FROM PASTOR'S DESK

CHANGE

Any change is difficult to do and accept. Yet, it's the only way to transform hearts and minds. It's the only way to achieve and maintain peace and justice in the world.

Indeed, our world has a dire need for change. It's more evident now, given the global events in recent weeks, particularly the war in Ukraine. The plight of more than a million people fleeing Ukraine to escape war and terror has demoralized us. As the media show Russia's planes continually bombing the cities of Ukraine, killing soldiers and civilians, we say to one another, "Why is this happening in the world? We have never seen anything like this in our generation." And then, we cringe at any thought of World War III and nuclear war.

The culprits for these evil things in our world today are hatred, greed, and pride in human hearts and the absence of true faith in God and fear of Him. As St. Paul tells us in this Sunday's Second Reading (Phil 3:17-4:1):

For many, as I have told you and now tell you even in tears, conduct themselves as enemies of the cross of Christ. Their end is destruction. Their God is their stomach; their glory is their "shame." Their minds are occupied with earthly things.

What can we do besides pray to stop this war? For sure, the resolutions rest on our world leaders, especially a change of heart in President Putin and his cabinet. However, as citizens of this world, we can all denounce the evil of this war and try as best to help the Ukrainian people find comfort in their sufferings. So, I'm glad that churches in the U.S., like ours, are setting up second collections for Ukrainian refugees.

Indeed, the war in Ukraine has moved hearts to pray for the people of Ukraine and provide them with their necessities. It's making us conscious of our common humanity and responsibility for one another.

It's this change that must happen in our world. As Pope Francis states in his encyclical Laudato Si', God calls us to foster a "spirit of generous care, full tenderness" and "a recognition that the world is God's loving gift, and that we are called quietly to imitate his generosity in self-sacrifice and good works." This generosity entails a "loving awareness that we are not disconnected from the rest of creatures, but joined in a splendid universal communion."

Lent allows us to examine ourselves on how we have demonstrated generous care and tenderness for one another. As such, it convicts us of our indifference, selfishness, hatred, greed, and other sins.

This Sunday's Gospel (Luke 9:28b-36) about the transfiguration of Christ speaks of the yearning of our hearts for peace in the words of Peter: "Master, it is good that we are here." But as Jesus implied, keeping peace in our hearts and the world entails the sacrifice of dialogue, humility, mutual understanding, forgiveness, compassion, and laying down of arms.

Blessings!

Your loving pastor,

Fr. Rodel "Odey" Balagtas

PARISH NEWS & EVENTS

HOLY LAND HANDICRAFT COOPERATIVE SOCIETY

WILL BE HERE AT INCARNATION
ON THE WEEKEND OF MARCH 19 & 20

They aim to preserve the handicraft traditions of the Holy Land for the benefit of future generations of Palestinians, especially the olivewood tradition which was first developed because of the local availability of the raw material and the demand by pilgrims for religious icons.

Representatives will be selling these hand carved olive wood and mother of pearl religious items to help Christian families in Bethlehem and Jerusalem, so they can stay and survive in the Holy Land and keep Christianity alive there.

The Holy Land Handicraft Cooperative Society has a dream of peace in the Holy Land, and believe that Fair Trade is a tool to reach their aspirations.

INCARNATION SCHOOL

Incarnation School Academic Decathlon takes 1st Place!

Congratulations to our Academic Decathlon Team. They took 1st place over all at the San Fernando Pastoral Region Championships, continuing a very proud Acadeca tradition here at Incarnation School. Next stop, Nationals!

We are beyond proud to announce the results of the Academic Decathlon Competition this weekend. Student teams compete in 3 different kinds of events, points from each are tallied at the end to determine a winner. This is the first year the competition is regionalized (we are in 1 of 5 regions in the Archdiocese of Los Angeles, the San Fernando Pastoral Region). Each regional winner moves on to the National Championships later this month. Here's how we did:

- Individual Events
 - Emma F. (8th Grade) - 3rd Place in Social Studies
 - Leila B. (7th Grade) - 3rd Place in Literature
 - Megan T. (7th Grade) - 2nd Place in English
 - Natalie S. (7th Grade) - 1st Place in Current Events
- Super Quiz (whole team event)- 2nd Place
- Logic (whole team event)- 1st Place
- OVERALL - 1ST PLACE!!!

Incarnation Eagles are the first ever, San Fernando Pastoral Region Champions!

Congratulations to our parents, our volunteers (especially our graduates who came back to help), Mr. JD Derr (our amazing first year coach), and to our competition and alternate teams who have been working very hard since the Fall.
