Small Matters – Week 3

September 21, 2025 – 25th Sunday in Ordinary Time

1. Which of these infractions irritates you the most when someone else does it? Which are you most likely to commit?
 - Driving recklessly
 - Spending time at work on non-work related matters
 - Cheating on taxes
 - Jumping ahead of a line
 - Interrupting others
 - Gossiping
 - Eating poorly
2. Is there any spiritual harm inflicted by cheating on these little things in life? Is this felt immediately or later? How does this harm show up?
3. Share an example of a time when you went out of your way to be trustworthy in small matters. Did this inspire others to trust you in greater matters?
4. How are you using the gifts God has given you? Specifically, how do you ensure you use your time wisely? Talents? Money? Faith?
5. This week's Gospel (Luke 16:1-13) ends with the statement that one cannot serve both God and mammon (that is, money, wealth or anything we treasure).
 - a. What was mammon to you this week? That is, your biggest temptation/distraction from what God would want for/from you.
 - b. Which did you serve - God or mammon?
