation literally means: "re" (again) – "con" (with) – "cilia" (eyelash). Essentiality, it means to restore to union or friendship, but etymologically, it means coming together again with someone, 'eyelash to eyelash' – a return to intimacy with God and His Church. In nearly 15 years of priestly ministry, I haven't met a ton of people who love going to confession. However, I haven't met a single one who haven't loved having gone to confession! If it's been awhile, even if it's been a looong while – be not afraid. The Sacrament of Reconciliation is offered Saturdays before the vigil Mass, during our May Devotions, or anytime by appointment. Happy Spring Cleaning...and may God bless you!

With Mary,

In Christ,

Fr. Jon

FOR THE DIOCESE OF BURLINGTON

Immigration issues force major clergy, parish realignments

Significant clergy and parish realignments within the Roman Catholic Diocese of Burlington were announced this past weekend in a number of communities as a result of changes to U.S. immigration policies and processes. Four international priests, 3 from the Philippines and 1 from Nigeria, who were legally in the U.S. on religious worker visas, will be returning to their countries as their visas will expire before any application for green card status can be completed. Along with normal retirements and transfers, this means the Diocese will be losing six active priests come this July.

“The immigration complication was completely unexpected. The first stage of the green card process which used to take three to four months to complete now takes 17-18 months or longer,” said Bishop Christopher J. Coyne. “My staff began the process for the green cards in what we understood to be a timely fashion only to discover that we were at least a year too late for the priests to be able to stay. Even though these priests want to stay with their parishes here in Vermont, they must go home now so that they can return to Vermont in 12 months.”

As a result, some parishes will be without a resident priest — including parishes in the Champlain Islands, West Rutland, Proctor, Troy and Putney — for at least the next year. In order to provide coverage for the other parishes in the Diocese, a significant number of priests have been transferred to new assignments and duties. “I’ve tried to do everything I can to make sure that as many parishes and churches will continue to have pastors to care for them and I think we will be OK,” he said. “I know it will be difficult for a while for those ‘priest-less’ parishes, but we will try and provide as much coverage as possible for Sunday Mass and the sacraments.”

Parishes that will be temporarily without a resident priest:

- Our Lady of Mercy, Putney
- St. Andre Bessette, Troy
- Our Lady of the Lake, Grand Isle County
- St. Stanislaus Kostka and St. Bridget parishes, West Rutland
- St. Dominic Parish, Proctor

Parishes and chapels with clergy transfers:

Deacon Armand Auclair, temporary administrator of Our Lady of the Lake Parish, South Hero (effective May 1, 2021).

The Reverend Brendan Murphy, OP, administrator of Immaculate Heart of Mary Parish, Williston, and Our Lady of the Holy Rosary Parish, Richmond (effective June 15, 2021).

The Reverend Richard Calapan, administrator of St. Thomas Parish, Underhill Center, and Assumption of Mary Parish, Cambridge (effective July 1, 2021).
