UNDERGROUND MOVEMENTS

I worked a landscape job back in college and it taught me a lot about nature. Toward the end of the summer season we planted bulbs—tulips, daffodils, and irises. I went and visited my boss on a cold gray December day and recalled the blazing hot day he had us out planting those bulbs. “Oh yes,” he said. “Those bulbs are very busy now. You can’t see anything above ground, but beneath it all, next Spring’s growth is already beginning. The bulbs are storing up energy and setting forth little tendrils. Even on the darkest, coldest day, something important is happening deep beneath the surface.”

In Advent, I think of all the bulbs and roots beneath the earth’s surface. It’s a time of seeming dormancy. But looked at in a different light, in the midst of death, new life has already begun.

Slow down. Honor the season inside you. Take naps. Read long novels. Daydream. Welcome grace. Eat hearty soup and stare out the window at the skeletal trees. A lot is happening out there. A lot is happening in you. Trust like Mary, who said, “Let it be done to me according to thy word.” Guys may have a hard time with that language, but that’s a major lesson of nature. Let it be.

-Tom McGrath

WEEKLY PODCAST

This week's episode is a short, fun Christmas feature with some music and other holiday hijinx. We'll be on break next week, but stay tuned for our special two-part oral history of Holy Infant which will be released shortly after the new year!

JANUARY BOOK STUDY

Many of us struggle to understand and receive food as a natural gift from God. Some of us eat too much food. Or we eat too little. Often, we eat without gratitude, without charity, without respect. But, with a sacramental worldview, the supernatural gift of God's grace can transform and heal us through the food we make, eat, and share.

Join us as we journey through the book together over 6 weeks, reflecting on our relationships with food and how it impacts our spiritual lives.

The study will begin on January 6th and run until Mardi Gras on February 13th. Use the QR code to register.

FIRESIDE CHATS STARTING SOON

One of the hallmarks of Holy Infant is the closeness of our community. To deepen this spirit, beginning in January 2024, Holy Infant will resume the Fireside Chats in which Father Robert visits with as many parishioners as possible in their neighborhoods and homes through informal "fireside chats". These fireside chats will accomplish the following:

- Foster trust and solidarity between parishioners and Father Robert
- Provide a place where parishioners can connect with one another in their own neighborhoods
- Identify ways for all of us to better proclaim and live the Good News in our neighborhoods and parish community.

If you would be willing to open your home to about 30 people and host a fireside chat in your neighborhood, please get in touch with Stacy at StacyP@holynfantchurch.org for more information and to select an available date. Initial dates are listed below.

An invitation will be sent to parishioners as the Fireside Chats come to your neighborhood during the coming year.

Available Upcoming Dates:

January 9

January 23

February 6

February 20

March 5

NEW YEARS RESOLUTION

Learn more about what some refer to as the best-kept secret of the Catholic Church - the seven principles of Catholic Social Teaching.

The group will meet one Sunday a month between the Masses in the Parish Office Living Room to explore becoming a community of salt and light. The first meeting is on January 7th from 9:45-11:00 AM.

For more information contact Julio Revueltas (jrevueltas@hotmail.com) or Elizabeth Tolman (eely@email.unc.edu).

CARING FOR OUR COMMON HOME

Raleigh Diocese parishioners have heard the pope's call to care for the earth by forming North Carolina Catholics Caring for our Common Home.

Our mission is to inspire and mobilize the Catholic community to care for our common home and achieve climate and ecological justice with the urgency the times require. Our members work within their parishes, deaneries, and with other groups throughout the Raleigh diocese to promote and engage in an integral ecological approach that recognizes everything is connected.

To join, please contact Deacon Joshua Klickman at: Deacon.Joshua.Klickman@DeaconsDOR.org.

BURNING QUESTIONS ABOUT LITURGY

Q: We tire of the Christmas tree in our home, but the children tell us we have to keep it up through the Baptism of the Lord. Is that true?

A: Take consolation in the fact they did not request the tree to stay up through the feast of the Presentation of the Lord, which falls on February 2, forty days after Christmas. By some calculations, this is the end of the Christmas season. And yes, despite concerted efforts by the world of commerce to erase all signs of Christmas beginning on December 26, your children are correct. In the church and hopefully in your home, the evergreens continue to stand and the poinsettias, though often visibly tired, persist. I suspect that the problem with Christmastide is that we do not really take Advent very seriously. As a matter of fact we often skip the season of Advent altogether and start celebrating Christmas on the First Sunday of Advent, if not before. It is difficult to take Advent seriously when all of society insists on setting up Christmas trees, playing Christmas songs, and doling out Christmas wishes as soon as the last leftover turkey sandwich has been consumed. As a result, people are understandably tired of Christmas by the time Christmas comes around. The recovery of a true Christmas season thus presumes the recovery of a true Advent season. But I am afraid this is almost a lost cause. So please, listen to your children and stand up against the hostile takeover of Christmas by commerce. Leave up your tree throughout Christmastide. And next year, resist the temptation to buy your Christmas tree until Christmas, even if your children protest. Instead, decorate your home with a beautiful Advent wreath and introduce the lighting of the candles, one by one on the successive Sundays of Advent.

REFLECTING ON THIS WEEK'S SCRIPTURE

2 Samuel 7:1–5, 8b–12, 14a, 16 The kingdom of David shall endure for ever before the Lord.

Psalms 89 "For ever I will sing the goodness of the Lord."

Romans 16:25–27 The mystery kept secret for long ages has now been manifested.

Luke 1:26–38 Behold, you will conceive in your womb and bear a son. In the first reading,

David worries about finding a proper home for the ark of God. After all, it was housed in a tent as if they were still journeying through the desert. In the Gospel, the angel Gabriel comes to a young virgin in Nazareth to announce that God has chosen her to bear the son of God, to provide a home for the Lord.

Let us now make a home in our hearts for the Lord, so that we, like Saint Paul, may make known to the nations the wonders and glories of Jesus Christ. How do I discern what God's will is? Am I willing to trust in God and follow God's will?

SING IT AGAIN, SAM

This weekend we sang "Night of Silence". Use the QR code above to listen and sing it again.

Next weekend we celebrate the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary, and Joseph when we appreciate and ponder the unwavering faith of families throughout Biblical history.

WALKING WITH SAINT NICHOLAS

On the feast of St. Nicholas, I was reminded of the ongoing debate regarding the role of Santa Claus at Christmas. Some Christians feel Santa takes away from the religious message of the Incarnation. They downplay his impact on children or refuse to acknowledge his cultural influence. For Catholics, St. Nicholas is a member of the Communion of Saints who incarnates the spirit of Christmas. Santa communicates the truth of God's love and imitates God's goodness and generosity. There are dozens of debates on the internet discussing the reality of Santa Claus and the way Christians should relate to him.

The conversation about Father Christmas and his place in society did not start with contemporary culture. In 1897, the New York Sun published a famous editorial entitled, "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus." This article caused a sensation and bolstered belief in the mythical man from the North Pole. Fifty years later, the film "Miracle on 34th Street" defended the existence of jolly, old St. Nicholas. The film begins with the image of an elderly, bearded old man walking the streets of present-day New York City. From that first scene, the message is clear – Santa Claus is alive and walking among us. Kris Kringle eventually gets a job in the toy department at Macy's, but the bosses begin to question his sanity and Mr. Kringle must prove to the courts that he is sane.

The film's leading man, Fred Gailey, explains to his girlfriend, Doris: "It's not just Kris that's on trial - it's everything he stands for: it's kindness, joy, love, and all the intangibles." Doris explains: "Fred, we're living in the real world. Those lovely intangibles aren't worth much. Fred replies, "Someday, you're going to find out that your way of facing the world just doesn't work. When you do, don't overlook those intangibles. You'll discover they're the only things that are worthwhile." The film shows how the "tangibles" that Doris discussed (wealth, power, success) never truly satisfy. For Christians, it is only in God that we find true satisfaction. St. Augustine tells us that "our hearts are restless" until they rest in God (Confessions). St. Francis de Sales calls this resting in God the "love of complacency." De Sales explains that: "God is the God of our heart by this complacency since our heart embraces God and makes Him its own (Treatise on the Love of God, ch 5)." As believers, we not only recognize, but we embrace the "intangibles" of life. St. Paul teaches that "we walk by faith, not by sight (2 Corinthians 5:7)." St. Francis de Sales recognized that true love of God is made tangible through our love of neighbor. He tells us that "if we walk steadily and faithfully...God will lift us up to greater things (Treatise)."

Over 125 years ago, the editor of the New York Sun summarized the essence of Santa Claus: "He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to our life its highest beauty and joy." During these wonder-filled days of Advent we pray "that Christ may dwell in our hearts ...rooted and grounded in love, so we may know the love of Christ that surpasses knowledge, and be filled with the fullness of God (Ephesians 3:17)." This is a beautiful description of the communion of saints – our brothers and sisters "filled with the fullness of God." Nicholas is one of our companions walking with us to Christmas and helping the world to see, as Mother Mary de Sales said: "the Savior walking on earth today."
