REST IN PEACEClement Steele, parishioner,
husband of Jane Steele.DEAR PARISHIONERS,

Dear Parishioners,

Happy Father's Day.

We read about the glory of our Heavenly Father in scripture, but our current, contemporary society isn't so easy on the role of the father in our culture. We see examples anywhere from the brilliant to the buffoon or the dignified to the deadbeat. We see these examples in good old television shows with the impressive father figures such as Ward Cleaver on Leave it to Beaver or Jim Anderson on Father Knows Best. We also see the more contemporary programs with the not so impressive characters of Homer Simpson on The Simpsons and Hank Hill on King of the Hill.

To be honest, I have been guilty of being critical of my own father as I tried to figure him out through my time of adolescence and early adulthood. As I reflect on that experience a quote from Mark Twain comes to mind, "When I was a boy of 14, my father was so ignorant I could hardly stand to have the old man around. But when I got to be twenty-one, I was astonished at how much the old man had learned in seven years."

My father was a hard worker and he made us all work hard, so much so, that we actually enjoyed going to school! We couldn't wait to get off that farm! He and Mom made it quite clear to each of us that we had three choices after graduating from high school. Go to a college or trade school. Go to the military service. Or, get a job off of the farm. And if you wanted to start farming, you started on your own.

With a critical eye, it was easy for us to see our Dad as a foreman pushing us hard and kicking us out of the nest. But through his eyes, education or another path was a better option for us even if we didn't see it for ourselves. By being hard workers, we left good impressions upon others and we, ourselves, grew to appreciate the good, honest, hard work done by others. By forcing us out of the nest, he and Mom helped us grow up and learn to spread our own wings.

Dad and Mom have slowed down quite a bit in the twilight years of being in their eighties. The physical realities of aging has presented them with new limitations that doesn't allow them to work so hard anymore. That's okay, they have worked hard enough. Nevertheless, I recognize how blessed I have been and currently am as my love and admiration for them continues to grow.

I give credit to Dad and his extra incentive to put that "drive" in us. It has certainly helped me and my siblings endure many a tough life situation. To use an old adage which fits, "When the going gets tough, the tough get going!" His strong spirit and relentless drive became mine as I navigated through seminary studies. It also aided me later as I engaged in the rigors of getting my pilot's license and the additional ratings that I enjoy today.

Yes, indeed, Dad served as a great inspiration in faith and in flying. He was the first to receive my priestly blessing after I was ordained and then, ten years later, I was privileged to have him hop on in the little two-seater Cessna 152 that I used for my flight training. Cramped in that cabin shoulder to shoulder and elbow to elbow, Dad was my first ever passenger after I got my pilot's license. I didn't tell him this until after we landed! Whether or not that was a blessing I am unsure, but I am certain it was an incentive to offer prayers of thanksgiving when we touched down and taxied back to the hanger.

Fr. Phil Gibbs, Pastor

SUMMER MUSIC MINISTRY UPDATE

Coordinator of Liturgical Music
Amy Dolan

This Summer we are trying something different: instead of singing a song after the dismissal, we will sing a hymn at the end of Communion. The General Instruction on the Roman Missal does not specify that there should be a hymn sung at the end of the Mass, but actually indicates that "when the distribution of Communion is over...a hymn may be sung by the whole congregation." So, we will invite all to sing at this time, rather than after the Mass has ended. We will use an instrumental recessional to accompany the priest/deacon as they go out of the church, and we ask the congregation to wait to disperse until they have left the sanctuary. Thank you.

During the summer months we open up our choir to anyone who is age 15 or older and who wants to sing! If you've ever thought about singing with the choir, summer is a great time to try it out. Please arrive one hour before Mass for rehearsal. Here are a few of the upcoming dates:

June 18, 9 AM, June 24, 4 PM and July 2 at 9 AM.

For a complete list of choir dates, you can visit the parish website. Just go to <https://res-dbq.org/liturgical-ministries>, look for the music ministry schedules and menus to find dates and music.

We are looking for someone to lead our Chime Choir for the 2023-24 School Year. Director would be responsible for preparing and leading a weekly rehearsal and directing choir at monthly Mass. Music/Ed. Degree helpful. For more information call or email a.dolan@dbqarch.org.

A FAMILY PERSPECTIVE

The “troubled and abandoned” children in our world are “sheep without a shepherd.” Today Jesus asks our “hearts be moved to pity for these children” and reminds us. Without cost you received, without cost you must give. Go to the lost sheep” —Bud Ozar

MARRIAGE ENRICHMENT

“Without cost you have received; without cost you are to give” (Mt 10:8). Do you give of yourself to your spouse and family without cost, or do you expect something in return? This week, be mindful of the giving, especially offering prayers for those you love.
