FROM FR. RICHARD

Labor Day

Monday, September 2nd, is Labor Day, the unofficial end of summer and a day we set aside to honor the dignity of human work in all its diversity. All of us are charged to labor for our bread, whether in an office, a laboratory, a home, a school, with our minds, with our hands, on a computer or outside in the elements. Work is an indispensable part of life, essential for our survival and formative of our character. All human labor has inherent dignity as we work to support ourselves and our loved ones. On Monday, we pause from our labors to celebrate in prayer and parade, in song and reflection, this great capacity to work in a variety of ways to support the family we are charged to care for.

In 1981, nearly 40 years ago, Saint John Paul II issued the third encyclical of his historic papacy entitled Laborem Exercens, "On Human Work." It was the first social encyclical of his pontificate and marked the nineteenth anniversary of Pope Leo XIII's groundbreaking social encyclical, Rerum Novarum, in 1891. "On Human Work" was specifically focused on the dignity and role of human work in our lives. The five chapters of this important encyclical letter propose the Pope's theology of work and situate his fresh insights within the developing tradition of Catholic social teaching. He elaborates on the meaning of work in our lives from a subjective perspective. He further asserts that the worker has priority over capital in the ongoing tension between labor and capital in the modern economy. With an eye on the then solidarity movement in Poland, the pope outlines the human rights of workers in contemporary society. In the final chapter of this very personal encyclical, Pope John Paul II offers a spirituality of work by demonstrating how our work enters into God's saving design for human beings who share in the activity of the Creator, Redeemer, and Sanctifier.

The issues raised in Laborem Exercens are as important today as they were a generation ago when Poland and other Eastern block countries broke free from Soviet domination and began to move toward democracy. Pope Saint John Paul II was familiar with human labor from his own work in the mines and chemical company before he began his seminary studies. The Pope's methodology bears his distinctive combination of the phenomenological description of human experience with philosophical and theological meditation. For anyone interested in a better understanding of the dignity and purpose of human work from a Catholic perspective, I encourage you to read "On Human Work," issued in 1981.

LORD, THIS LABOR DAY

POUR OUT AGAIN YOUR BLESSING AND STRENGTH
ON ALL WHO WORK TO MAKE IT POSSIBLE FOR OTHERS TO HAVE A BETTER LIFE!

SCRIPTURE REFLECTION

From the Saint Andrew Bible Missal

At the banquet of life, we do not hesitate to elbow to other people out of the way to get the best places. But Jesus shows us how different this is from the kingdom. To enter His reign we must be humble. Gospel humility is not a religious sado-masochism motivated by self-hatred or obsequiousness. Assertiveness and humility are not mutually exclusive. They both require that we be true to our dignity as image of God. Jesus who was in the form of God left the first place to take the last. That is why "God highly exalted Him." (Phil 2:6-9)

In a second meal image, we find another warning against clever calculation. Our invitation list must include those who have no means to repay us. Christ, who is found in these least ones (Matthew 25:31-46), will return the invitation in the banquet of the kingdom.

"You should be pleased that they cannot repay you, for you will be repaid in the resurrection of the just."

OFFICE HOURS

Due to Labor Day on Monday, September 2nd, the Saint Paul of the Cross Main and Satellite Offices will be closed. The Main Office will re-open on Tuesday, September 3rd with regularly scheduled hours, and the Satellite Office will re-open on Wednesday, September 4th at 9am.

ONLINE VS. ENVELOPES

In our transition into using Faith Direct for online donations and the union of Saint Anne and Saint Winifred Parishes, some parishioners had been removed from the envelope mailing list. If you contribute online and would like to receive envelopes in the mail, please contact Rachel Wanovich in the Parish Office at (412) 531-5964 or rwanovich@stpaulofthecross.com. A starter set will be sent immediately to your home and monthly offertory envelopes will arrive shortly after.

MISSION TRIP THANK YOU

Thank You Brunch

All parishioners are invited to attend the youth group's thank you brunch in Benedict Hall this Sunday, September 1st following the 10am Mass! A light breakfast will be provided and the students will present a slideshow with pictures and videos from their service trip. High school students interested in attending next year's trip are also invited to attend, as well! The dates, location, and information for the 2020 trip will be announced following the breakfast.

Welcome Students, Teachers, and Staff!

On August 26th, Saint Anne School welcomed students, teachers, and staff to a new school year! This year, there is a very different, very exciting energy in the school as we welcomed nearly FIFTY new students and two new teachers! Miss Maggie Ianachione joined our staff as an English Language Arts teacher. She holds a Bachelor of Science in Secondary Education and a Bachelor of Arts in English. Additionally, we've welcomed Mrs. Alaina Seifert to teach Math. Mrs. Seifert holds a Bachelor of Science in Education with a Mathematics Concentration. Welcome Miss Ianachione and Mrs. Seifert! We are so blessed to have you on our staff!

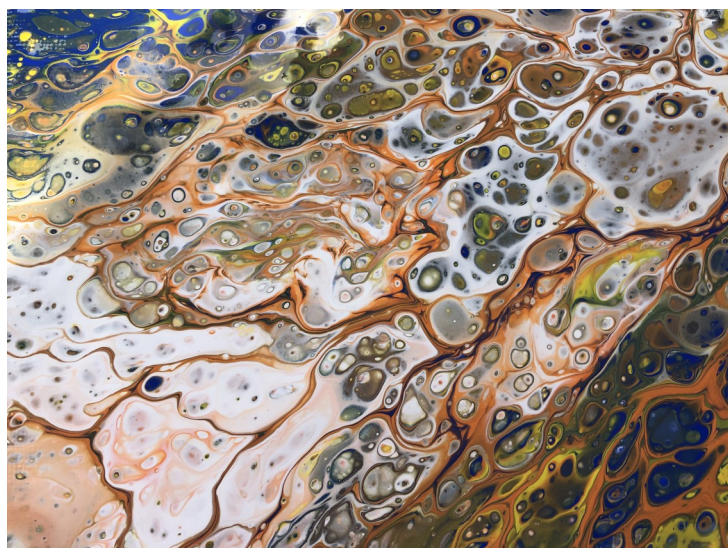

Ms. Ianachione

Over the summer there were also changes to our school building including the transformation of our Preschool classroom, the creation of an Art Lab, installation of additional Dell Interactive Boards and classroom furniture, and the renovation of the plaza entrance to the building!

Mrs. Seifert

First Day

Art teacher Mrs. Gamrat taught her 4th & 5th grade students how to paint with acrylics using a "dirty pour" technique. Specifically, a "pouring medium" (silicone oil) was added to acrylic paints, and then poured into a cup. The cup was then flipped upside down on a canvas and then lifted. Each student then tilted their canvas in different directions to let the paint flow and the colors interact in unpredictable, interesting ways. The silicone oil caused a chemical reaction with the paint and forces air bubbles to be pushed up through the layers of paint pulling colors from the bottom. One of Mrs. Gamrat's students exclaimed, "I've never done ANYTHING like this before!"
