Dear Parishioners,

This past week, we heard the news that Bishop Coyne is being transferred to the Archdiocese of Hartford, Connecticut, beginning in October, to serve as coadjutor bishop, meaning that he will succeed the current archbishop there when he retires next spring. We wish Bishop Coyne well, and accompany him with our prayers. Though he is no longer our diocesan bishop, Bishop Coyne will serve as our apostolic administrator (basically still responsible for administering our diocese) until he leaves in October. Then, Monsignor John McDermott will become our apostolic administrator, a post he previously held during the last interregnum between bishops, until Pope Francis assigns a new bishop to our diocese.

This week, I celebrate my fourth anniversary at Holy Trinity Parish. I feel very blessed to serve as your pastor, and I am grateful for all your prayers and support.

This Fourth of July, Independence Day, let us thank God for the rights we enjoy as Americans, including our right to practice our Catholic Faith, and let us also pray for the generations who came before us who sacrificed so much to secure these rights for us. May God help us to put our freedom to good use, worthy of such noble sacrifices.

This Saturday, July 1, we celebrate St. Junipero Serra, a Franciscan missionary who labored to establish missions among the native peoples of California in the late 1700s. I was blessed to be at his canonization by Pope Francis during his visit to Washington, D.C. in 2015. I was also blessed to be able to visit some of the mission churches, established by St. Junipero, when I was on a vacation to California last year.

Have a blessed week,
Fr. Curtis

Pope Francis Appoints the Most Reverend Christopher J. Coyne as Coadjutor Archbishop of Hartford to Succeed Archbishop Leonard P. Blair in 2024

The Vatican today announced that the Holy Father Pope Francis has appointed The Most Reverend Christopher J. Coyne, until now the Bishop of Burlington, as the Coadjutor Archbishop for the Archdiocese of Hartford. He will succeed Archbishop Blair as Archbishop of Hartford when in 2024 the latter submits his resignation at the age of 75 in keeping with church law. The Archbishop of Hartford is responsible for the spiritual shepherding of the half-million Catholics in Hartford, New Haven, and Litchfield counties; Archbishop Blair has served in this role since December of 2013.

Archbishop Coyne has served as Bishop of Burlington since December 2014. During his time as bishop, he has carried out a Diocesan Synod, ministered with his clergy, staff, and parish leaders through the Covid pandemic, and maintained the good works of the Catholic schools of the state. Under his leadership the Vermont Catholic Community Foundation [VCCF] was established to foster and support the good works of the Church throughout the state.

The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops defines a coadjutor as "a bishop appointed to a Catholic diocese or archdiocese to assist the diocesan bishop. Unlike an auxiliary bishop, the coadjutor (arch)bishop has the right of succession, meaning that he automatically becomes the new bishop when the diocesan bishop retires, resigns, or dies."

Archbishop Coyne will take up residence in the Archdiocese of Hartford with a Mass of Welcome to be celebrated at St. Joseph Cathedral, Mother Church of the Archdiocese of Hartford, on Monday, October 9, 2023, at 2 PM.

Archbishop Coyne will serve as the Apostolic Administrator of the Diocese of Burlington until his welcome in the Archdiocese of Hartford in October at which time the Diocesan College of Consultors will elect an administrator to lead the Diocese of Burlington until a new bishop is appointed by the Holy Father.

Bishop's Annual Appeal 2023

"The vocation is truly a treasure that God places in the hearts of some men, chosen by Him and called to follow Him in this special state of life. This treasure, that must be discovered and brought to light, is not made to 'enrich' someone alone. He who is called to the ministry is not the 'master' of his vocation, but rather the administrator of a gift that God has entrusted to him for the good of all the people, or rather for all humanity, even those who have drifted away from religious practice or do not profess faith in Christ." – Pope Francis. The Bishop's Annual Appeal supports vocations to the priesthood and deacons. This year we have seven seminarians and commissioned the largest number of deacons last fall.
