MESSAGE FROM OUR PASTOR

Dear Parish Family,

Our readings this weekend remind us that God is always present to us amidst the storms and noise of this life. Elijah hears the Lord in a tiny whispering sound after the winds, earthquakes, and fires have passed. Peter sees Jesus and walks on water in the storm when he is totally focused on Christ. We can take the storms of life as a given. God permits these difficulties to strengthen our faith and to restore our trust in Him. What matters most is our focus. When life gets rough, I try to keep my attention focused on Christ and remember the simple mantra "Eyes on Christ." When I do this, I know Jesus sees me, hears me, and is with me in the storm.

It's hard to believe we're at the end of Summer! Our Chardon school families return to school this week, and our St. Mary students return next Monday. Please pray for a wonderful start to their school year. We will have a backpack blessing at all Masses the weekend of August 26th-27th.

Genesis of Gender Book Study

St. Mary Chardon is blessed to be a host parish for the Genesis of Gender book study sponsored by the Diocesan Marriage & Family Life Office and Theology of the Body Cleveland. The book study will be four consecutive Thursdays in September. This timely teaching will help us explore how God created us as male and female so we can better respond to the gender confusion in our culture. Our facilitator, Dr. Joel Johnson, will be at next Sunday's 10:00 a.m. Mass to introduce himself and the book study. More information is available in today's bulletin and in the back of church. Visit <https://www.tobcle.org/tobevents> to register.

OKTOBERFEST INVITE

Save the date for our Parish Oktoberfest on Sunday, September 17. We will start the celebration with a Polka Mass at 12:00 p.m. in the main tent in the rear parking lot, and have some delicious German food and beverages from 1:00-7:00 p.m. We have lots of fun activities planned for all ages. Oktoberfest is free to attend, and food and drink tickets will be available at the door or by online preorder. Please consider volunteering for a shift. Visit <https://stmarychardon.org/oktoberfest-2023> for volunteer signups, ticket preorders and more!

SACRED HEART COUNSELING REFLECTION

In Matthew 17:1-9, the Gospel passage of the Transfiguration from last weekend, we witness a profound moment of spiritual revelation. As Jesus ascends the mountain with Peter, James, and John, He is transfigured before them, shining with divine glory, and in the company of Moses and Elijah. This transformative event carries powerful lessons for our own mental health struggles. Life, at times, mirrors the darkness of the valley rather than the brilliance of the mountaintop. We find ourselves grappling with burdens, fears, and anxieties that seem insurmountable. Yet, the Transfiguration offers us hope in these moments of despair. Just as Jesus revealed His radiant glory amidst the shadows, we, too, can find strength by seeking moments of spiritual connection and revelation during our darkest hours. It is essential to recognize that the journey towards mental well-being is not a solitary one. Jesus brought along His closest companions, Peter, James, and John, to share in His Transfiguration. Similarly, we should not hesitate to lean on our support system when facing our inner struggles. Speaking openly about our challenges and seeking the compassion of friends, family, or professionals can alleviate the weight we carry. The presence of Moses and Elijah signifies the continuity of God's plan throughout history. In times of turmoil, we can draw comfort from the wisdom of our spiritual ancestors. As Saint Augustine once said, "Trust the past to God's mercy, the present to God's love, and the future to God's providence." Embracing this perspective allows us to release the burden of trying to control everything, finding solace in God's loving guidance. The Transfiguration is a reminder that amidst our mental health struggles, we are not alone. By nurturing our spiritual connections, seeking support from others, and trusting in God's providence, we can navigate the valleys with greater resilience and find the strength to rise towards the mountaintop once more.
