From the desk of Father James

It is amazing to me to be sitting and writing this letter for the First Sunday of Advent, but here we are. This Sunday marks the beginning of a new Liturgical Year for us Catholics. We enter into this new Liturgical Year of Grace, and what better way to start a new year, than to begin by longing for our Lord Jesus to come, to come again in glory, for which we are all waiting, and to remember his first coming when the Word was made Flesh for us.

We enter this season of Advent with true longing in our hearts. We are longing for Him to come back to fulfill the promise He made to return and bring us home to our heavenly Father in heaven. We wait with hope and joyful longing for that day. But as we all know, sometimes (okay maybe a lot of times), we don't like to wait. We get impatient or lose focus. We may even forget what we are waiting for.

Advent helps us to pause and refocus ourselves. We take time, especially during these hectic days leading up to Christmas to pause and remind ourselves what we are waiting for and the importance of always being alert and ready to greet our loving Lord. To refocus on what is truly important, Jesus' birth into the world and His return to bring us home.

We will not know the day or the hour when He will come. Let us take this time of Advent to slow down and redirect our hearts to wait with joyful hope for the coming of our Savior Jesus Christ.

In the Spirit of St. Francis...

- ♦ To Kristie Greenslitt and Amy Cookson for sharing their time phone sitting & helping in the parish office.
- ♦ To Jennifer Pitt, Nadine Fuchs, Natalie Fuchs, Ella Bowman, Lara Fuchs, Rosary Contreras, Megan Knickerbocker and Sue Willard for making the tags for the Giving Tree.
- ♦ To Lori Oliver for coordinating the Giving Tree tags and enlisting great volunteer help.
- ♦ To LeRoy Nollette for making the Allen wrench key holders for the church keys.

In the Spirit of St. Francis...THANK YOU!

Guest Speaker for Advent – Sunday, December 13

Time: 11:30 am – 1:00 pm

Location: Begin in the Parish Center & End in the Church

The Knights of Columbus, Strong Catholic Families, and Faith Formation have teamed together to host an all parish event featuring international speaker Deacon Harold Burke-Sivers. (Deaconharold.com)

We will begin with a luncheon, (11:30 am – 12:15 pm) followed by a rousing presentation by Deacon Harold (12:30 pm in the church).

Childcare will be provided for preschool through fifth grade, offering the children an opportunity to learn about Advent in a more “action filled” class.

Faith Formation

RCIA

This Sunday, November 29, the First Sunday of Advent, those who have begun the journey toward the Easter sacraments will celebrate the Rite of Election and the Rite of Welcome at the 10:30 am Mass. This marks the beginning of the period of the Catechumenate. We rejoice with them. Welcome them as you would welcome Christ.

Confirmation

Our Confirmation class spent 24 hours together during the Fall Retreat. During this retreat we focused on community building as well as how each fulfills his/her purpose in the community as a whole. We had a visit from a seminarian from Mt. Angel Seminary, Luke Stager, who shared his testimony and call to the priesthood. We assembled sandwiches and handed out about 200 lunch sacks to the homeless on the streets of downtown Portland. We gathered with our sponsors for dinner to begin the spiritual journey together. We experienced different forms of prayer in order to deepen our relationship with Christ. To finish off the night, we played broomball just after midnight at the Sherwood Ice Arena. To conclude the retreat the next morning, our focus was on acknowledging our current relationship with the Lord.

Also, our Confirmation class met to learn about Revelation and the Four Marks of the Catholic Church. There was great interaction amongst the class learning the basic theology – this class particularly answers well with chocolate as a reward!

Thank you to all who helped out with the Confirmation Retreat: Patrick Nave, Bryan Leach and Todd Dalebroux for driving and chaperoning the teens downtown; Jennifer Peniuk for chaperoning the downtown trip; Valerie Dalebroux, Mary Davidson and Jeanne Nave for beatifying and hosting the sponsor/candidate dinner; Jeff Wiren and the Cub Scout Troop who helped set up all the tables and chairs for the dinner; Terri Wexted and Patrick Nave who provided the “Midnight Express” car ride to and from the ice arena; to the Knights of Columbus who accommodated and fed the 40 hungry retreatants Sunday morning; Rob Gonzalez, Laura Potter and Tim Clarke who made many sacrifices to teach and chaperone the weekend retreat.

I Hear You, Lonely Mama by Jane Korvemaker on November 2,
2015 Articles from our Contributors, For Your Family

I see you, lonely mama. You were introduced to me at a parish mom's group. I listened intently when you chatted nonchalantly about your career, your first cute and absolutely adorable little baby, how you found out about the group and decided on a whim to check it out. I heard the nervousness, covered with talking and chatting and running after kids. I heard you looking for validation. I heard you and I saw myself in you.

I was in a similar position with my first child, stretched far away from family in a new city. I didn't know how to be a mom. I didn't have much to rely on for help, just like you were telling me you don't feel you have. I struggled with what was normal. I struggled with finding a fit with different groups too. It still makes me nervous, this stretching out of myself to try to meet new people. But I must admit you were quite graceful at it and I admire your courage.

I heard you mention that you just don't know what to do with church and your baby. You haven't gone to Mass since your baby was born because you just don't know how to do it. How does one manage a crying baby? How does one nurse when they get so hungry? What if she cries at the wrong time?

I hear you trying to connect to your faith. I hear your struggle. And I want to give you such a big embrace for asking these questions and being courageous and coming to the group. All I want to share with you is that you are absolutely without a doubt welcome.

Welcome to come to Mass and just be. Join us and be who you are and let your daughter be who she is. Is she fussy? She's welcome! And as a coping Mama so are you. Is she always hungry? Nurse away! Is she awkward to carry at times? Come and sit and the both of you rest in the love of our God. In our community there is almost always a child crying (and I can vouch for my own at least once per Mass) and so we can embrace this as the normal of our here-and-now lives. Children are normal. Their tantrums are normal. Their mischief is normal. Poopy diapers are normal (as are the explosions, unfortunately). Their joy is normal. Their blessed innocence is normal. The gift of who they are is our normal.

Our community is less when you can't join us. While we are a community far from being perfect, we are now closer to the perfection we strive for when you are with us. We are fuller with you and especially now that I know you and I can call you by name and remember your face. I miss the times that you are not with us. I'm eager to encourage you and help you find that normal. I'm eager for you to find that community you've been searching for in us. We're not perfect, but we are a bunch of misfits loving our God together. I think we can all relate to that. All of us parents are continually trying to figure out our kids as they change so frequently and sometimes we don't get them figured out right. Sometimes that spills over into our worship time. Sometimes not. There is always a place for us here.

So I will search the congregation at Mass these coming weekends. If we get there before Mass starts, I would invite you to sit with us and see how well our "normal" works during Mass. It doesn't always. But sometimes, it does. You can listen to how well other families' "normal" works for them. And best of all, we can be together listening to and worshipping our God.

I see you, lonely mama. I don't want you to be lonely anymore.

St. Francis School

Accredited through June 2020

Sunday, November 29, the Church begins the Season of Advent.

Advent is not the same as Christmas. Advent is a time to praise God for his great gift of his Son, Jesus. It is a time to think about how ready we are to receive Jesus whenever he comes to us: in those who are in need; in the Eucharist at Mass; and at the end of time when Jesus comes in glory. Advent is a time to prepare our hearts and souls to celebrate the birthday of the Messiah.

There are four weeks in Advent. The First Sunday of Advent is a good time to talk with your child about how important it is to prepare to receive Jesus. Before you begin decorating and shopping and partying, talk with your child about the things you and your family can do to observe the weeks of Advent.

I wish you a holy Advent and a Blessed Christmas Season.

When is an oath lawful? The glory of God, the good of our neighbor or our own personal good would be suitable reason for taking an oath.

Men indeed swear by a greater than themselves, and in all their disputes an oath is final for confirmation (Heb. 6:16.)

Respect Life

"The beginning of the liturgical year helps us to relive the expectation of God made flesh in the womb of the Virgin Mary, God who makes himself small, He becomes a child, it speaks to us of the coming of a God who is near, who wanted to experience the life of man, from the very beginning, to save it completely, fully. And so the mystery of the Incarnation of the Lord and the beginning of human life are intimately connected and in harmony with each other within the one saving plan of God, the Lord of life of each and every one of us. The Incarnation reveals to us, with intense light and in an amazing way, that every human life has an incomparable, a most elevated dignity." ~Pope Benedict XVI
