Seventh Sunday of Easter

We may worry when we see change on the horizon...perhaps a new job is taking us to a new town, and our whole family will be uprooted. This kind of change requires letting go of what is familiar and comfortable. But if we can't let go, we won't be able to experience the new, good things God wants to give to us. The words of the angels are helpful when we are in this situation: no matter what lies ahead, Jesus will be with us.

Let us pray: Beckon us closer to you, Almighty God, so we may have the strength to welcome the new gifts you offer us.

In faith, and in His peace.
Dcn. Ward

Ascension of The Lord
Year A

WHY DO WE CLIMB MOUN- TAINS?

BECAUSE THEY ARE THERE!

Mountains are symbols of "aboveness" and offer us a lovely metaphor for raising our gaze to higher things. In the course of our readings today, on this Feast of the Ascension, we are invited to make the shift from seeing Jesus as Man to seeing Jesus as Lord – to move from Jesus to Christ. Christ is the cosmic Jesus, Lord of all creation, present since the foundation of the world. Only such a Christ can dare to use superlatives as in the Gospel today; all authority; go to all the nations; all the commands; I am with you always.
Acts will speak of being Christ's witnesses to the ends of the earth.
Ephesians will set Christ above every Sovereignty, Authority, Power, Dominion for all ages. Such a cosmic universality lifts our minds to realities we may never have dreamed of before. The role of the Spirit who is to come, will be to make such dreams come true. Notice that the word used for the Holy Spirit is the word power. Because of the abuses we see all around us in our world today, we are inclined to think that power is bad. Not so. May God enlighten the eyes of our mind to see how infinitely great is the power that he has exercised for us believers.

NEWS FROM The Inland See

May 20–26, 2023

FOR THE DIOCESE OF BURLINGTON

Today's Theme for the Mass is...

When I served on my parish's worship committee some 20 years ago, I remember conversations around developing a "theme" for a special Mass being celebrated to observe the anniversary of the parish's founding. The theme would dictate the music selected, the readings, the environment, and even the food served at the reception afterward. Today, I can't remember the "theme" that was settled on or really anything about the Mass, but I do remember we had a barbecue after Mass.

Perhaps you may remember similar "themed" Masses — for better or for worse. But is coming up with a theme for Mass ever necessary? It turns out that in coming up with different themes for the Mass, the worship committee was just creating more work for itself.

It turns out that there is a theme for any celebration of Mass, and it is always the same. This theme is the Paschal Mystery of Christ: the life, Passion, Death, Resurrection, and Ascension. In the Mass, those events are brought into the present time, and the main consequence of those events — Jesus offering Himself to God the Father — is also made present within the celebration. Within the Mass, we are called to be active participants — we are called to partake in the very work of the Paschal Mystery by joining our prayer and worship to the prayer and worship that Jesus offers to God the Father.

If you think about it, focusing on the entire Paschal Mystery at every single Mass is asking a bit much — Mass would last the better part of an entire day if we were to give due consideration to the life, and the Passion, and the Death, and the Resurrection, and the Ascension of Christ. To help us narrow the focus, the Church gives us the liturgical calendar and the lectionary of Scripture readings. Both help order our celebration of the Mass so that we focus on a particular aspect of the Paschal Mystery — or how the Church lives out the continuing work of the Paschal Mystery through the lives of the saints — at a particular Mass, so that the entirety of the Paschal Mystery is considered over the course of the year.

Advent, Christmas Day, and the Christmas Season can be thought as the Incarnation Cycle of the liturgical year, with the focus on the Incarnation and the beginning of Jesus's time as a human person whereas Lent, the Triduum, and the Easter Season can be thought of as the Paschal Cycle of the year where the Church focuses on the Passion, Death, Resurrection, and Ascension of Jesus. Throughout the course of Ordinary Time, we hear different stories from Jesus's life or commemorate various aspects of His ministry or identity — such as Christ the King. And in the celebrations of the Blessed Virgin Mary and of the saints, we celebrate how they lived in the light of the Paschal Mystery, obtaining and living in the graces that God gave them in life through Jesus Christ.

So, if you are ever asked to develop a theme for Mass, know that the work has already been done for you! Mass is an encounter with Jesus Christ; the theme is the work of Jesus in the Paschal Mystery, explored throughout the year as guided by the liturgical calendar and lectionary readings. As to the food that's served after Mass? Well, now, that's a decision for the planning committee!
