St. Francis School

Accredited through June 2020

One of the many things I enjoy about being principal is being able to recognize outstanding students. Each month we celebrate our students' examples of living virtuous lives. We began the year with our first Virtue Assembly on Hope. It was so nice to hear about how our students have demonstrated the virtue of Hope during the first month of school and continue to do so. Whether it was through the way they approached their studies, demonstrated teamwork, or trusted in God; they were all excellent examples of how we should try and live our lives. These student recognitions and shared stories provide examples of how we can live out the virtue of Hope, not only in religious situations, but in how we live our everyday lives.

- * My students display the virtue of hope throughout the day. They demonstrate a great deal of optimism and anticipation when new material is presented to them. They love God and are a sign of God's love for us. – Mrs. Murphy
- * First and foremost, they trust in God. They understand the importance and power of daily prayer. They share their hope with our class. – Mrs. McCarry
- * My students are excited for the future and know that there is always a silver lining. They are positive so everyone around them is hopeful also. – Mrs. Haugsten
- * To hope for something one must first know it is possible and then truly try to achieve it. Working towards their goals and trusting that God is helping them, my students show hope every day. – Miss Skipper

I look forward to sharing more stories next month as we focus on the virtue of cooperation.
