~ HOMILY POINTS ~

Fifth Sunday In Ordinary Time

*The prophet Job speaks with brutal yet refreshing honesty in today's first reading. Job struggles to find purpose in the drudgery of everyday life. He bemoans how days and nights seem to go by with the mechanical movement of a weaver's shuttle until the thread runs out and death comes knocking. Do his laments sound familiar? Surely all of us have reasons to lament in our lives as individuals or as members of communities facing hardship. No human being is exempt from experiencing the spectrum of emotions, including anger, frustration, boredom, and other difficult emotions.

*Job demonstrates the value of bringing these emotions to prayer. God can handle lamentations—in fact, Scripture is filled with such prayers. How might we, as individuals and as a community, practice greater honesty in prayer? Where might we need to make space for honest lamentations?

*Jesus responds to prayers of lamentation, although not always in ways we hope. Today's gospel can be difficult to digest for people who prayed for healing for themselves or for a loved one and did not experience a cure like Simon's mother-in-law. Why did I or my loved one have to suffer? Why didn't Jesus answer our prayers for a complete cure? These are the sorts of difficult, honest questions Jesus wants us to bring to him. God's ways are deeply mysterious. Jesus is not Santa or a fairy godmother. He does not make all our wishes come true exactly as we imagine. Rather, Jesus remains close to us in our times of need. He listens to the longing of our hearts and promises healing will come in time.

(Living Liturgy)

May the Lord's peace and grace be with you!
