Here we are on this day with dual identity. This morning it is the Fourth Sunday of Advent. This evening it is Christmas Eve! It will be a crazy day, for sure, but when evening falls and the hustle and bustle is done, the magic of Christmas will descend. There is magic to this night. There is not another one like it in the year. Don't you think there is a divine cause? Before talking about the magic, let's acknowledge that this evening is not necessarily easy for everyone. Not everyone has a family to gather with tonight. We don't all live in a Hallmark Christmas movie in which everything comes together perfectly for Christmas. Some of us are alone or working or dealing with sadness and difficulties. So, what's this magic? It's the realization, the confidence that with God incarnate, we are good. We are so good. We have God with us upholding us, surrounding us with His divine presence, with His peace. We feel loved. God is very much at work this evening. I pray that each one of us knows it, feels it deep inside.

The Christmas concert on the evening of the 15th was terrific. I told you Vivaldi's Gloria is a piece full of joy. I think from what I observed those in attendance agreed. Glen and our choir invested much time into learning, polishing, and presenting for us this great work as well as the very lovely choral pieces. They enriched us. The carol sing-a-long added a fun component that is just not around much anymore. Thank you, Glen and choir! Our reception afterwards centered around dozens of homemade Christmas cookies, a gift from Donna Carangelo and her co-bakers Terri and Samantha Thompson. We thank them for this visually beautiful and personal touch to conclude the evening.

Next Sunday is the Feast of the Holy Family. You see a regular Sunday schedule with no vigil Masses for the Feast of Mary, Mother of God. That is because Monday, January 1, 2024 is not a day of obligation this year. As you recall, when this feast falls on a Friday or Monday, the obligation to attend Mass is abrogated. We have two Masses on January 1, but at a different holiday time – 10 a.m. and 12 noon. Everyone needs some down time that morning.

Deacon Rafael, Deacon Dave, Fr. Riley and I extend to you our warm wishes for joy and love this Christmas and good health and peace for the year ahead. Merry Christmas!

SAINT PETER SCHOOL NEWS**

On behalf of St. Peter School, I would like to wish each of you a very Merry Christmas during this holy season.

Each one of us has one or two Christmas carols which speak to our hearts in a special way. While Silent Night will always be a favorite carol of mine, this year I am especially touched by the song our St. Peter School students will be singing once again this year, Prince of Peace. We sang it last year and I found myself going back to listen to the recording several times throughout the year because it is such a beautiful, simple and comforting piece of music. As the months have gone by, it continues to speak to my heart in a way that simply can not be easily brushed aside. The refrain is, "Healer of men, peace again." Our world is in a state where we need the healing power of Jesus's love more than ever. Just like that first Christmas, it appears that our world is once again in need of exactly what the magi and shepherds went in search of on that cold, dark night long ago - the Prince of Peace.

This Christmas I pray that the Prince of Peace will fill us all with renewed hope and that His light will shine in the areas where darkness prevails. May the gifts of peace, love, and happiness find you all during this most blessed season of Christmas.

Christmas blessings,

St. Peter School Staff and Students

—Mrs. Mary Lou Torre, Principal

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION**

May you and your loved ones know the joy that comes from the mystery of Christ's birth among us! May we continue to be witnesses of Christ's mercy to one another. Christmas blessings to all!

NAVIDAD = NATIVIDAD = NACIMIENTO

La Navidad es una fiesta muy especial y esperada por toda la comunidad religiosa Cristiana católica, pues nos preparamos para conmemorar un aniversario más del nacimiento de nuestro Salvador Jesucristo, el Mesías. Pero antes que llegue el día de Navidad témenos que reflexionar, meditar, discernir y arrepentirnos. Y teniendo en cuenta que ya se acerca el Mesías, ¿te has puesto a pensar si estas preparado para ese encuentro con ÉL?

Nuestra Iglesia Católica esá, en estos momentos, pasando por el tiempo de Adviento, tiempo donde las Sagradas Escrituras y la Iglesia nos invitan a prepararnos reflexionando, meditando, limpiando nuestro corazón para recibir en él al niño Dios. Y, como nos dice San Juan Bautista en el Evangelio correspondiente al 2do. Domingo de Adviento: “preparen el camino del Señor, allanen sus senderos”. ¿Has tú pensado en esto que nos pide San Juan Bautista. ¿Has enderezado tu camino, has allanado tus senderos? Conociendo la proximidad de esta fiesta y conociendo lo rápido en que pasan los días debemos de actuar rápido, porque nuestro Señor puede llegar en cualquier instante, en cualquier momento, a media noche, a medio día, en la tarde. Y “como a mujer necia encontrarnos con nuestra lámpara apagada y sin aceite. Entonces Él no nos abrirá la puerta para dejarnos entrar a su festín, a su banquete de bodas”.

Hermano, hermana escuchemos a San Juan Bautista que grita en el desierto: “allanen los senderos del Señor”, de este modo, cuando llegue el dueño de la boda nos encontrará con nuestra lámpara encendida y nos dirá: “siervo bueno pasa al banquete de mi boda”. En otras palabras, “entra al reino de mi Padre, mi Padre te lo ha prometido”.

FELIZ NAVIDAD a todos y todas...!!

God Is With US

Today as we contemplate the birth of Jesus, we must note that the Gospel of Christ is not a fairy tale, it is not a myth nor just an uplifting tale. The Gospel of Christ is the full revelation of God's plan for human beings and the world. It is a message that is both simple and grandiose, that prompts us to ask ourselves: what concrete project has the Lord placed in me, as he continues to make his birth present among us?

The nativity scene is like a living Gospel, reminding us of one essential thing: that God did not remain invisible in heaven, but came to earth, becoming a human child. God is not a distant lord or a detached judge, but a humble love, descended down to us. The child in the crib conveys his tenderness to us. The child with open arms tells us that God has come to embrace our humanity. It is good to stand in front of the nativity scene and there to confide in the Lord about our lives, to talk to God about the people and situations we care about, to share our expectations and concerns. We remember that Jesus came to us, that he became human like us, and that he accompanies us. In everyday life we are no longer alone, for he lives with us. He doesn't magically change things, but if we accept him, everything can change. Happy Christmas!
