HUNGER DOES NOT TAKE A SUMMER VACATION

The donations that we collect for the Durham Food Pantry are running LOW. Please bring your non-perishable food to drop off in the Narthex when you come to Mass.

You are also invited to combat hunger by serving in other related ministries at Holy Infant:

- Urban Ministries of Durham
- Meals on Wheels
- The Food Justice Garden
- Families Moving Forward
- Bread for the World

PARISH DIRECTORY SURVEY

Holy Infant is considering creating a Parish Directory. A parish directory allows our members to put names to faces and get to know people outside of the groups they usually spend time with. The goal of a parish is to feel like a loving and supportive community, and a directory helps us Live Jesus by fostering connection.

We would appreciate you taking the time to answer a few brief questions regarding your interest in this project. Use the QR at the bottom of the page to fill out the questions online. If you have already responded to the survey, please do not submit a second response.

Our Forever Young Ministry hosted the first of sure-to-be many Cards & Games Night. Thank you to everyone who made this a fun evening!

Thanks to generous gifts from parishioners, we installed this stunning Marian banner in the Narthex. The Mary and Christ are modeled after the statue at the front of the church. We are so grateful for this beautiful art!

Oblates of St. Francis de Sales

FINDING REST IN THE SACRED HEART

For almost 90 years, the Dominican Sisters of St. Rose of Lima (known as the Hawthorne Dominicans – named for their foundress, Rose Hawthorne) served at a special ministry in North Philadelphia. There they offered hope, care, and companionship to men and women who needed assistance at the end of their lives. The facility was officially known as the Sacred Heart Home for Incurable Cancer. It was unique in that it relied entirely on freewill donations. Started in a time before Medicaid or Medicare, the facility accepted no money from its residents or any government agency.

From the beginning, the Oblates of St. Francis de Sales ministered at Sacred Heart Home. The Oblates from nearby North Catholic High School would come to the home every day, very early in the morning, to celebrate Mass and offer the Sacraments of Reconciliation and Anointing of the Sick for the sisters, the residents, and the staff. Fr. Neil Kilty, OSFS, was one of the longest-serving Oblates who ministered at Sacred Heart Home. He began his ministry there as an altar server when he was in high school.

Later, when the Oblates from North moved to the Father Judge Faculty House, I joined the team of priests who got to pray on a regular basis with the sisters, the sick, and the dying at Sacred Heart. Being able to experience the same moving ministry that so many Oblates had shared for decades was an honor. When talking about the cancer home, the Oblates never used the institution's official title but simply referred to the building on Hunting Park Avenue as "Sacred Heart." Sitting in the dining room at Father Judge, one of the priests would lean over after dinner and ask, "Jack, can you cover Sacred Heart tomorrow?" Another time, one of my brother Oblates casually announced at a house meeting that "Sacred Heart has no heat this week. Make sure you wear an extra sweater in the chapel." As a community that has a great devotion to the love of God, I found this informal way of talking about the Heart of Jesus appropriate and appealing.

As human beings we use the heart as an image of love, devotion, and intimacy. When we are in a special relationship, we use the language of love to communicate and share our thoughts and feelings.

I always thought of the Sacred Heart devotion as a spiritual shorthand to share God's special love for each of us. When the Oblates talked about "Sacred Heart" – the cancer home, the building – I also thought of it as a reference to the life and love of God. "Sacred Heart" brought the love of God to the streets, the sick, and the souls who were looking for rest and peace.

Sacred Heart Home suspended operations in 2018. Like many religious communities, the Dominican Sisters were consolidating their resources and focusing on their foundations in New York State and in Georgia. Sacred Heart was the perfect name for a place that offered peace, hope, and love to those who were preparing for their final journey home to heaven. This community of care was a sacred stop for those who heard the voice of Jesus say: "Come to Me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest (Matthew 11:28)."

The Hawthorne Dominicans and the Oblates put these words into action and shared the gentle, humble love of God with those most in need of his tenderness and compassion for over eighty years. As the Church celebrates the Feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, we can reflect on the Heart of God as a special place to find true peace and rest. Resting in this Holy Heart, our souls will be renewed. Rested and renewed, we can go into the world and bring the love of God to the streets, to our families, to our own homes – to our own sacred homes.
