Our Challenge to Be People of Character

He was a woodcutter who made his living by cutting firewood from the forest. One day, while cutting firewood on the banks of a river, his axe slipped from his hand and fell into the water. The river was deep with a strong current, and the man didn't know what to do. He was afraid to jump into the water to retrieve his axe, so he stood there helplessly.

At that moment, he saw a goddess emerging from the water with a golden axe. "Is this the axe that fell from your hand?" the goddess asked, showing him the golden axe. "No, it is not," he replied. The goddess returned to the river and brought a silver axe to the woodcutter. "Is this the axe you lost in the river?" the goddess asked. "No, it is not," he replied. The goddess then jumped into the water again and retrieved his axe made of iron.

When he saw his axe, he was relieved and told the goddess that it was the axe he lost in the river. The goddess then gave him his axe as well as the axes made of gold and silver. Before he had time to thank her, she disappeared. The goddess was impressed with the character of the woodcutter. He was totally honest and never claimed what was not his own. In fact, he was not tempted by the glitter of gold or silver. He only wanted to regain what he had lost. He was a man of character.

People with character know how to distinguish right from wrong. They are people with high moral principles. They will never go against truth and justice for their own advantage. However, it doesn't mean they don't have any shortcomings and failures in their life. Like everybody else, they also commit mistakes. Nonetheless, they will never betray anyone knowingly. They will also never try to achieve success at the expense of others. On the contrary, they will always help others to succeed in life.

We all have our own character. It is what distinguishes us from others. Similarly, we find the traits of good and bad in all of us. However, when we talk about a man of character, we are actually talking about people with good character traits like sincerity, integrity, fairness, trustworthiness, generosity, kindness, and self-control. They are the kind of people who make a difference in our society with their dedication and commitment to all that is noble and praiseworthy in our lives.

But how often do we come across a person of stellar character? It seems many of us don't pay much attention to being morally upright and blameless in our behavior. In fact, many of us don't even think of improving our character through self-discipline and the constant practice of virtues like love, justice, honesty, compassion, forgiveness, gratitude, and fidelity. Many among us think that it is impossible to reform our character.

There is an interesting story of a scorpion and a turtle. The scorpion, being a poor swimmer, sought a turtle's help to cross the river. The turtle knew the character of the scorpion. So, the turtle said, "Am I insane to carry you on my back and get your sting? If I carry you across, you will definitely hurt me with your sting, and I will drown." "No, no," the scorpion said. "I will never do such a thing because if I hurt you with my sting, I will also be drowned."

The turtle thought for a minute and found the argument of the scorpion valid. Hence, the turtle took the scorpion on its back and swam across the river. However, when they reached the middle of the river, the scorpion gave the turtle a mighty sting. As they both began to sink, the turtle asked the scorpion, "Didn't you argue logically, saying that you would never hurt me? But then, why did you do that?" "It has nothing to do with logic," the scorpion replied. "It is my nature."

Many of us are like the scorpion, which lamented that it was his nature to hurt others. After making all kinds of mistakes, we also often say, "What can I do? It happened to be my nature." However, we forget that we can change our character if we set our mind to it. What we need is the determination and commitment to follow high moral principles and lofty ideals in our lives.

The Roman Emperor and philosopher Marcus Aurelius (121-180) once said, "Waste no more time arguing about what a good man should be. Be one." Yes, there is no need to argue about what a good man should be because we know what a good man really is. The challenge before us is, "Be one."

World Mission Sunday, October 22, 2023

"Pope Francis, in his message for World Mission Sunday 2023, reflects on the theme "Hearts on fire, feet on the move," based on the story of the disciples who encounter Jesus on their way to Emmaus (cf. Lk 24:13-35). He invites all of us to "set out once more, illumined by our encounter with the risen Lord and prompted by his Spirit."

Let us set out again with burning hearts, with our eyes open and our feet in motion. Let us set out to make other hearts burn with the word of God, to open the eyes of others to Jesus in the Eucharist, and to invite everyone to walk together on the path of peace and salvation that God, in Christ, has bestowed upon all humanity.

World
Mission Sunday

"On World Mission Sunday, we join our Holy Father in supporting his missions. As we pray and respond here at home, we share in those celebrations taking place in every parish and school throughout the world. Together, through our prayers and financial support, we bring the Lord's mercy and concrete help to the most vulnerable communities in the Pope's missions."

"In a world where so much divides us, World Mission Sunday rejoices in our unity as missionaries by our Baptism, as it offers each one of us an opportunity to support the life-giving presence of the Church among the poor and marginalized in more than 1,111 mission dioceses" (USCCB.org).

Nuestro Desafío de Ser Personas de Carácter

Era un leñador que se ganaba la vida cortando leña del bosque. Un día, mientras cortaba leña a orillas de un río, su hacha se le resbaló de la mano y cayó al agua. El río era profundo y tenía una fuerte corriente y el hombre no sabía qué hacer. Tenía miedo de saltar al agua para recuperar su hacha, por lo que se quedó allí, impotente.

En ese momento, vio a una diosa surgiendo del agua con un hacha de oro. "¿Es ésta el hacha que se te cayó de la mano?" preguntó la diosa, mostrándole el hacha de oro. "No, no lo es", respondió. La diosa regresó al río y le llevó un hacha de plata al leñador. "¿Es ésta el hacha que perdiste en el río?" preguntó la diosa. "No, no lo es", respondió. Luego, la diosa saltó nuevamente al agua y recuperó su hacha de hierro.

Cuando vio su hacha, se sintió aliviado y le dijo a la diosa que era el hacha que perdió en el río. Luego la diosa le dio su hacha, así como las hachas de oro y plata. Antes de que tuviera tiempo de agradecerle, ella desapareció. La diosa quedó impresionada con el carácter del leñador. Fue totalmente honesto y nunca reclamó lo que no era suyo. De hecho, no se dejó tentar por el brillo del oro o la plata. Sólo quería recuperar lo que había perdido. Era un hombre de carácter.

Las personas con carácter saben distinguir el bien del mal. Son personas con altos principios morales. Nunca irán en contra de la verdad y la justicia en beneficio propio. Sin embargo, eso no significa que no tengan defectos ni fracasos en su vida. Como todo el mundo, también cometen errores. Sin embargo, nunca traicionarán a nadie a sabiendas. Tampoco intentarán nunca alcanzar el éxito a expensas de los demás. Al contrario, siempre ayudarán a otros a tener éxito en la vida.

Todos tenemos nuestro propio carácter. Es lo que nos distingue de los demás. De manera similar, encontramos los rasgos del bien y del mal en todos nosotros. Sin embargo, cuando hablamos de un hombre de carácter, en realidad estamos hablando de personas con buenos rasgos de carácter como sinceridad, integridad, justicia, confiabilidad, generosidad, bondad y autocontrol. Son el tipo de personas que marcan la diferencia en nuestra sociedad con su dedicación y compromiso con todo lo que es noble y digno de elogio en nuestras vidas.

Pero ¿con qué frecuencia nos topamos con una persona de carácter estelar? Parece que muchos de nosotros no prestamos mucha atención a ser moralmente rectos y sin culpa en nuestro comportamiento. De hecho, muchos de nosotros ni siquiera pensamos en mejorar nuestro carácter a través de la autodisciplina y la práctica constante de virtudes como el amor, la justicia, la honestidad, la compasión, el perdón, la gratitud y la fidelidad. Muchos entre nosotros pensamos que es imposible reformar nuestro carácter.

Hay una historia interesante sobre un escorpión y una tortuga. El escorpión, como mal nadador, buscó la ayuda de una tortuga para cruzar el río. La tortuga conocía el carácter del escorpión. Entonces, la tortuga dijo: "¿Estoy loca por cargarte en mi espalda y recibir tu aguijón? Si te llevo al otro lado, definitivamente me lastimarás con tu aguijón y me ahogaré". "No, no", dijo el escorpión. "Nunca haré tal cosa porque si te lastimo con mi aguijón, también me ahogaré."

La tortuga pensó por un minuto y encontró válido el argumento del escorpión. Por lo tanto, la tortuga tomó al escorpión en su espalda y cruzó el río nadando. Sin embargo, cuando llegaron a la mitad del río, el escorpión le dio a la tortuga una poderosa picadura. Cuando ambos comenzaron a hundirse, la tortuga le preguntó al escorpión: "¿No discutiste lógicamente diciendo que nunca me harías daño? Pero entonces, ¿por qué hiciste eso?". "No tiene nada que ver con la lógica", respondió el escorpión. "Es mi naturaleza."

Muchos de nosotros somos como el escorpión, que se lamentaba de que era su naturaleza herir a los demás. Después de cometer todo tipo de errores, también solemos decir: "¿Qué puedo hacer? Resulta que es mi naturaleza". Sin embargo, olvidamos que podemos cambiar nuestro carácter si nos lo proponemos. Lo que necesitamos es la determinación y el compromiso de seguir elevados principios morales e ideales elevados en nuestras vidas.

El Emperador Romano y Filósofo Marco Aurelio (121-180) dijo una vez: "No pierdas más tiempo discutiendo sobre lo que debería ser un buen hombre. Sé uno". Sí, no hay necesidad de discutir sobre lo que debería ser un buen hombre porque sabemos lo que es realmente un buen hombre. El desafío que tenemos ante nosotros es: "Ser uno".

Domingo Mundial de Las Misiones, 22 de Octubre de 2023

"El Papa Francisco, en su mensaje para La Jornada Mundial de Las Misiones 2023, reflexiona sobre el tema "Corazones en llamas, pies en movimiento", basándose en la historia de los discípulos que encuentran a Jesús en su camino a Emaús (cf. Lc 24,13). -35) Nos invita a todos a "ponernos en camino una vez más, iluminados por el encuentro con el Señor resucitado e impulsados por su Espíritu".

Partamos de nuevo con el corazón ardiente, con los ojos abiertos y los pies en movimiento. Propongámonos hacer arder otros corazones con la palabra de Dios, abrir los ojos de los demás a Jesús en la Eucaristía e invitar a todos a caminar juntos por el camino de paz y salvación que Dios, en Cristo, les ha concedido. toda la humanidad.

"En el Domingo Mundial de las Misiones, nos unimos a nuestro Santo Padre para apoyar sus misiones. Mientras oramos y respondemos aquí en casa, compartimos las celebraciones que tienen lugar en cada parroquia y escuela del mundo. Juntos, a través de nuestras oraciones y apoyo financiero, llevamos la misericordia del Señor y ayuda concreta a las comunidades más vulnerables en las misiones del Papa.

"En un mundo donde tanto nos divide, el Domingo Mundial de las Misiones se regocija en nuestra unidad como misioneros por nuestro Bautismo, ya que nos ofrece a cada uno de nosotros la oportunidad de apoyar la presencia vivificante de la Iglesia entre los pobres y marginados en más de 1,111 diócesis misioneras" (USCCB.org).

O nosso desafio ao ser pessoas de carácter

Ele era um lenhador que ganhava a vida cortando lenha da floresta. Um dia, quando cortava lenha nas margens do rio, o machado escorregou da mão e caiu na água. O rio estava fundo, com uma forte corrente, e o homem não sabia o que fazer. Ele estava com medo de saltar para a água para recuperar o machado, então ele ficou imóvel.

Nesse momento, ele viu uma deusa emergindo da água com um machado de ouro. "É este o machado que caiu da tua mão?", perguntou a deusa, mostrando-lhe o machado de ouro. "Não, não é", respondeu. A deusa voltou ao rio e trouxe um machado de prata para o lenhador. "É este o machado que você perdeu no rio?", perguntou a deusa. "Não, não é", respondeu. A deusa então saltou para a água novamente e recuperou o machado feito de ferro.

Quando viu o seu machado, ficou aliviado e disse à deusa que era o machado que ele tinha perdido no rio. A deusa então deu-lhe o machado, bem como os machados feitos de ouro e prata. Antes que ele tivesse tempo de agradecê-la, ela desapareceu. A deusa ficou impressionada com o carácter do lenhador. Ele era totalmente honesto e nunca quiz o que não era seu. Na verdade, ele não foi tentado pelo brilho do ouro ou da prata. Ele só queria recuperar o que tinha perdido. Era um homem de carácter.

Pessoas com carácter sabem distinguir o certo do errado. São pessoas com elevados princípios morais. Nunca irão contra a verdade e a justiça em benefício próprio. No entanto, isso não significa que eles não tenham quaisquer falhas e fracassos na sua vida. Como todos, também cometem erros. No entanto, eles nunca trairão ninguém conscientemente. Também nunca tentarão alcançar o sucesso à custa dos outros. Pelo contrário, ajudarão sempre os outros a terem sucesso na vida.

Todos nós temos o nosso próprio carácter. É o que nos distingue dos outros. Da mesma forma, encontramos traços do bem e do mal em todos nós. No entanto, quando falamos de um homem de carácter, na verdade estamos falando de pessoas com bom carácter, como sinceridade, integridade, justiça, confiança, bondade e autocontrole. São o tipo de pessoas que fazem a diferença na nossa sociedade com a sua dedicação e compromisso com tudo o que é nobre e louvável nas nossas vidas.

Mas quantas vezes nos deparamos com uma pessoa de carácter excelente? Parece que muitos de nós não prestamos muita atenção em ser moralmente correctos e irrepreensíveis no nosso comportamento. Na verdade, muitos de nós nem pensamos em melhorar o nosso carácter através da autodisciplina e da prática constante de virtudes como o amor, a justiça, a honestidade, a compaixão, o perdão, a gratidão e a fidelidade. Muitos entre nós pensam que é impossível mudar o nosso carácter.

Há uma história interessante de um escorpião e uma tartaruga. O escorpião, sendo um fraco nadador, procurou a ajuda de uma tartaruga para atravessar o rio. A tartaruga conhecia o carácter do escorpião. Então, a tartaruga disse: "Será que estou louco para te carregar nas minhas costas e levar a tua picada? Se eu te levar, definitivamente vais-me picar com o teu ferrão, e eu vou me afogar." "Não, não", disse o escorpião. "Eu nunca faria uma coisa dessas, porque se eu te picar com o meu ferrão, eu também vou me afogar."

A tartaruga pensou por um minuto e achou válido o argumento do escorpião. Assim, a tartaruga levou o escorpião às costas e nadou pelo rio. No entanto, quando chegaram a meio do rio, o escorpião deu à tartaruga uma poderosa picada. Quando ambos começaram a afogar, a tartaruga perguntou ao escorpião: "Você não discutiu logicamente, dizendo que nunca me picava? Mas então, qual a razão que você fez isso?" "Não tem nada a ver com lógica", respondeu o escorpião. "É a minha natureza."

Muitos de nós somos como o escorpião, que lamentava que era da sua natureza picar os outros. Depois de cometer todos os tipos de erros, também costumamos dizer: "O que posso fazer? Aconteceu porque era a minha natureza." No entanto, esquecemos que podemos mudar o nosso carácter se nos dedicarmos a isso. O que precisamos é da determinação e do compromisso de seguir altos princípios morais e altos ideais nas nossas vidas.

O imperador romano e filósofo Marco Aurélio (121-180) disse certa vez: "Não perca mais tempo discutindo sobre o que um homem bom deve fazer. Seja um." Sim, não há necessidade de discutir sobre o que um homem bom deve fazer, porque sabemos o que um homem bom realmente é. O desafio que temos diante de nós é: "Seja um".

Dia Mundial das Missões, 22 de outubro de 2023

"O Papa Francisco, na sua mensagem para o Dia Mundial das Missões 2023, reflecte sobre o tema "Corações em chamas, pés em movimento", a partir da história dos discípulos que encontram Jesus a caminho de Emaús (cfr Lc 24, 13-35). Ele convida-nos a todos a "partir uma vez mais, iluminados pelo encontro com o Senhor ressuscitado e impelidos pelo seu Espírito.

Partimos de novo com o coração ardente, com os olhos abertos e os pés em movimento. Proponhamo-nos a fazer arder outros corações com a Palavra de Deus, a abrir os olhos dos outros a Jesus Eucarístico e a convidar todos a caminhar juntos no caminho da paz e da salvação que Deus, em Cristo, concedeu a toda a humanidade.

"No Dia Mundial das Missões, unimo-nos ao nosso Santo Padre no apoio às suas missões. Enquanto rezamos e respondemos nas nossas casas, participamos das celebrações que acontecem em todas as paróquias e escolas do mundo. Juntos, através das nossas orações e apoio financeiro, levamos a misericórdia do Senhor e a ajuda concreta às comunidades mais vulneráveis nas missões do Papa.

"Num mundo onde tanto nos divide, o Dia Mundial das Missões regozija-se com a nossa unidade de missionários pelo nosso Baptismo, oferecendo a cada um de nós a oportunidade de apoiar a presença viva da Igreja entre os pobres e marginalizados em mais de 1.111 dioceses missionárias» (USCCB.org).

Twenty-ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time, Isaiah 45:1, 4-6; I Thessalonians 1:1-5b; Mathew 22: 15-21

Dual Citizenship and Dual Obligations

Introduction

The common theme of today's readings is the nature of our obligations to God and to our country. The readings show us how, with God's help, we can be ideal citizens of both earth and Heaven. In the first reading and in the Gospel, a world superpower is matched up against the Kingdom of God. Isaiah the prophet foretells how, indirectly, the policies of the great Persian Emperor Cyrus will help God's saving plan for His chosen people. The words of the responsorial Psalm, "Say among the nations: The Lord is King," summons all Israel, all the nations and all creation to acknowledge and praise God as King of the universe.

The Psalm reminds us that when people put God's Kingdom first, everyone benefits. In the second reading, referring to Jesus as "our Lord Jesus Christ," Paul acknowledges him as one who shares Divine power with God the Father. Paul reminds his Thessalonians that it was God Who chose them to live in Him, and gave them the Faith to trust Him and believe and the love to pour out in service as they have faithfully been doing. Paul praises his converts in Thessalonica for their fidelity to God and to Christ His Son, assuring them of his prayers.

In the Gospel, Jesus escapes from the trap in the question, "Is it lawful to pay the census tax to Caesar or not?" by stating "Repay to Caesar what belongs to Caesar and to God what belongs to God." By this answer Jesus reminds His questioners that if they are so concerned and careful about paying taxes to the state, they should be much more concerned and careful about their service to God and their obligations to Him as their Creator and Lord.

First Reading, Isaiah 45:1, 4-6

The Cyrus mentioned here is Cyrus II, the Great, who founded the Persian Empire. In 539 B.C., he conquered the Babylonians who had defeated the Jews 50 years earlier and had taken many of them into captivity. He decided to liberate the Jews from their exile and allow them to go back to their home country, Judea. In this passage, the prophet Isaiah declares that Cyrus, even though a pagan, was God's instrument. The amazing fact is that God actually used Cyrus to restore His people to their homeland. God is able and willing to use ungodly powers to achieve His ends because He is the God not only of the Jews, but of history and of the whole world. Hence, He anointed Cyrus as a savior of His people. Cyrus carried out God's plan by setting the Jewish exiles free and giving them permission to go back to Judah to rebuild their Temple and city. He also returned to them the gold and silver vessels which Nebuchadnezzar had taken from the Temple.

So a pagan emperor became, in God's hand, the instrument by means of whom the people of Israel might return to their Promised Land. This passage also contains a new theological idea. To call this pagan king, "Messiah" or "Christos" meaning "the Lord's anointed" (a title given exclusively to the kings, prophets and priests of the Chosen People), was quite revolutionary. Like other passages from Isaiah, it was meant to challenge the Jews' parochialism and give them a more universal view of God's concern and plan.

Second Reading, 1 Thessalonians 1:1-5

Bible scholars believe that this letter, addressed to the new Jewish and the Gentile Christians of northern Greece (Thessalonica), is the earliest document of the whole New Testament, written in Corinth in A.D. 50. There was more Faith, Hope and Charity among the Thessalonians than Paul could credit to his own preaching; the Holy Spirit was clearly at work.

Along with 1 Thes 5:8, this is the earliest mention in Christian literature of the three "theological virtues" (see 1 Cor 13:13). From today's text it is clear that these people worked hard at being Christians and that Saint Paul thought that praiseworthy. Hence, he praised his converts for their fidelity to God and to Christ and assured them of his prayers. He hoped that they would continue to be faithful to the call God had given them, a call proved by the many gifts of the Holy Spirit bestowed on them.

Gospel Reading, Mathew 22: 15-21

Context: The Pharisees, Sadducees and Herodians were the three prominent Jewish sects of Jesus' day. The Pharisees were rabid nationalists and totally anti-Roman while the Herodians were willing to collaborate with the Romans, hoping to benefit from them. Together with the chief priests, these three groups accused Jesus of "associating" with sinners and challenged his authority to teach in the Temple. The three "parables of judgment" were Jesus' calculated reply to their accusations. After the first two parables, "the chief priests and the Pharisees ... realized that he was speaking about them" (21:45-46). Hence, they resumed their counter-attack in an attempt to destroy Jesus' influence with the people, either by discrediting him in the presence of the crowds or by causing him to make statements that would get him into trouble with the Romans. The question put to Jesus in verse 17 is actually the first in a series of four "test questions" recorded in Matthew 22:15-46. Besides today's question on the legality of paying taxes, there are other questions: Jesus' opinion on the details of the resurrection (vv. 23- 28), what the greatest commandment is (vv. 34-39), and the relationship between the Messiah and David (vv. 41-45). Tax issue: The Jews were forced to pay three types of tax to the Roman Emperor: the ground tax, the income tax and the census tax. Here, the question concerned the census tax.

A census tax implied that, if one were a citizen, one owed the money to the Emperor. The Jews believed that they had only one Lord and Ruler and that was their God. Taxes, or any form of submission, should be made to Yahweh alone. Hence, the question which the Pharisees asked Jesus was intended to create a very real dilemma for him. If he said that it was unlawful to pay the tax, the Herodians and their allies would report him to the Roman officials, who would then arrest him as a revolutionary. If he said that it was lawful to pay the tax, the insurgents and their supporters would turn against him and he would be discredited in the eyes of the people who were against paying taxes to a pagan emperor.

Defense as Challenge: Jesus defeated their scheme by asking his challengers to show him "the coin of tribute" – the coin they would give to the tax-gatherer. In those days, all secular money was thought to belong to the Emperor. [The Temple had its own coinage, not used in paying secular debts.]

Thus, the Emperor's image was on each secular coin. The money belonged to him and he simply permitted people to use it. By actually having a Roman coin in their possession, complete with Caesar's image and Caesar's inscription, the challengers had already shown where their loyalties lay. They had, in effect, answered their own question. Jesus, rather than answering their question directly, asked them a question, thus turning their trap inside out and upside down: "Whose image (eikon in Greek) and inscription are these?" (The census tax was paid with a denarius coin, which contained the image of the Emperor on one side with the inscription "Tiberius Caesar, Son of the Divine Augustus" – and on the other his title "Pontifex Maximus" (high priest).

Thus, Caesar claimed not only political sovereignty but also divine attributes. Therefore, the Jews considered the image idolatrous and the inscription blasphemous). "Caesar's," they said. Jesus then said, "Give back to Caesar what belongs to Caesar -- and to God what belongs to God." In other words, we give to the Emperor the coin because his image is on it, and we give to God our own selves because we are created in the image of God (Genesis 1:26). Jesus' answer acknowledges our obligation as citizens to the state, but affirms our larger obligation to God.

Both the state and God require certain loyalties from us, but we owe God our very lives. The question Jesus was asked could have been phrased, "Whose side are you on? Israel's or Rome's?" Jesus' answer was "On God's side!"

Dual citizenship and dual obligations: By birth we become the citizens of the country of our birth, and by Baptism we become the citizens of Heaven. In every age, Christians are faced with balancing the demands of Caesar with the commands of God. Jesus' answer forms the guiding principle in solving the problems that arise from our dual citizenship, belonging to God and to our country. As Christians, we are to obey the government, even when it is pagan and non-Christian. A loyal Christian is always a loyal citizen. Failure in good citizenship is also failure in Christian duty. We fulfill our duties to our country by loyally obeying the just laws of the State, by paying all lawful taxes, and by contributing our share, whenever called on, toward the common good. Both St. Peter (1 Pet. 2: 13-14), and St. Paul (Rom. 13: 1-7), stressed the obligation of the 9 early Christians to be an example to all in their loyalty as citizens of the state.

Similarly, we fulfill our duties to God by being faithful, loyal, active members of the spiritual Kingdom of God, the Church, which Christ established on earth. Thus, a real Christian is at one and the same time a good citizen of his country and a good citizen of the Kingdom of Heaven, but his priority is his allegiance to God. As the famous martyr St Thomas More said of himself: "I die the King's good servant, but God's first." Cooperation with secular authority cannot interfere with our primary duty of "giving back to God" our whole selves, in whose image - like the stamp on the coin - we are made. Consequently, we give taxes to the government but we give ourselves to God.

Modern approach: As citizens in a multicultural, multi-religious country we respect other religious traditions. We take care not to mix religion and politics. Americans tend to see in Jesus' answer an argument for the separation of church and state. But such an idea made no sense in first-century Mediterranean culture. It is true that there are times when the demand for the separation of church and state appears to leave our civil life without moral direction. But the experience of two thousand years of political history since the time of Jesus makes it clear that mixing the two jeopardizes civil liberty as well as religious freedom. In a democracy, the citizens do not serve the state -- the state serves the people. The elected government officials are public servants.

Hence Christians, like other citizens, are free to criticize their government, to seek to change its policies, to remove office-holders whose representation is invalid, and to seek new benefits and protections for the welfare of the people. Our political liberty also secures our freedom from religious tyranny and unwonted political interference in religious matters. There is no reason why the state and the Church cannot work together to improve the lives of their citizens. There is usually no conflict -- unless the government forces people to act in a way contrary to God's law.

Then we must act in accordance with God's law and not man's because, while the state only exists in this world, God's law exists in this world and the next. This means that 10 sometimes we have to refuse to obey our government. In South Africa's apartheid system, many Christians were forced to violate the immoral laws of their government. In the United States, both the black and the white people violated the segregation laws of many states. Wherever there is immoral or unjust behavior, there has to be conflict which paves the ground for society's progress.

Life messages

1. "Give to Caesar what is Caesar's": How? Like it or not, it's a reality that our ancestors created the kind of government that relies on a portion of its citizens' income to function. Hence, it is the duty of Christians to pay for the services and the privileges that government provides -- like paved roads, police and fire departments, banks, schools and other necessities. If we refuse to pay taxes, how will these needs be fulfilled? Another way of giving to Caesar what is Caesar's is to participate actively in the running of the government, electing the most suitable candidates and influencing them through frequent contacts. Third, we must submit to the civil authorities and respect the laws of our country in order to live in peace. As loyal citizens, we must also see to it that our elected representatives are faithful in maintaining law and order in the country and in promoting the welfare of its citizens. When the state oversteps the mark and puts itself in the place of God, Christians are, as a last resort, absolved from obedience. We must give to Caesar the things that are Caesar's and not the things that are God's. We must "obey God rather than human beings."

2. "Give to God what is God's." How? Since everything is God's, we must give ourselves to Him 100%, not just 10% on Sundays. We should be generous in fulfilling our Sunday obligations and find time every day for prayer and worship in the family, for the reading of the Bible and the proper training of our children in Faith and morals. St. Augustine teaches that when we truly succeed in "giving to God what is God's," we are "doing justice to God." This requires that we return to God, with dividends, that which God has entrusted to us, remembering that we are mere managers or stewards of God's gifts.

We will soon be invited to make the stewardship pledge of our financial offering to the local Church for the coming year. Our contribution to the parish Church should be an expression of our gratitude to God, giving back to God all that he has given us. This will help us to combat the powerful influence of materialism in our lives and enable the Church to do God's work. Our cash offerings signify our commitment to the ministries of the Gospel, the activities of the Risen Lord. Every pledge enables and empowers ministry. Every pledge, every dollar, touches a human life and brings it closer to God. Every pledge, every dollar given, is transformed into love for someone else and for ourselves. Active participation in the various ministries of the parish is the offering to God of our time and talents, yet another way of giving to God his due, our whole self.

Ten Candles Burning in the Holy of Holies

October 21 – October 28

IN MEMORY OF:

Roseann & Jim Bradley; Joseph RG Gelinas;
Kyle John Wolf; Arnold Fedeie; James W. Morris;
John Shierling; Emile Mazzawi; Joseph Paul;
Anna Dora Rotondo; Beatriz Quintero

In our Holy of Holies, we have ten candles always burning around the tabernacle, just as in the temple in Jerusalem there were ten lights always burning around the Ark of the Covenant. They indicate the presence of our precious Lord in the Blessed Sacrament.

The candles used are seven day candles and may be purchased either in memoriam or for the intentions of a loved one for a $10 donation through the Seton Shop. This space lists the names of those for whom candles have been purchased.

Please Pray for Our Military

Although we pray for all of our military, space does not permit everyone's name to be printed. Please advise when a person below is no longer deployed so we can remove their name from our list. Please contact the parish office if you wish to have the name of someone listed for 4 weeks. As a courtesy please notify the office when the name can be removed or if you wish to have the name continued. Be sure to get the person's permission first! God bless them all & continue to pray for them!

PAUNAWA: Ipinagbibigay alam na lubos na pinahalagahan ng Diyosesis ng San Agustin ang mga paratang sa anumang uri ng abusong seksual, at agad na masusilang sinusuri ang anumang alegasyon habang pinananatiling kumpidensyal. Kung meron kayong nalalamang alegasyon tumawag agad sa Pulisya o kaya ay sa Department of Children and Families (800) 962-2873. O tawagan ang Diocesan Victim Assistance Coordinator sa (904) 208-6979 o kaya ay mag-email sa inquiries@dosaf.com. Kung ang irereport nyo naman ay isang Obispo, tumawag sa (800) 276-1562 o kaya ay tumungo sa www.reportbishopabuse.org.

Thank you for your quick response to the Alpha Women's Center baby bottle drive. We have already received 10% of the filled bottles. WOW Such an amazing pro-life parish. If you did not receive a baby bottle, but would like to donate your loose change, just fill a zip-lock bag and place it in the bassinette by October 27 or bring it to the Fall Festival. Hope you stop by the Respect Life table at the Fall Festival. Lots of information and hand-outs are available.

November will be another full month of respect life activities.

Nov. 3 - Friday - Stand for Life 4 - 5 pm in front of SEAS - all are welcome

Nov. 4 - Saturday - LIFE FEST at National Shrine of Our Lady of La Leche in St. Augustine from 9 - 4 pm. Mass at 9 am with speakers, food, fun and Procession from 3 - 4 pm. (Full details on the flyer on the Respect Life bulletin board (No. entrance of SEAS).

Nov. 9 - Thursday - Human Trafficking speaker from Flagler County Sheriff's Office - 7 pm All teens, parents and interested parishioners are invited to learn the latest threat to our youth.

Nov. 11 - Saturday - Respect Life Committee meeting 9:30 am in Cody Room - update on current respect life activities and preparation to set up Christmas tree at Library on Nov. 14

Nov. 14 - Tuesday - set up Respect Life Christmas tree at Flagler County Library

Nov. 18 thru Jan 6, 2024 - Come see the beautiful trees from Flagler's non-profits, including the Women's Guild Angel Tree.

PLEASE continue to DECLINE TO SIGN.

Watch for update on the Florida Supreme Court ruling on the 15 week abortion ban.

Stewardship Moment

Each year at tax time, we conscientiously give "to Caesar what belongs to Caesar." Does my stewardship indicate that I am as faithful about giving "to God what belongs to God?"

Attention Talented Ladies

There is a group of ladies in our Parish who meet on Tuesday mornings at 10am in the Russo Room. We get together and make a variety of crafts and sell them at the many events that our Church has throughout the year. We have a lot of fun while making our crafts and it is very satisfying to know that others appreciate what we make. Forget the department stores that manufacture and mass produce, each item is handmade with precision and care. For any questions please call Dorothy at 386-283-4298.

Daily Exposition and Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament

The Blessed Sacrament is exposed on the altar for adoration after all the weekday Masses at 8.30 am till 10 am. Kindly join us and adore the Lord in the Blessed Sacrament.

Quotes of Saints

NATIONAL Eucharistic Revival

"If we but paused for a moment to consider attentively what takes place in this Sacrament, I am sure that the thought of Christ's love for us would transform the coldness of our hearts into a fire of love and gratitude."
- St. Angela of Foligno

"Recognize in this bread what hung on the cross, and in this chalice what flowed from His side... whatever was in many and varied ways announced beforehand in the sacrifices of the Old Testament pertains to this one sacrifice which is revealed in the New Testament."
- from the writings of St. Augustine

"Christ held Himself in His hands when He gave His Body to His disciples saying: 'This is My Body.' No one partakes of this Flesh before he has adored it."
- St. Augustine
