Valentine's Day, February 14, 2023

Claudius II was the emperor of Rome only for a short period, from 268 to 270. However, during this period, he was involved in a couple of bloody campaigns which were very unpopular. And he had a difficult time recruiting soldiers because the young men of Rome wanted to stay with their families. Hence, he banned all marriages hoping that more young men would be encouraged to join his army.

When marriage became illegal under the Roman Law, a priest named Valentine continued to marry couples secretly. But he was caught and condemned to death. While he was in prison waiting for his execution, the prison guard's daughter used to visit him to keep his spirits up. He could not meet with his friend on the day he was executed. So he left a message thanking her for her friendship and signing it, 'love from your Valentine.'

The Valentine's Day tradition of writing letters supposedly started from this incident. Today, however, it has become associated with romantic love, though it was never mentioned in the early histories of Valentine.

The early martyrologies gave the name of Valentine the priest as well as the name of a Valentine, who was a bishop. The bishop also is believed to have suffered martyrdom in the 3rd century. But it is Valentine the priest who is now associated with Valentine's Day. Since devotion to St. Valentine was popular, Pope Gelasius I declared February 14 to be his feast day in 496.

But the name of St. Valentine is no more in the official calendar of saints. In 1969, with the names of many other saints, his name was removed from the calendar because of the lack of sufficient historical records. Even though his name is officially out of the calendar, he is still respected by many as the patron saint of lovers.

The name of St. Valentine will be remembered as long as love and friendship remain in people's hearts.

Funny Stories

Bloopers that gnash the teeth: During his homily, a priest in a Scottsdale, AZ, church was discussing the folly of making the pursuit of happiness more important than God in one's life. "When we pursue happiness as an end in itself, we are committing adultery... I mean idolatry," the priest said. There was a deafening silence, and then the entire congregation exploded with laughter. – Joyful Noiseletter

Bless my ex-sister: Two sisters spent the day fighting. That evening they prepared for bed, still mad at each other. As usual, each knelt by the side of her bed for their prayers. "Dear God," the 8-year-old began, "Bless Daddy and Mommy, bless our cat and dog." Then she stopped. Her mother gently prodded, "Didn't you forget somebody?" She glared across the bed at her 6-year-old sister and added, "And, oh yes, God, bless my ex-sister." [Pulpit Resource (Jan-Mar 1992), p. 14.] – via Fr. Tony

You win the war: My wife and I have a rule. We don't fight on Saturday nights. Do you know why? Because I have to preach on Sunday morning. Now I don't want you to get the idea that we fight the other six nights of the week. Quite frankly, I gave her an unconditional surrender several years ago. Husbands, let me teach you a lesson that will save you a lot of grief. When it comes to your wife, if you lose the battle, you win the war (Rev. Curtis Fussell). – via Fr. Tony

San Valentín, 14 de Febrero de 2023

Claudio II fue el emperador de Roma solo por un corto período, del 268 al 270. Sin embargo, durante este período, estuvo involucrado en un par de campañas sangrientas que fueron muy impopulares. Y tuvo dificultades para reclutar soldados porque los jóvenes de Roma querían quedarse con sus familias. Por lo tanto, prohibió todos los matrimonios con la esperanza de que más jóvenes se animaran a unirse a su ejército.

Cuando el matrimonio se volvió ilegal bajo la Ley Romana, un Sacerdote llamado Valentine continuó casando parejas en secreto. Pero fue capturado y condenado a muerte. Mientras estaba en prisión esperando su ejecución, la hija del guardia de la prisión solía visitarlo para mantenerlo animado. No pudo reunirse con su amigo el día que fue ejecutado. Así que dejó un mensaje agradeciéndole su amistad y firmándolo, 'con amor de tu Valentín'.

La tradición del Día de San Valentín de escribir cartas supuestamente comenzó a partir de este incidente. Hoy, sin embargo, se ha asociado con el amor romántico, aunque nunca se menciona en las primeras historias de Valentine.

Los primeros Martirologios dieron el nombre de Valentín, el Sacerdote, así como el nombre de Valentín, que era Obispo. También se cree que el Obispo sufrió el martirio en el siglo III. Pero es Valentine, el Sacerdote, quien ahora está asociado con el Día de San Valentín. Dado que la devoción a San Valentín era popular, el Papa Gelasio I declaró el 14 de Febrero como su fiesta en el año 496.

Pero el nombre de San Valentín ya no está en el calendario oficial de los santos. En 1969, junto con los nombres de muchos otros santos, su nombre fue eliminado del calendario por falta de registros históricos suficientes. A pesar de que su nombre está oficialmente fuera del calendario, todavía es respetado por muchos como el santo patrón de los amantes.

El nombre de San Valentín será recordado mientras el amor y la amistad permanezcan en el corazón de las personas.

Bendice a mi ex-hermana: Dos hermanas pasaron el día peleando. Esa noche se prepararon para ir a la cama, aún enojadas la una con la otra. Como de costumbre, cada una se arrodilló al lado de su cama para sus Oraciones. "Querido Dios", comenzó la niña de 8 años, "Bendice a papá y mamá, bendice a nuestro gato y perro". Entonces se detuvo. Su madre la empujó suavemente: "¿No te olvidaste de alguien?" Miró al otro lado de la cama a su hermana de 6 años y agregó: "Y, oh sí, Dios, bendice a mi ex-hermana".

começou com este incidente. No entanto, hoje torna-se associado ao amor romântico de namorados, embora nunca tenha sido mencionado nas primeiras histórias de Valentim.

Os primeiros martírios deram o nome de Valentim ao padre, bem como o nome de Valentim, que era um bispo. Acredita-se também que o bispo tenha sido martirizado no século III. Mas é Valentim, o padre que está agora associado ao Dia dos Namorados. Como a devoção a São Valentim era popular, o Papa Gelásius I declarou 14 de Fevereiro como o seu dia de festa no ano 496.

Mas o nome de São Valentim já não está no calendário oficial dos Santos. Em 1969, com os nomes de muitos outros santos, o seu nome foi retirado do calendário devido à falta de registos históricos. Apesar do seu nome estar oficialmente fora do calendário, ele ainda é respeitado por muitos como o santo padroeiro dos amantes.

Anekdotes

Abençoa a minha ex-irmã: Duas irmãs passaram o dia a guerrear uma com a outra. Naquela noite, preparavam-se para dormir, ainda zangadas. Como sempre, cada uma ajoelhou-se ao lado da cama para as suas orações. "Querido Deus," a de 8 anos começou: "Abençoa o papá e a mamã, abençoa o nosso gato e o nosso cão." Depois parou. A mãe dela gentilmente perguntou: "Não te esqueste de alguém?" Ela olhou para o outro lado da cama para a irmã de 6 anos e acrescentou: "E, Deus, abençoe a minha ex-irmã." Tu ganhas a guerra: eu e a minha mulher temos uma regra. Não lutamos aos Sábados à noite. Sabe porquê? Porque tenho que pregar no Domingo de manhã. Não quero que fiques com a ideia de que lutamos nas outras seis noites da semana. Francamente, dei-lhe uma rendição incondicional há vários anos. Maridos, deixem-me ensinar-vos uma lição que vos poupará muito sofrimento. Quando se trata da tua mulher, se perderes a batalha, ganhas a guerra (Rev. Curtis Fussell). – via Fr. Tony

Sunday Readings Explained- 187- Fr. Tony Kadavil

Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time, Sirach 15:15-20, I Corinthians 2:6-10, Mathew 5:17-37

Forgive, Forget, and Move Toward Reconciliation

Introduction

Today's readings challenge us to choose freely and wisely in order to observe the laws given us by a loving and caring God. God revealed His laws through Moses and the prophets in the Old Testament and through His own Son, Jesus, in the New Testament. For the Israelites, the Torah was not a set of laws, but the instructions or teachings intended to promote the holiness and wholeness of each believer. It was the revealed will of a caring God for His Chosen People, those with whom He had made His covenant. The first reading, from Sirach, contains the clearest statement in the Old Testament concerning the God-given freedom of the human will and exonerating God from all responsibility for evil in the world. "If you choose, you can keep the commandments . . . before you are life and death, whichever you choose shall be given you."

In the second reading, Paul challenges his Corinthian believers to appreciate the wisdom of God's saving plan for His people, a plan hidden for ages but now revealed by the Spirit. In today's Gospel, while challenging his disciples to live a life of justice and righteousness which would exceed that of the scribes and Pharisees, Jesus sets forth his own position with regard to the Law given through Moses by providing a new interpretation and meaning for the old laws. Jesus shows us how to go to the root of the commandments about murder, adultery, divorce, taking foolish oaths, retaliation against, and love of, neighbor.

First Reading, Sirach 15:15-20

The book of Sirach, one of the seven "Deuterocanonical" books, was written very late in Old Testament times. The author lived in a cosmopolitan, mostly pagan, community that did not support his religious values. Hence, his book was intended for Diaspora, Jews who were exposed to the pervasive influence of a Hellenistic culture which believed that humans were helpless pawns in the hands of the gods. He asserted that there should be no compromise with the prevailing culture when it came to keeping God's law. God never forces us to do good or evil. It is our free choice to obey or disobey God's laws, and we are responsible for the serious consequences of our choices. This is the clearest statement in all of the canonical and deuterocanonical OT writings on the subject of human free will. This reading and the Gospel lend solemnity and authority to each other. The Responsorial Psalm (Ps 119), declares, "Blessed are they who observe His decrees, who seek Him with all their heart" (v 2)

Second Reading, 1 Corinthians 2:6-10

Paul here contrasts the wisdom of the prevailing Greek culture with the wisdom of God, advising Christians to seek true wisdom in God's revelation instead of indulging in endless discussions of Greek philosophy. God in His wisdom has saved us through Jesus and prepared for those love Him, "What eye has not seen, and ear has not heard and what has not entered the human heart."

Gospel Reading, Mathew 5:17-37

Jesus came to give the Torah its full meaning: In Jesus' time, the Law was understood differently by different groups of the Jews to be 1) The Ten Commandments, 2) The Pentateuch, 3) The Law and the Prophets, or 4) The oral (Scribal) and the written Law. The Jews believed that the Torah (Law given through Moses), was the eternal and unchangeable Self-revelation of God. (According to a 3rd century rabbi, Moses gave 365 prohibitions and 248 positive commands. David reduced them to 11 in Psalm 15. Isaiah made them 6 (Isaiah 33:14, 15). Micah 6:8 binds them into 3 commands. Habakkuk reduces them all to one great statement: "The just shall live by Faith.")

Jesus, and later Paul, considered the oral Law as interpreted by the scribes a heavy burden on the people and criticized it, while honoring the Mosaic Law and the teachings of the prophets. Today's Gospel passage, from Jesus' "Sermon on the Mount," presents Jesus as giving the highest compliments to the Mosaic Law, although he himself would be condemned later and crucified as a Lawbreaker. Jesus says that, as the word of God, the Old Testament has a Divine authority and deserves total respect. Its moral precepts are to be respected because they are, for the most part, specific, Divine-positive promulgations of the natural law.

For the Scribes and the Pharisees, the external fulfillment of the precepts of the Mosaic Law was a guarantee of a person's salvation. Jesus rejects this view in today's Gospel passage, taken from the "Sermon on the Mount." For Jesus, justification, or sanctification, is a grace from God. Man's role is one of cooperating with that grace by being faithful to it. Jesus then outlines the new moral standards for his disciples. In today's Gospel, Jesus says that he did not come to destroy the Torah but to bring it to perfection by bringing out its inner meaning, because Jesus Himself is the ultimate Self-revelation of God, the Lawgiver. Jesus also explains the real meaning of three Mosaic laws concerning murder, adultery and false oaths.

Jesus' teaching on sexual sins: In his Sermon on the Mount, Jesus outlines a new moral code for his followers, which is different from the Mosaic moral code. Jesus insists that adultery, the violation of the sixth commandment, is also committed through willfully generated evil and impure thoughts and desires which are willingly sustained in the mind. Our hands become agents of sin according to what we touch and how we touch, in lust or greed or violence. Our eyes become agents of sins according to what they look at. When Jesus recommends mutilation of eyes and hands, he is not speaking literally, because we have more sins than we have body-parts.

Besides, even if all offending parts were removed, our minds -- the source of all sins -- would still be intact, causing us to sin by thoughts and desires. So, Jesus teaches us that, just as a doctor might remove a limb or some part of the body, like an infected gall bladder, inflamed appendix, etc., in order to preserve the life of the whole body, so we must be ready to part with anything that causes us to commit grave sin or which leads to spiritual death.

Hence, these warnings are actually about our attitudes, dispositions, and inclinations. Jesus recommends that our hands become agents of compassion, healing and comfort and that our eyes learn to see the truth, goodness and beauty around us.

Jesus' clear teaching on divorce: According to Matthew's version, adultery is the only ground for sanctioning divorce. Based on the NT teachings given in Mk 10:1-12, Mt. 5:31-32; Mt. 19:3-9; Lk 16:18; and 1 Cor 7:10-11, the Catholic Church teaches that marriage is a sacrament involving both a sacred and legal contract between a man and a woman and, at the same time, is a special covenant with the Lord.

"Divorce is also a grave offense against the natural law. Besides, it claims to break the contract, to which the spouses freely consented, to live with each other till death Divorce is immoral also because it introduces disorder into the family and into society" (CCC # 2384, 2385).

We are to be men and women of integrity and character: According to the teachings of the Jewish rabbis, the world stands fast on truth, justice and peace; hence, liars, slanderers, scoffers and hypocrites will not enter Heaven. The rabbis classified two types of oaths as offensive to God: 1) frivolous oaths using God's name to support a false statement, because this violates the second commandment and 2) evasive oaths using words like Heaven, Jerusalem, or my head, because God is everywhere, and He owns everything. Jesus interprets the Mosaic Law on oaths to mean that we should be righteous men and women of integrity and character. If one is honest in one's words and deeds, there is no need for one to support one's statements and transactions with oaths or swearing. How forceful are honest words! (Jb 6:25).

An oath is a solemn invocation of God (So help me, God!) to bear witness to the truth of what one asserts to be the case or to the sincerity of one's undertakings in regard to future actions. It is necessary and admissible to ask God's help in the discharge of an important social duty (e.g., President's oath of office), or while bearing witness in a court of law ("I will tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth ... "So, help me, God."). Jesus teaches, "Say yes when you mean yes and say no when you mean no" (Mt 5:37). That is, he invites us to live in truth in every instance and to conform our thinking, our words, and our deeds to the truth.

Life Messages

1. We need to obey God's Law, appreciating its basic principles: In obeying God's law and Church law, let us remember the two basic principles on which these laws are based, namely, the principle of reverence and the principle of respect. In the first four of the Ten Commandments we are asked to reverence God, His holy Name and His holy Day and to reverence our father and mother.

The next six commandments instruct us to respect life, one's personal integrity and good name, the legal system, another's property and another's spouse. Our obedience to the laws must be prompted by our love for God and our gratitude to God for His blessings.

2. We need to forgive, forget, and move toward reconciliation as soon as possible. St. Paul advises us "Be angry (righteous anger) but do not sin" (Eph 4:26). When we keep anger in our spirit, we are inviting physical illnesses, like hypertension, and mental illnesses, like depression. Let us relax and keep silence when we are angry, wait before acting on our anger, give it time to detoxify and cool off, pray for God's strength for self-control, and give the Holy Spirit time to help us see the event through Jesus' eyes instead of through anger's eyes.

3. We need to be true to God, to ourselves and to others. Let us allow God's word of truth to penetrate our minds and hearts and to form our consciences, making us men and women of integrity.

Stewardship Reflections

Today's readings challenge us to reflect on the true state of our hearts as it relates to stewardship. Do we think of stewardship as something we take care of once a year, simply a matter of ticking off boxes on a commitment card — or do we choose to embrace it as a spirituality and way of life that allows us to grow in conformity to Christ every day?

Our first reading, from the book of Sirach, teaches that our good God has given us freedom to make this choice — "Before man are life and death, good and evil, whichever he chooses shall be given him."

The concept of stewardship helps us to live out the fundamental choice to put God first. Stewardship is not meant to be a mere external exercise that we participate in on an occasional basis. It is meant to be embraced as a way of life a life that involves a continuous conversion of heart.

In our Gospel passage from Matthew, Jesus illustrates the difference between an external observance of the law and a true conversion of heart, saying, "You have heard that it was said... you shall not kill... But I say to you, whoever is angry with his brother will be liable to judgment." Our Lord is asking us not only for exterior acts, but for a true change of heart. In stewardship terms, that means seeing everything as a gift from Him, to be used for His glory and the good of others.

In the week ahead, let us examine the state of our hearts to ask ourselves if we have chosen to allow stewardship to become a way of life for us. Only then we will experience its true depth and heart-changing possibilities. The choice is ours.

2023 Bishop's Annual Stewardship Appeal

Our Bishop's Annual Stewardship Appeal (BASA) is now underway. If you are a registered member of our parish or another parish in our diocese, you may have received a mailing from Bishop Pohlmeier, asking for your support and participation in this year's Annual Appeal. Please prayerfully consider a pledge to the Appeal using gift options on the response card mailed to you or by completing a commitment envelope at Mass next weekend.

Our annual theme, "Perfect in Generosity" reminds us that our faith community is made up of a network of parishes. Bishop Pohlmeier invites each of us to join together in support of the beautiful mission of the Church, as we are called to be good stewards of what we have been gifted with. We have the opportunity to proclaim His love and faithfulness through sharing the blessings we have gratefully received from Him. We ask that you commit this invitation to prayer and if your circumstances allow, please come prepared to respond next week. Your gift should be in addition to what you are already giving to your parish. Please know that every gift is important, especially as the Church continues to serve during these times of great need.

In our Holy of Holies, we have ten candles always burning around the tabernacle, just as in the temple in Jerusalem there were ten lights always burning around the Ark of the Covenant. They indicate the presence of our precious Lord in the Blessed Sacrament.

The candles used are seven day candles and may be purchased either in memoriam or for the intentions of a loved one for a $10 donation through the Seton Shop. This space lists the names of those for whom candles have been purchased.

Catholic Days at the Capitol is right around the corner - March 7 & 8, 2023. This is an opportunity to meet with our State legislators in Tallahassee to present the Catholic perspective on selected proposed legislation that effects our Christian values and beliefs. This year Bishop Erik Pohlmeier has generated a post card to be presented to the legislators during our scheduled meetings with them. The card states:

Dear Florida Legislator,

Following the Dobbs Decision, I wish to express that abortion is a grave moral evil against the actual existence of a human person and should be abolished. Please work to protect every human life in law so that every life is welcomed.

As the Church walks with mothers in need, we ask you to enhance pregnancy support for vulnerable mothers through the Florida Pregnancy Care Network.

There will be an opportunity to sign these cards outside of the main entrance of the Church on the weekend of Feb. 25/26. These will be hand delivered to Tallahassee during Catholic Days at the Capitol, March 7 & 8.

The event begins with a briefing on Tuesday, March 7 at 2:30 at the Donald L. Tucker Civic Center at 500 West Pensacola St., with an overview and presentation of legislative priorities. This is followed by diocesan planning sessions -- what will be presented, when and to whom.

On March 8, after a buffet breakfast and remarks from Archbishop Thomas G. Wenski, archdiocese of Miami, we will be off to scheduled meetings with legislators, an optional tour of the Historic Capitol Museum and the final event: The Red Mass - the Votive mass of the Holy Spirit at the Co-Cathedral of St. Thomas More. Bishop Erik T. Pohlmeier will be the homilist. All participants are encouraged to wear red. The sight is spectacular. Please pray for the success of this event.

If you are interested in attending this event, please contact the SEAS Respect Life Coordinator for registration materials. The deadline to register is February 17.

There will be a recap of this event in the March 18/19 bulletin, here in this column.

Prayer for the Unborn

Lord, Creator of Life, you have blessed us with the privilege of bringing new life into the world. May your Holy Spirit open our hearts and minds to recognize Your special gift of children, and Your great love for each of us created in Your image and likeness. You sent Your son Jesus to redeem us and through love He entered our world. We now turn to Mary, our Mother, for her intercession as we struggle to protect innocent unborn children. Following Mary's example may we proclaim the truth of our faith, assist those in crisis and protect those most vulnerable. We ask this through Christ, Our Lord. Amen.

The management and staff of the Seton Shop would like to thank everyone for their support during the past year.

We would like to make improvements in the ways we showcase the items we offer, so in the coming weeks we will be making some changes, especially in the way our greeting cards and small booklets are displayed. Again, thank you and may God bless each and everyone of you!

See you in the shop!
