We Are a People of Hope

As boldly stated in the opening words of Pope Francis' Bull of Indiction, "Spes non confundit (Hope does not disappoint)," hope is the unifying theme of the Ordinary Jubilee of 2025 which began with the traditional opening of the Holy Door of Saint Peter's Basilica on December 24, 2024, by Pope Francis, and it continues until the closing of the Holy Door potentially on January 6, 2026, the solemnity of the Epiphany of the Lord by Pope Leo XIV. What a blessing for us to be in the midst of this history: to be led by two Popes in one important Jubilee.

As Pope Francis so beautifully expressed: "We must fan the flame of hope that has been given us and help everyone to gain new strength and certainty by looking to the future with an open spirit, a trusting heart and far-sighted vision." During the Jubilee Year, we are invited to embark on a pilgrimage of hope, so that, "Through our witness, may hope spread to all those who anxiously seek it."

But what exactly is hope? It is not just optimism — it is a deep confidence in God's love and faithfulness, even in difficult times. Hope encompasses the desire for the kingdom of heaven and eternal life, placing trust in Christ's promises and relying on the grace of the Holy Spirit. And while hope can involve feelings of joy and peace, it is ultimately an act of will, a decision to trust in God's plan and rely on His grace.

As servant leaders and faithful members of the Catholic Daughters of the Americas,

Father John Erick Villa
National Chaplain

we are called to be the people of hope like Mary. If we truly believe in Christ and His victory on the Cross, we know that there is always hope. God is for us, not against us, and He gave us Mary to remind us of this truth.

Sometimes the things that happen in life leave you asking, "Why? Why now? Why this? Why me? Why?" But instead of asking these "why" questions, we are challenged to ask instead: "What do you want me to learn from this, Lord?" The answer to this more important question impacts and compels our lives in so many other ways. It leads to the love of Christ manifested not only in our joys, but even in the seemingly painful episodes of our lives. And we get to listen to God in the silence of our hearts, especially in our grace-filled time with Him at the Blessed Sacrament.

"For the love of Christ urges us," it says in 2 Corinthians 5, He chooses to use every weakness of ours to demonstrate His strength. No one denies that life can be hard. But it could also be full of purpose for us and for those whom we touch with our lives.

And truly, a big part of hope is the need to wait. To stay still. And to celebrate the moment. Many of us find it hard to sit still, or to take time for quiet reflection and self-examination. It can be hard to wait patiently in the darkness for the light to come in God's appointed time. God's plan unfolds in His way and time, not ours.

We are a people of hope, and our relationship with the Blessed Mother anchors us to the love of Jesus, her Son, our Lord and Savior.

NATIONAL REGENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Catholic Daughters,
It is hard to believe that I am past the midway point of my two-year term already! How time flies.

And what a busy, productive and satisfying first year it has been. I am blessed to be able to work with such a wonderful National Board. Each member is a true Team Player, and we work well together in Unity and Charity -- and, I would add, Harmony. I am proud of every member and love working with them. Thank you, National Board.

In July, we held our State and Territorial Officers Conference at the Franciscan Renewal Center in Scottsdale, Arizona. It was a satisfying and inspiring three days, filled with informative and fun presentations, lots of shared CDA spirituality and sisterhood, and lots of cheerful networking.

As I looked out at the gathering, I was moved by the attentive and enthusiastic faces and could feel positive energy throughout the room. It was encouraging to have a large number of first timers. I was fortunate to speak personally with many attendees, and from these encounters, I am confident we are truly "CDA Building Hope for the Future," the theme of this issue of SHARE.

It was especially exciting to have Territorial Regents at the Conference. Territorial Regents have a unique leadership role within our order and their participation is vital. To have a State Board there must be at least five courts. Territorial Courts are states with fewer than five and function as local courts. Does this make them any less? Absolutely not! The order is proud of you and recognizes that you face unique challenges. Although you have fewer courts and less "territory" to cover, you have the support of the National Board and past officers of your court who can support you. You have your National Supervisor and your National Regent to call on whenever you need. I encourage frequent communication by phone, email or zoom with your National Supervisor. Keep up the good work!

We have updated the Officers section on our CDA Website to include the names and email addresses of Territorial Regents and the names and locations of the courts in their states. On the web you see National Contacts, State Contacts and now Territorial Contacts in the search scroll. My hope is that it gives you another option, by being able to be in communication with other Territorial Court Regents to offer each other support and the chance to share ideas.

In June, I had the privilege of attending the Texas JCDA Convention in San Antonio.

What an awesome and inspiring weekend to spend with these lovely ladies who we pray someday will be members and officers to fill our shoes to keep Catholic Daughters alive and well in the future. The JCDA State Officers conducted a very well ordered and productive convention, with beautiful spirituality at every turn and capped off with a lot of fun. I encourage all State Officers and local courts to consider JCDA in your state. I promise you won't regret this blessing of beautiful young ladies. It was wonderful to see how the older girls looked after and helped the younger JCDA members.

In what other ways is "CDA Building Hope for the Future?" One important event on the horizon is the Biennial Convention in Iowa next year. It is being held July 22-26, 2026. Please "Save the Dates." It provides a unique opportunity for learning, sharing and bonding with your sisters from around the country. The Convention provides a look at the broader picture of CDA and the purposes of our order. It's a magnificent opportunity to pray together and work together for the good of our order while meeting new CDA sisters and renewing friendships from previous conventions. So many of our CDA sisters will join as women of faith to realize what a special and blessed group we are and what a big difference we are making in our church, community and world.

Another way of building hope for the future is increasing membership. This is vitally important at this point in our order when membership is falling. If you haven't already, jump into the National Board Membership Contest. We are in the midst of phase two; there is more information on the CDA Website.

Please continue your trademark CDA charitable generosity. During the first half of my term, we have seen so many disasters, and I am so grateful to all of you who stepped up and donated for the disruptive hurricanes in Florida and North Carolina and unbelievable fires in California. From our general disaster fund we also sent money to two dioceses when they experienced major damage to their parishes. And then the unimaginable disaster in Texas with the overwhelming floods and the terrible loss of life. One again the CDA in Unity and tremendous Charity provided relief funds to those suffering so deeply.

Let us keep our CDA Patroness, the Blessed Mother Mary, close to our hearts. From years ago, many of us will remember the bracelets we wore with the slogan "WWJD -What Would Jesus Do?" As you consciously Build Hope for yourself and your Catholic Daughter sisters for the future, sometimes ask yourself..." WWMD - "What Would Mary Do?"

What if Mary was sitting beside us at a meeting or a court event? We would be on our very best behavior that we learned at our earthly mother's knee. Maybe we should provide a seat for Mary our heavenly Mother so that all we do is done in Catholic Daughter Unity and Charity.

Keep your focus on "Be the Beacon of Hope, a Light in the Darkness."

KEEPING OUR MEMBERSHIP

Engaged and Involved

Essie Walker
National Regent-Elect
National Membership Chairman

Members' time and talents are vital to the growth of Catholic Daughters. It is important that we keep our members engaged and involved in CDA and community activities. Achieving this requires developing robust relationships, organizing more group activities, expressing appreciation, and comprehending the needs of our members.

How well do we know our members? It only takes a minute to hold that one-on-one conversation. While waiting for a meeting or social event to start, walk around and talk to members. Take time to find out how they have been since the last gathering. It is important to keep the questions on the light side. If the member would like to share more in-depth information, take time to listen. As I always say, we never know what is going on in anyone's home or in their everyday personal life.

We know that we value our members. However, it is just as important to let members know how much they are valued. Members should hear that all they do for CDA, their parish and in the community is appreciated. This approach will encourage participation and contribute to the growth of our organization.

Have you ever thought about your court members volunteering as a group? Plan an event in the community. Activities may include cleaning the park, assisting at a nursing home, helping to paint an elderly person's home, or planting a community garden. These events will benefit the community and strengthen bonds among members. Group work encourages reluctant members to get involved. Remember, some members only need to be asked.

As leaders, let us identify and promote opportunities to encourage more bonding membership participation. One suggestion is to form a team of members to put together an elevator pitch to promote CDA. The pitch can be utilized during membership drives or having that one-on-one conversation with a prospective member. It will be important for all members on the team and in the court to know the pitch. Have the team to start with the inception of CDA. Let us say back to 1903 up to the present time. Talk about the great work your court is doing as a group.

Members like to know that they are part of an organization that is effective not only in the lives of others but also the lives of the members. Our success in growing membership depends on fulfilling the needs and expectations of our current members.

Our Past National Regent Emily Guilherme wrote a Membership article entitled Membership Retention. The topics were Be Active, Be Positive, Be Open, and Be Bold. A line in Be Active stood out as significant, "Women who do not feel their gifts are being utilized, frequently lose their passion and start dropping off. So, utilize their gifts."

Our members are the most valuable resources within Catholic Daughters. Assess your court's methods for promoting membership engagement, evaluating members' activity levels, collecting suggestions from members about group activities, and ensuring all members feel appreciated.

Let us revisit our Mission Statement and Motto.

The Catholic Daughters of the Americas (CDA) strive to embrace the principle of faith working through love in the promotion of justice, equality, and the advancement of human rights and human dignity for all.

Our Motto: Unity and Charity.

Take a moment to reflect on the fact that we are a women's organization that focuses on the following:

- Promoting Justice and Equality: We should work toward creating a society where everyone is treated with fairness and respect.

- Advancing Human Rights and Dignity: We advocate for the fundamental rights and inherent worth of all individuals.
- Working Through Love: We believe in putting our faith into acts of charity and service.
- Our motto encourages us to come together in faith and support one another, as well as to extend support to our communities through charitable works.

Membership currently stands at 52,824 members. There are 4 Campus Courts, 32 State Courts, 1004 Local Courts, and 27 Territorial Courts. 🏰

Building HOPE for the Future of Families

Barb Wiechmann
National Director
National Family Chairman

As I was reading about hope and families, some of the focus was on how loud life is now. I always thought that family life was loud until the lights would go out at night. At times it was a challenge to find a quiet isolated spot. Yes, I was the second oldest in a family of 9 kids in a house with 4 bedrooms. It was just family noise... not TV, social media etc.

The first chapter in our story begins with a family. A family is where we learn what it is to love and to care about others. With the world changing fast, families are learning to evolve with the changes. It is how they evolve and adapt that is challenging. In the “olden” days we did not have the social media influence of today. Today, families need to learn to use social media in a positive way. I know there are calendar apps to enter everyone’s activities on a schedule and that schedule is usually full, pulling parents/caregivers in so many directions. A suggestion could be to add Mass to the calendar with options for attending at different times on Saturday and Sunday. Church is not always on the important list of activities. So, how do we encourage church to be moved up on the list of important events?

As parish members, we see families at community events and can encourage them to join us for an activity at church. As it is our responsibility to be a positive ambassador for the church, Catholic Daughters can sponsor fun family activities that help parents to build healthy, positive relationships with their children in the church. Prepare a handout or bulletin insert with the names of family apps and Catholic websites available for kids and parents. Consult with your parish or diocese evangelization contact for information to share.

I encourage you to continue your wonderful activities and to share them with other CDA sisters. Remember that this is not just for the local courts to sponsor Circle of Love Family projects. Each State Court is to have a Family project or statewide event also.

Each parish, each culture and area of the country is different, so different activities work to support families. We need to learn from each other, encourage each other and pray for each other. 🙏

“Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it.”

Cathedral of Orvieto

A Pilgrim's Path TO HOPE

Karen Dudash
National Director

Do you have a bucket list? A list of places you want to go and things you want to do. Ultimately, we wish to go to Heaven to be with our Beloved Savior, Jesus Christ. However, before we get there, we have other yearnings. One of mine is to see the Pope in person. When the opportunity arose to go on a pilgrimage to Italy, I jumped at the chance. It promised a papal audience and that my hope of seeing our Holy Father would be fulfilled.

A pilgrimage is a journey undertaken for religious or moral reasons. Such a journey can be transformative, offering a unique blend of physical exploration and inner spiritual renewal. Pilgrims seek a profound understanding, connection, and enlightenment within their faith practice. The reasons one embarks on these sacred trips vary with each traveler. One needs to fulfill a vow, express devotion to a saint, or seek forgiveness for some sin. Looking for answers to life's profound questions may be the motivation. One leaves the familiar behind to follow a path of contemplation and prayer. The hope is to encounter God's grace and obtain spiritual enlightenment.

When I left on the 2025 Oklahoma CDA Jubilee Pilgrimage to Italy, I was unsure of my intention. I knew that the tradition of a pilgrimage was rooted in the Catholic faith. For centuries, believers journeyed to places of religious importance. Often walking in the footsteps of saints and martyrs, pilgrims pray for their intercession and find inspiration from the lives of these holy witnesses to God's sanctifications. For myself, the sacred destinations provided a tangible link to the divine. My pilgrimage led to the Vatican. However, to my dismay, there would be no audience with the Pope. We left Rome before Pope Leo XIV held his first General Audience. I trusted that God had other plans for me.

As this is a Jubilee year, all four major basilicas (St.

Peter's, St. John Lateran, St. Mary Major, and St. Paul's Outside the Walls) in Rome opened Holy Doors. Passing through a Holy Door symbolizes entering a deeper relationship with Christ. As in John 10:9, Jesus said, "I am the door." I found entering a Holy Door a powerful reminder of Christ's presence. St. Peter's Basilica took my breath away. I knew that it was the largest church in the world, but until viewed from the back, one cannot imagine the magnitude of this house of God. Each basilica provided space for prayer, sacraments, and communal worship. At St. Peter's, the Sacrament of Reconciliation was available. There were many participating priests. Each was identified by what languages he spoke. I confessed my sins to a Polish priest who spoke English. Receiving absolution and restoring my relationship with God in this magnificent basilica was amazing.

I left that experience renewed and excited to continue my quest for spiritual awareness. For Catholics, the core of our faith lies in the Eucharist. The transformation of bread and wine into the true Body and Blood of Christ occurs daily on the altars of Catholic churches worldwide. The Blessed Sacrament unites us with Jesus and our brothers and sisters in Christ like nothing else can. Eucharistic Miracles are God's extraordinary interventions to confirm faith. The Lord performs these miracles to give us a visible sign of the Eucharist. There is the true body and blood of the Lord. Our pilgrimage took us to the sites of two Eucharistic Miracles.

The Eucharistic Miracle of Bolsena occurred in 1263 when a visiting priest on pilgrimage stopped at the Basilica of Bolsena (Italy) to celebrate Holy Mass. He spoke the words of consecration, and blood dripped over his hands onto the altar. He recognized by the Catholic Church. In the 8th century, during Holy Mass after the two-part consecration, the host changed to Flesh and the wine to blood. Both are visible in the reliquary housed in the Church of St. Francis.

Our skeptical world regards religion as a private matter. The sacraments are not real but merely symbols of our illusions. Hope is just wishful thinking. I, like Thomas, had doubts, and our Lord condescended to provide proof for all to see. Standing in these churches, viewing the reliquaries, I realized I was not just pondering ancient relics. These wonders are living indicators of hope. Such hope is the heart of the Catholic Church's teachings. "In the most blessed sacrament of the Eucharist, 'the body and blood, together with the soul and divinity of our Lord Jesus Christ and, therefore, the whole Christ is truly, really, and substantially contained.'" CCC1374

Our Lord is shouting through the noise of our busy world, "Come to me. I am here." Hope is the unwavering belief that God keeps His promises. I found the doubts I harbored vanished in the presence of these Eucharist Miracles.

Though my hope of seeing the Pope was dashed by uncontrollable circumstances, the Oklahoma CDA pilgrimage was still an unforgettable journey. There is so much Catholic history rooted in Italy. Words cannot describe the stunning craftsmanship of centuries-old architecture, the artwork that remains so vivid today, and the extensive historical monuments, beautiful Cathedrals, and exquisite Basilicas that made this pilgrimage genuinely inspirational. I encourage every Catholic Daughter to go on a pilgrimage. Not everyone will be able to journey to Italy; however, there are opportunities to travel to religious sites in every state. Check with the diocese to see where you might go. A pilgrimage can provide you with time to honor a saint, a chance to receive forgiveness for a sin, or maybe answer life's difficult questions. For sure, it allows you to leave your everyday life and follow a path of contemplation and prayer. A Jubilee pilgrimage is a path to hope. 🌟

Texas JCDA STATE CONVENTION

Yvette Griego
National Director
National Youth Chairman

The 31st Biennial Texas JCDA State Convention, themed “Come to the Table,” took place in San Antonio with over 220 attendees. JCDA members from across Texas, JCDA Court Chairmen, Past Texas State Officers, parents, and many Catholic Daughter volunteers participated. Congratulations to the outgoing JCDA State officers, for a job well done. Welcome to the new 2025-2027 JCDA Texas State Officers

Thank you for saying YES to this important office. Peggy Supak and Sheila Martinka have served for the past 12 years as Texas JCDA State Co-Chairmen. They have selflessly dedicated many hours guiding and mentoring the State JCDA Officers. Monsignor John Peters has served as the Texas JCDA State Chaplain for over 40 years and continues to serve in this capacity. With the continued support of these individuals, the JCDA Courts continue to thrive and grow. There are currently 61 Texas JCDA courts with over 1,000 members. With this continuity of Chairmanship and with parental involvement, the JCDA members have embraced the JCDA Motto: “Be Useful,” and the goals of “Love God, Serve Others and Live Nobly.” National Regent Susan Mone and I had the honor of attending this well-organized event.

Friday evening, Game Night served as the opening ice breaker and was enjoyed by all attendees. The game “Flags Up” was particularly popular, as was “Ships and Sailors,” which caused much laughter among the participants. During each break, Lindsay Tomlinson took the opportunity to lead the girls in line-dancing, in which they were always ready to participate.

On Saturday morning, the girls participated in “Jumpin’ for Jesus,” which was the designated charity project for the convention. Each court contributed a pack of diapers to be donated to Annunciation Maternity Home. As a result of the generous contributions from the JCDA Courts, several pregnancy shelters received support through the diaper drive.

The 31st Biennial JCDA Convention was called to order by JCDA State President Marisol Rodriguez. Monsignor John led the opening prayers and the Blessing of the Marian Shrine; this was followed by the presentation of Banners and Seating of Delegates. The business of the convention went smoothly throughout the day. National Regent Susan Moné commented on how well the JCDA State Officers conducted the business at hand and stayed on schedule with each of the officers completing her task, of course this was accomplished with the guidance of Peggy and Sheila, close at hand.

Each JCDA court then reported on various activities that they participate in annually. Many courts regularly visit nursing homes to pray the Rosary and bring snacks for the elderly. Other courts reported contributing to local pregnancy centers. Several courts also hold coat drives to be donated to women's shelters. Another noteworthy project is that many courts visit and clean the graves of babies during All Souls Day. These are but a few of the many projects the JCDA Court members participate in throughout the year.

The State Officers presented a skit at the end of the day; here is a brief overview given by Peggy Supak. The state officers provided an invitation to certain selected members along with a sign. The invitation was opened by each person. The message inside was "Come to the table." There was a table up front with nothing but a Bible and Msgr. John sitting there. Each of the invitees came forward with their respective sign and held it up: "Sinner," "Liar," "Bully," "Alone," "Angry," "Jealous," "Doubter." All the while, the song "Come to the Table" by Sidewalk Prophets was playing. At the point in the song where the words are about being redeemed or set free, each member went to the table and their sign was exchanged for a sign that said "Redeemed" or "Set Free" as stated in the song to symbolize that all are welcomed at the table of the Lord no matter where they are in their life. Each member that participated was given a mini-Bible keychain for their participation. You can Google the song/video to get the idea. I think it was very powerful.

Texas State Regent Mary Jane Albert at the time was unable to attend but sent a note to be read by First Vice State Regent Virginia Olsovsky. She encouraged the graduating seniors to join a local CDA court, with their experience in JCDA that it would benefit both them and the court. She also emphasized to all JCDA members to go out and be disciples of Christ as they are the future of CDA!

Congratulations to the newly elected state officers. Best wishes for a successful term. The success of this convention was due to many hours donated by many dedicated CDA members. It was a pleasure and honor to be in attendance as your National JCDA Chairman. 🙏

A very efficient and successful State and Territorial Officers Conference was held July 17-20 at the Franciscan Renewal Center in Scottsdale, Arizona. Space does not allow us to convey all the valuable and vital information that was presented at the conference. This story will present highlights and hear from attendees who express their opinions about the conference.

Careful planning contributed to the Conference's excellence. Because it was held in Scottsdale, Arizona, the Arizona State Board pitched in. Arizona State Regent Lynn Wilson, a member of Court Daughters of St. Anthony, #2651, Casa Grande, Arizona, explains.

"The State Board began planning right after elections at our State Convention. We had a workshop in July with the State Board learning together and focusing on our new roles on our State Board. "We had phone conversations and emails with guidance from the National Board as to what they wanted us to set up and the time frame to have it completed. Susan is a wonderful National Regent and handles her position with grace and precision. We are in awe of her leadership skills."

The Conference began with 4:00 PM opening Mass on Thursday celebrated by National Chaplain Father Erick Villa and con-celebrated by other clergy present followed by dinner.

National Regent Susan Monè then banged the gavel and started things off. Susan introduced her National Board and welcomed the state and territorial officers and guests and paid particular attention to the State Chaplains and spiritual directors' presents. The clergy at these events is always a blessing, and Susan asked them to stand, and they were met with resounding applause.

Oklahoma State Chaplain Rev. James Caldwell found the conference to be "uplifting, joyous and upbeat as the National Board and its directors strive to accomplish the business of the day, with a spirit of openness and charity toward the new members who have been elected by their courts and state boards. I also find my fellow priests who serve as chaplains to be faith filled and hopeful for CDA's in their states as well."

Father Caldwell has been Oklahoma State Chaplain since 2016. "I was asked by a Vice Regent to consider being the State Chaplain. When I accepted, I did not know much about the Catholic Daughters of the Americas. So, it was a learning process to discover my role in the CDA. As I grew to understand CDA more, my motivation grew out of a deeper love for the ladies and their spiritual journey. I wanted to help enshrine charity and unity in relationship to their faith in God, and each other, as well as connect the Sacraments to their goal of serving others in charity and love and help unite a group of holy women who wish to love and serve the Lord. Even today, I am motivated by the beautiful faith of our Oklahoma State Officers and all the members of CDA as they express and live their faith daily."

Father Caldwell also enjoyed his interactions with his fellow clergy at the Conference. "We had conversations with each other, discovering new ways to be more available to the local councils, while at the same time, helping the State Board grow by being humbly aware of the trust given to them by the State and serving their sisters with unity and charity. We also talked about a deeper need for evangelization through catechesis and expressing the core tenets of our faith to help increase our awareness of 1) How God has got this for us, we have to trust in Him, and 2) the desire and need to have God be the center and reason why we do all things, which are for His glory."

Another member of the clergy, National Chaplain Father Erick Villa, was present as a member of the National Board. Susan Moné shared some great news about him:

a) On June 8, Father Erick became a US Citizen

b) On July 1, he was named Rector of the Cathedral in the Diocese of Oakland, California.

The audience expressed their congratulations by applauding soundly.

Susan also extended special thanks to Carmella Mongold, Secretary to the National Regent, who unfortunately was hospitalized while at the Conference but is doing well, and Louisiana Second Vice State Regent Adrienne Saucier who stepped up to help in Carmella's absence, especially with technical matters during presentations.

Friday evening featured scholarship and contest awards presentations. Winners can be found on the CDA website www.catholicdaughters.org, Activities tab, Thursday Conference events, or email Tompanas7@gmail.com.

Friday morning focused on training for each State Officer position. National Regent-Elect Essie Walker began by explaining the responsibilities of the State Regents. New Mexico State Regent Crystal Montoya benefitted from Essie's presentation. "The State Regent presentation helped give me a clearer vision of the leadership, humility and spiritual strength required for this important position," Crystal said. "I appreciated the opportunity to meet the other state regents and network with them to share ideas, experiences, and goals for the next two years. I left the conference feeling more confident, better equipped, and motivated on a deeper level to serve and uplift the members of the wonderful state of New Mexico!"

Crystal, who is a member of Court San Jose #2252, Carlsbad, New Mexico, and has been a Catholic Daughter for 18 years, thought the Conference was great. "The State and Territorial Officers Conference was wonderful! I am filled with so much gratitude and renewed purpose after attending. Every detail - from the inspiring, entertaining presentations and beautiful liturgies to the thoughtful gifts left at our seats and joyful fellowship, the conference was a true reflection of our CDA mission. It was such a gift to be amongst women who are also passionate about faith, community and CDA."

Pennsylvania First Vice State Regent Lisa McCann agreed. "The Conference was very wonderfully prepared and presented. Our National Board and Directors did an excellent job presenting. The spirituality of the Conference was outstanding also."

Lisa is a member of Court Westinghouse #759, Turtle Creek, Pennsylvania. She is a third generation Catholic Daughter who has been a member for 20 years. She has been on the Pennsylvania State Board since 2013, and this is her sixth Conference.

Lisa was energized by First Vice National Regent Connie Dronette's training. "The presentation on First Vice State Regents was insightful and has renewed my energies to better serve my sisters in Pennsylvania."

Second Vice National Regent Nancy Bambenek gave a creative and hilarious presentation on the State Secretary position costumed as Dolly Parton from the movie "9 to 5." She was assisted by "sisters" National Secretary-Treasurer Brenda Anderson and National Director Barb Wiechmann. Conference "first timer" California State Secretary Yvette

Manard thought that Nancy's presentation "definitely woke everyone up and was an effective way to emphasize the value of this position to the CDA. The recap of the duties of this office serves as a reminder of the need to accurately record the history of our Courts."

Yvette, who has been a member of Court Compton #942, Compton, California, for 10 years, thought the Conference was "informative, spiritual and lively! The numerous training sessions, prayer breaks, interactive presentation/displays and opportunities for fellowship were well thought-out and executed."

First timer Nebraska State Secretary Marilyn Lowery also liked Nancy's presentation. "Since everyone learns in different ways, having a Fun Presentation that was auditory was a good way to meet those needs for a learning experience. It breaks things up and gets you motivated to start learning again."

Marilyn, who has been a Catholic Daughter for 31 years and is a member of Court Mary Immaculate, #2182, Omaha, Nebraska, added that she "not only learned things for my duties as the State Secretary but also some processes/procedures that my local court needs to revise. All the CDA members were so friendly and helpful, which made a 'first timer' feel so much better and helped calm any nerves.

Marilyn explains why she decided to attend her first Conference. "No one was elected Nebraska State Secretary at the State Convention in April, and I was asked to be the State Secretary by our new State Regent, Kim Meduna. I was installed in the Wal-Mart parking lot! Kim asked all the State Officers to attend the Conference as a learning experience and time for us to get to know each other."

Fellow Nebraska State Officer and First Timer Nancy Vrbka said the conference "helped me network with lots of wonderful ladies. I now have a better understanding of the expectations of my new role with the Catholic Daughters. Not just the duties of the Nebraska State Treasurer, but also how the role is a part of the overall mission of the Catholic Daughters."

A member of Court San Salvador #576 David City, Nebraska, Nancy has been a Catholic Daughter for 16 years. She was "pleasantly surprised at all that I learned in two short days! I think training is a critical component of any office as it helps you transition quicker into your position."

Nancy really enjoyed First Vice National Regent Connie Dronette's "Coast to Coast Pilgrims of Hope" presentation. "Connie is such a humorous presenter. Anything she says is positive and inspirational. I love to take a pilgrimage any time I can. Knowing that I probably will not get to travel outside the United States to do so, I was excited to learn about more places to voyage to within the United States. California is a state I have not been to, that I would like to get to someday. I like the idea of being able to see several spiritual places in one trip! Look out California! You're now on my bucket list!!"

Connie also led Prayer Breaks, which were held throughout the conference to offer moments of physical and spiritual refreshment. During one of them First Vice National Regent Connie Dronette said, "God's love is sweeter than honey, and I've been on a diet for past two months, and I enjoy honey. As we explore the healing powers of honey, we are encouraged to turn to God's loving grace during times of need. Gracious words are a honeycomb, sweet to the soul and healing to the bones. Just as honey heals the body, our words can bring healing to those around us."

For Alaska Territorial Regent Cecilia Stanley this was her first Conference as Regent, having attended previously as Recording Secretary. "My favorite thing was being able to 'SHARE' time with Catholic women from around the United States," Cecilia said. "To pray, converse, learn, laugh and meet with others who share faith and who serve in 'Unity and Charity.' I look forward to the Iowa National Convention."

Cecilia, who has been a Catholic Daughter for almost eight years, thought "the conference was wonderful! Meals were plentiful and delicious, the pool refreshing, rooms more than adequate. Having time to share with National Board members, Directors, and those from other states at meals and between sessions was great."

"The sessions were informative while presented with drama and humor. Seeing Nancy Bambenek's 'Dolly' and Connie Dronette's 'Cowboys,' I felt I had heard some of the items addressed at the National Convention in New Orleans, but this time I was able to focus and retain more of the suggestions and better understand my Regent position."

Cecelia commented on the similarities and differences between State and Territorial Regents. "Court St. Pius X is not affiliated with one parish; we have members from at least eight parishes. Though we are considered a local court, I don't know all our members. In some ways, that is like the State Regent trying to know all her local court officers from different cities around the state."

"Like State Regents we follow the National Bylaws, have Standing Rules for our court, conduct regular meetings, financial reviews, pay local and national dues and file reports. Where we differ is we do not have regular training for new officers, although I do have the support of past officers and especially regents who attend our officer meetings prior to our regular membership meetings."

Like so many in the organization, Cecilia is worried about membership. "I don't think this is different from National, State, or Local Courts, but membership is proving difficult to maintain. Alaska had courts in Juneau, North Pole, Fairbanks and Anchorage. Now we are the only court."

Fellow Territorial Court Regent Ana Mc Bayne agrees. "As Territorials we have the same challenge as State Courts in getting more women to join the Catholic Daughters." Ana, who has been a Catholic Daughter for over 25 years and is Regent of Court Our Lady of the Americas #2344, Washington, DC, added, "The learning opportunities at the Conference are great but also with that is the fellowship with Daughters from other courts."

After National Secretary-Treasurer Brenda Anderson's presentation on the 1903 Society (the 1903 Society obtains donations to improve the facilities of CDA Headquarters in New York) the California State Board said they were so moved by Brenda's presentation that they donated $5000 to the 1903 Society. The Minnesota State Board placed on their agenda a 10-year pledge and other states have mentioned donations. A tally will take place later.

Brenda mentioned that there are now 1041 operating courts with 1782 courts "lost and buried" in a dusty basement at headquarters filled with envelopes of disbanded courts paperwork. A reminder was given that there will be another Girls Trip to New York fund raiser. Details to follow.

Presenting on Standing Rules, National Director Nancy Bambenek asked the gathering, "Why do we have standing rules? Anybody know?"

Montana State Officers with State Chaplain Fr. Navil Rodrigues are all smiles.

Maryland was well represented.

Members of the audience responded, "They make court life easier offering continuity order and uniformity. They keep everything running smooth."

"What do Standing Rules not conflict with?" Nancy asked.

"By laws!" the audience responded.

Many in the audience then shared examples of standing rules created in their courts.

Youth was on the agenda and the Catholic Daughters' care, devotion and concern for our Youth took many forms. National Director Karin Dudash asked, "Why are we concerned about our Youth?" and the resounding reply from the audience was, "They're our future!"

Karin added, "tomorrow's promise lives in today's youth. It is the mission of our Youth Program to nurture personal and spiritual growth."

Karin and National Director and Youth Chairman Yvette Griego presented a beautifully created video with pictures and music on the JCDA.

Campus Courts Chairman Rita Carlson announced the two

Campus Courts in Iowa: Our Lady of Grace, #2591, Sioux City, Iowa, and St Theresa Lisieux, #2711, Ames, Iowa, attended the past Iowa CDA State Convention and assisted by displaying a showcase of their projects and charities. They participated in the business of the convention as Delegates and also provided music for the Masses.

Court St. Therese Lisieux sewed bibs and made prayer bouquets and delivered them to Martha House of Hope.

Court Our Lady of Wisdom, #2799, Brookings, South Dakota, was instituted in 2024. The members created blankets called Sleep in Heavenly Peace and in conjunction with the Knights of Columbus on campus delivered the blankets and 120 beds to Pine Reservation.

Rita added that there are currently four Campus Courts, and she is working on a fifth.

National Regent-Elect Essie Walker announced that a new National Charity has been established: Victory Junction in North Carolina. National Regent Susan Moné explained that Tutwiler Clinic was dropped as a National Charity, as was Covenant House some time ago, because they were moving in a direction at odds with Catholic Daughter values.

National Public Relations Chairman Tom Panas presented on SHARE and the CDA Website and pointed out that some of our National Projects and Charities like Human Life International, Labourè Society and Apostleship of the Sea advertise regularly in SHARE, which is a way for them to give back to the CDA by reducing SHARE production costs. He asked that members take that into consideration when making their charitable donation choices.

talked about the new Dress Code in their Ceremonials presentation: simple white blouses, no cleavage, sleeveless, tank tops, t-shirts. "Our dress must show respect of our Lord and the church," they said. "We need to follow the dress code -- this is what was voted on." The new formal dress code can be found in the Tools of the Trade under the Ceremonials Section, Number VII, on the CDA Website, Explaining the CDA Disaster Fund, National Regent Susan Moné thanked the generosity of the Catholic Daughters: CDA donated $47,000 for the disasters in Florida, Texas and California. $2500 was given to Nebraska and Arizona, $5000 went to the San Antonio Diocese as a kickstart. I can't thank you enough.

Susan asked everyone to keep our CDA Patroness, the Blessed Mother Mary, close to their hearts. She mentioned the bracelets from years ago with the question, "WWJD -What Would Jesus Do?" She suggested asking, WWMD - "What Would Mary Do?" suggested providing a 'seat' for Mary "so that all we do is done in Catholic Daughter Unity and Charity." ✨

DID YOU KNOW?

Captain McShea asked that we: "Encourage CDA members to recruit your Parish Priests for our ministry, and as a CDA member realize the value of a priest onboard and share the importance of same whenever and wherever possible."

- 50% of the 1.2 million seafarers that call in US ports each year are Catholic.
- There may be a Seafarers' Center in your Diocese that needs assistance to bring the Sacramental Life of the Church to Catholic Seafarers.
- There are cruise lines that care about your faith life onboard. AOS-USA places priests onboard many cruises for Holland America Line and Royal Caribbean. We also place priests onboard for Easter and Christmas with MSC Cruises and Explora Journeys. AOS-USA encourages all Catholics to sail with these participating cruise lines, which ensure priests in good standing aboard.

LEADERSHIP

PERSPECTIVE, ACTION AND PERSEVERANCE

Rosie Stockwell
National Director
National Leadership Chairman

“The future starts today, not tomorrow.”

St. John Paul II

As the first quarter of the 21st Century closes, the Catholic Daughters of the Americas have continued to grow in Unity and Charity through Spirituality and Service. Moving forward, CDA has exhibited patience, which is the fruit of hope, having the confidence and courage that is necessary to help to build a future within the organization.

Perspective

Hope is about expectation in how things will work out. Hope requires that we not only look forward (a vision) but also move forward (setting achievable goals). The Catholic Daughters of the Americas has experienced growth in its program of work, which is the Circle of Love, and the courts and members continue to achieve exceptional progress in all areas. The many projects that courts develop and bring to fruition are testament of how the members continue to hope for a better future. It is important to visualize success and impart that vision to the members.

Action

As leaders in CDA, it is important that we see challenges as opportunities for growth and learning. Believing in our ability to act and be successful helps to build resilience in the face of adversity. Learn to believe in your ability as leaders and the capacity to influence members. It is the duty and responsibility of leaders to guide and motivate members to act. Being hopeful to build a future requires taking steps to create that desire.

Perseverance

As we look towards the future in building hope for CDA, it is important to be patient and humble. Patience is the fruit of hope and courage is the steppingstone to overcome obstacles like fear and doing the right thing during difficult times. Remember that no goal is impossible and even small acts of kindness and generosity can lead to change. St. John Paul II tells us to not be satisfied with mediocrity, rather to never, ever give up on hope, never doubt, never tire, and never become discouraged.

As the CDA organization builds hope for the future, let us recognize the importance of common-sense lessons, taken from an article titled 10 lessons from the book To Kill a Mockingbird.

- Stand up for what is right, even when it is difficult.
- Be kind and compassionate to others, even those who are different from you.
- Don't judge others too quickly.
- Everyone deserves to be treated with respect.
- The world is not always fair.
- It is important to have courage.
- It is important to fight for justice.
- It is important to be compassionate and understanding.
- Everyone has something to teach us.
- It is important to have hope.

St. John Paul II tells us that “The future starts today, not tomorrow” and asks us to say “yes” to life, to love, to freedom, to peace and to hope. 🙏

THE PROVING GROUNDS: A CATHOLIC ON LADDER 17

By Benjamin O'Brien

In recent times, national and local news have been full of disastrous fires, such as those that ravaged Los Angeles. What is it like to be a person of strong faith on the high-stress front lines of firefighting? Benjamin O'Brien answers that question in this fast-paced, fascinating, honest book.

O'Brien has been a firefighter since 2008. He recounts how as a young man starting out, he encountered bullying and the snide comments of some colleagues who were not respectful of religion or of women. But he also encountered men who showed remarkable heroism, courage and selflessness.

This book is a compelling behind-the-scenes look at a tough, competitive workplace unfamiliar to most of us. The work is dangerous, physically demanding and exhausting. It can require split-second decision making to save lives. It can be very hard on families; O'Brien and his wife Katelyn, who live in Wisconsin, have four children.

Although there are female firefighters, the world O'Brien describes is predominately male. There are vivid, specific descriptions of spending nights in the fire station, suiting up, keeping the hoses and equipment in good shape, walking into dark, smoke-filled hallways, cutting people out of cars and helping paramedics ease injured victims onto backboards. The dialogue is snappy and real. It isn't all emergencies and rough and tumble: there are scenes of familial camaraderie as the men work in the kitchen and share meals together.

The author, an active member of the Knights of Columbus, is never preachy about his religious beliefs; he is one of the guys, balking only when men's magazines are passed around and religion or women are demeaned. He endures bullying until he comes to terms with it. There are lessons here about taking Jesus' message of love and forgiveness into a sometimes-hostile work environment. There are also lessons about the importance of effective teamwork and shared goals. There are heartening glimpses of the power of prayer.

The conflict between the secular world and a worker of strong faith is well defined in this well-written book. If you have ever had to stand up to your faith in a secular setting you will relate to O'Brien's position. What sacrifices and choices are required to do the best job you can while not compromising your religious beliefs? I'd like to think that the author's devotion to Gospel values had an effect on some of the men he worked beside who were not religious. Surely some came to respect him for them.

One of the most exciting chapters in the book is one called "Fury," which describes how O'Brien and his colleagues worked through a raging storm of gale-force winds that knocked out power lines, blew off roofs and downed trees. The furious storm created a level of chaos beyond the chaotic situation that attends most firefighting emergencies. For the author, it was compounded because he could not get in touch with his family, and he knew they were near a site of danger. It is an edge-of-the-seat chapter that makes real the worries about loved one's firefighters have and the worries the loved ones have about their firefighters in danger.

The author quotes from one of my favorite poems, "The Road Not Taken," by Robert Frost, to sum up the sometimes-rocky path he has taken. Noting that God has been faithful to him in adversity, he quotes Frost's words: "Two roads diverged in a wood, and I – /I took the one less traveled by, /And that has made all the difference." 🌟
