Mothers, Graduates and Religious Vocations

Think about what these three groups of people have in common while I share my thoughts with you. I'll put the answers somewhere below. :)

Let us thank God that he created us male and female to compliment each other, men finding support for our weaknesses in women, and women in men. As I work with Retrouvaille ministering to couples needing help and healing for their marriage, so I am constantly reminded that at some time we all need help in our relationships. There are countless sweet and beautiful

Everyone Has a Divine Vocation

Jesus has a specific task in life for each and every one of us. Each one of us is hand-picked, called by name by Jesus! There is no one among us who does not have a divine vocation! Some are called audibly by God, but the usual kind of call is internal, through the inner working of the Spirit." -Homily by Pope St John Paul II words written to honor mothers. One of the simplest things we can say is this, "I ask God that Mary, our mother, draw you to her Son Jesus. May you give your total 'Yes' to God as she did." We all have imperfect mothers who loved us enough to give us life.

Graduates are on a journey completing another year of school and focused a little more on their future. Each graduate learned many things in school and uses some of those tools well while others are ignored for the moment. We don't use the word graduation for every major step in our life journey but we frequently complete one stage and look to the next step, the uncertain future, hopefully learning from our past and better prepared for the future. The happiest people know their weaknesses, are thankful for their strengths, and most importantly, live for the good of others.

Priests and Religious answer a similar call to grow every day, to live for others. Yet we also struggle, we are also sinners striving to be saints. I make mistakes, react rather than act with care and thoughtfulness, and battle against my ego's desire to win, prove myself right, or do what I want. We, like our mothers, graduates, and every one in our community need your prayers and support to give ourselves to God for others. Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us! - Fr KLG

Invisible Monastery is a worldwide community of people committed to praying for vocations. Our goal is to attract enough members to pray for vocations 24 hours a day in every diocese. Go to invisiblemonastery.com
 Members of Invisible Monastery:

- Pledge to pray daily or weekly for vocations
- Choose their type of prayer—Mass intention, rosary, private prayer, etc.
- Renew their pledge annually
- Receive a quarterly e-newsletter with prayers, resources, and ideas for promoting vocations
- May receive occasional communication from the diocesan Vocation Director with prayer requests or other information.

Question of the week
How can I be the kind of person to shepherd / mentor someone else?

Keep God's Word in your heart: "Fear not, for I have redeemed you; I have called you by name, you are mine." (Isaiah 43:1c)

Grow in faith: Pray for God's good for those you are estranged from or angry toward. For all our farm families, also pray to St Isidore, the farmer, that you will trust God to take care of your farm and family this summer and that you will give God time in prayer and the Sacraments.

Field Blessings: I am ready to bless your farmstead. This year I have blessed many small crosses that can be placed in a corner of each field. Contact me to arrange a time for the blessing of your home, equipment, seed, etc.

Support the Catholic Home Missions Appeal this week! Nearly 40% of dioceses in the United States and its territories are considered mission territories because they are unable to fund essential pastoral activities needed in their communities. Your support funds religious education, seminary formation, lay ministry training, and other programs that build vibrant faith communities right here in the U.S. Please be generous. More info can be found at uscbb.org/home-missions

World Day of Prayer for Vocations: Today the Church throughout the world prays for vocations. Will you make a special effort to ask the Lord for vocations to the priesthood and religious life? Pray for the priests who have ministered to you throughout your life, both living and dead. Encourage your children, grandchildren, or other young people to consider a vocation as a priest or religious brother or sister. Pray a rosary for more young men and women in our diocese to respond to God's call.

Stewardship Moment: "The disciples were filled with joy and the Holy Spirit." (Acts 13:52) The disciples heard our Lord's call and were able to spread the Gospel message with strength and vitality. We, too, can experience that same joy if we make room for the Holy Spirit to fill our hearts. When we use our gifts in the way that God intends, He fills us with supernatural joy. A joy that others notice and are attracted to.
