The Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ

Genesis 14:18-20; 1 Corinthians 11:23-26; Luke 9:11b-17

*I am the living bread that came down from heaven, says the Lord;
whoever eats this bread will live forever.*

Today the Church rejoices in one of her greatest treasures: the gift of the Eucharist. On this Solemnity of Corpus Christi, we pause to reflect more deeply on the Real Presence of Jesus Christ—Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity—given to us in the Most Blessed Sacrament.

At the Last Supper, on the night before He died, Jesus took bread, blessed it, broke it, and gave it to His disciples, saying, “This is my body, given for you.” In that sacred moment, Christ instituted the Eucharist—not as a mere symbol, but as a living reality. He gives Himself completely and without reserve, not just once in history, but perpetually, in every Mass throughout the world.

The Eucharist is more than nourishment for our souls; it is communion with Christ Himself. It is the source and summit of our Christian life, the heart of our identity as Catholics. When we receive Jesus in Holy Communion, we are not only united more deeply with Him, but also with one another. We become what we receive—the Body of Christ—and are called to carry His presence into a world in need of healing, hope, and love.

This feast is also a reminder to renew our reverence and gratitude. How often we can forget the astonishing truth: the same Jesus who walked the shores of Galilee and calmed the storms now comes to us in the quiet humility of the host. In His hiddenness, He invites us to trust more deeply, to love more generously, and to serve more faithfully.

As we celebrate Corpus Christi, may we draw near to the Eucharist with hearts full of thanksgiving. May we never take for granted this miracle of love, and may our lives reflect the One whom we receive—Jesus, truly present in the Blessed Sacrament.
