The Commemoration of All the Faithful Departed

I lost my wallet this year. It was such an annoyance to replace everything in it. A friend, moved by sympathy, gave me a beautiful new one. One month later I lost that one, too, with all my newly replaced cards. No matter what I did, I couldn't find what I had lost. I resigned myself to never seeing either of my wallets again.

Fortunately, the Lord Jesus is not like me in this regard. In today's Gospel (John 6:37-40), he says, "This is the will of the one who sent me, that I should not lose anything of what he gave me." Jesus, unlike me, is ever vigilant with what the Father has given him. He searches for every lost soul – as the shepherd leaves the ninety-nine to pursue the one lost sheep, or the woman rejoices upon recovering a lost coin – and even descends to the depths of loss on the cross and into the realm of the dead to recover that which seems forever lost.

On All Souls' Day, as we remember our faithful departed, these words kindle a hope beyond hope in our hearts. Even the dead are not lost to Jesus, though they may seem so to us. Nothing entrusted to him by the Father is ever truly lost. So, we may hope that every soul, no matter how wandering or forgotten in life, is secure in his loving care and destined to be raised on the last day. Of what the Father gives him, he loses nothing.

November is Dedicated to the Holy Souls in Purgatory

Purgatory, according to the Catechism of the Catholic Church, is described as a "purification, so as to achieve the holiness necessary to enter the joy of heaven" (CCC 1030). It is specifically for those who die in friendship with God but are not yet fully purified. The purpose of purgatory is to prepare these souls for the beatific vision of God, as nothing unclean can enter heaven (Revelation 21:27). Souls remain in purgatory for as long as they need until they are made pure. They cannot pray for themselves, only for those on earth. Yes, all souls in purgatory are guaranteed heaven. What we can do as Catholics:

- It is important to pray for your deceased family and friends in purgatory. If they are in heaven, God will use those prayers to help another soul in purgatory. Try praying a Novena and/or praying the Rosary.
- Offer Masses for deceased loved ones.
- To ensure you receive a funeral Mass when you die, pre-plan your funeral with a funeral home.

GROWING

WITH THE Gospel

CYCLE C

COLOR

Read the Gospel of the week and color the image.

Each time you see a butterfly, remember that God will give you a new body in heaven, where you will live forever.

Take time to remember some people you love who have died and say a prayer for them.

All the Faithful Departed • John 6:37-40

The Gospel

If you love and believe in Jesus, you never have to be afraid of dying. One day your body will stop working, but you will live again. Jesus promises to give you a new life. In heaven, you will live forever with God. God will always be with you, and he loves you.

Prayer

Dear God, thank you for being my friend and waiting for me in Heaven. Amen.
