LITURGICAL LIVING

Connecting to the Faith Throughout Your Week

LIVING LITURGICALLY IN LENT

Excerpts by Bridget McCartney Nohara- National Catholic Registry

"As Catholics, we are well acquainted with the notion of "giving something up" for Lent. This idea of penance is rich in Tradition and is certainly a valuable practice.

However, by focusing too much on what we are giving up, Lent can start to feel a little less like a spiritual season of growth. This year, in addition to giving something up, look for ways to live Lent as you go about your day... Here are four ideas I've curated from my own trial and error."

Make it Tangible | Sacramentalize | Go Into the Desert | Befriend a Saint

Check out the first two below and come back next week for the rest!

MAKE IT TANGIBLE

"I love decorating my home. A vase of flowers on the bathroom sink, a piece of art hung in a corner — I try to make even the smallest parts of my home feel intimate.

During Lent, however, I intentionally remove some (but not all) of these details. Throughout the year, I almost always have fresh flowers in my home. This is one of my simplest yet greatest joys. However, during Lent, I remove them. If anything, I will put simple greens or dried stems in a vase.

This is a tangible, daily reminder of the suffering of Christ; that this is not a season of verdant fields, but, rather, of sorrow and death. By seeing empty vases or dried stems, I am nudged to consecrate that present moment and unite myself with the suffering Christ. It may not be flowers for you, but as you live Lent this season, look around your home and reflect on how you may incorporate a reminder of the Passion into your space."

SACRAMENTALIZE

"When is it not a good idea for us to frequent the sacraments? But if ever there was an excellent time, I think it's Lent.

The sacrament of reconciliation is particularly powerful for me during Lent. In reconciliation, we experience our own sort of death and resurrection: death by our sin; resurrection through the mercy of Jesus. As the Catechism of the Catholic Church so aptly puts it, "In this sacrament, the sinner, placing himself before the merciful judgment of God, anticipates in a certain way the judgment to which he will be subjected at the end of his earthly life" (1470).

It is the moment when Jesus speaks to us from the cross, "Father, forgive them." Whether or not you've been in the habit of going, look for a time this Lent to receive this great gift from God, and allow it to draw you right to the foot of the cross.

Many parishes provide additional penance services during this season. Grab a bulletin after Mass, or check your parish website. The graces received will provide welcome assistance in your Lenten efforts."

NURSING HOME VISIT – SATURDAY, MARCH 16

The Social Concerns Ministry, in conjunction with the Homebound Ministry, is inviting Church of the Resurrection members, families, and friends to join them in a visit to residents currently living at New Albany Gardens. The idea is to simply spend some time with residents, both Catholic and non-Catholic, brightening their day with some companionship and conversation. Living in a nursing home can feel isolating, despite its apparent social set-up. Members of our Homebound Ministry consistently report that the residents appreciate having a visitor almost as much as getting an opportunity to receive Holy Eucharist. For this visit, we will not be bringing the Eucharist – just ourselves, to provide the residents with an unexpected chance to meet and socialize with a new friend.

We will meet at New Albany Gardens at 12:30 PM on Saturday, March 16, and go individually or in groups of 2 to visit with residents in their rooms or in the common areas of the facility. There is no structured format. Just a chance to give the residents an unexpected lift, and for you to nourish yourselves with the joy of performing a beautiful work of mercy as a part of your Lenten journey.

To sign-up or for more information, contact Dale Vitale at daletvitale@gmail.com or call/text at (614) 290-4402, or sign-up at the table in the Gathering Space after Mass March 9/10th or through the QR code.

CREATION CARE CORNER

WEEKLY STEWARDSHIP RECOMMENDATION: Lent—Considering Carbon Fasting

Fasting in ways that reduce earth warming carbon emissions is a contemporary Christian way to celebrate Lent. Weather patterns are already changing. We are approaching tipping points that could cause severe ecological disruption creating misery for the poor and future generations. “Lent should be a time for prayer and fasting to stop climate change. It is an act of penance for what we in the rich world have done, and it is a prayer for help in avoiding catastrophe.”

Stop eating or reduce meat consumption, especially beef, during Lent. Beef consumption produces huge amounts of greenhouse gases and contributes to deforestation. Reduce and consolidate your auto trips and use public transportation where possible. Reduce heating and air conditioning usage. “If every Catholic in the country spent Lent in this way, it would have an effect and would be a prophetic witness to the rest of the world.” Attribution: Fr. Thomas Reese, EarthBeat, National Catholic Reporter - 2/14/24

“This must be our attitude toward creation: safeguarding it.” – Pope Francis

CONTEMPLATIVE MOMENT

Month of Saint Joseph

"Saint Joseph, our father and lord, is a teacher of the interior life. Place yourself under his patronage and you'll feel the effectiveness of his power." – St. Josemaria Escriva

GOSPEL MEDITATION

March 10, 2024– 4th Sunday of Lent

Our national pastime isn't baseball. It's what the Bible calls "condemning the world." We generally enjoy pronouncing curses upon those whom we see as trouble, wrong, or evil. Don't believe me? Listen to almost any podcast, cable news network, or social media platform to hear it. It will be some version of: "We all agree that if they are eradicated, things will be great." Condemning is almost always clothed in virtue. It basks in its good intentions. That's why it is so attractive. Condemning seems like our best path to having what is good.

What a shock, then, to hear Jesus announce: "For God did not send His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world might be saved through him" (Jn 3:17). He comes to save the world, as we all want, but he will accomplish it without an act of condemnation. How hard it is to accept this! Condemning feels godlike. I judge who and what must be lost to protect the good. But in the light of Jesus' endless mercy and love, this is the least godlike thing we can do.

Lenten challenge: This week, I invite you to give up the delicious experience of condemning whomever in the world you most would like to see gone. Perhaps write down their names. Secondly, I invite you to consider fasting from any media that feeds the tasty but deadly tendency to condemn.

— Father John Muir

PRACTICING CATHOLIC– RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

The Uncomfortable Life in The Light By Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

If you have ever been a woman over the age of 30 who stayed in a budget motel, you know the horror of awakening in a dark room, switching on the bathroom lights and screaming at the shriveled-up she-witch you find hiding there. And you know the feeling of disappointment that blooms in the pit of your stomach as you realize the shriveled-up she-witch is your own reflection staring back at you beneath the merciless glare of overhead fluorescent lighting. You may also know the relief of visiting a nice restaurant after dark and catching sight of yourself in the mirror. You lean forward, mesmerized by how different — how matte! How smooth! — the contours of your face look in what we call “forgiving light.” But this turn of phrase is simply not correct. It is not light, and it does not forgive. It is darkness, and it merely conceals. But it feels so much better, doesn’t it? Salvation can feel like condemnation, when being lost is all you know. Sometimes it is so much more comfortable to live lost in the shadows. It is possible to yearn for darkness. Darkness gives cover to so many things. The light has a harshness that can almost seem demanding, exposing. Light can bleach. Light can burn. “Is this really me?” you think in that budget hotel bathroom, examining acne scars you never saw before and crow’s feet that seem to have developed overnight. The answer is yes. Yes, that is really you, all of it, every inch. There’s nothing to be afraid of, just step into the light and own it.

“And this is the verdict, that the light came into the world, but people preferred darkness to light, because their works were evil.” — John 3:19

The Year of Eucharistic Revival– Draw Closer to the Eucharist

EUCCHARISTIC MIRACLE OF MONTSERRAT, SPAIN– 1657

“In 1657, the Most Reverend Father Don Bernardo de Ontevieros, General of the Benedictine order in Spain, and Abbot Don Millán de Mirando, arrived at the Monastery of Our Lady of Montserrat in order to participate in some conferences. During one of the conferences, a woman and her young daughter showed up and the daughter began to beg the Abbot Millán de Mirando to celebrate three Masses in memory of her deceased father, whole-heartedly convinced that with these Masses the soul of her father would be freed from the pains of purgatory. The good abbot, moved to tears by the girl, began to celebrate the first Mass of suffering the next day, and the girl, who was present with her mother, confirmed seeing her father kneeling, surrounded by frightening flames at the step of the main altar during the consecration. The priest and General, dubious, asked the girl to put a tissue close to the flames that surrounded her father in order to verify her story. Following their request, the girl put the tissue into the fire, which only she could see, and the tissue began to burn with a lively flame. During the second Mass the girl confirmed having seen her father dressed in a vibrantly colored suit standing next to the deacon. At the third Mass, the father appeared to his daughter dressed in a snow-white suit. As soon as the Mass ended the girl exclaimed, “There is my father going away and rising into the sky!” The girl then thanked the community of monks on behalf of her father as he had asked her to do. The Most Reverend General of the Benedictine order in Spain, the Bishop of Astorga, and numerous citizens of the town were present.”

Thoughts on the Journey

4th Sunday of Lent, March 10th, 2024

John 3:14-21

Suanne Gettings

A number of years ago, I co-facilitated a woman's retreat in Lancaster. As part of the weekend itinerary, there were periods of time scheduled so that women had an opportunity to have private support sessions. Sitting in a room waiting for my first appointment to arrive, I prayed to the Holy Spirit to come to the aide of the person for whom I was waiting and for her intentions. Anne, a woman in her late fifties, came through the door. She smiled, gave me a hug, and then sat in the chair adjacent to me. It was evident that Anne was anxious and, before speaking a word, tears began to well up in the corner of her eyes. After a few moments of silence, I addressed her, "Anne, I'm so glad you're here. Why don't you take a deep breath, we'll say a prayer together, then you can tell me what's on your mind."

When she began to speak, she said, "I'm not sure what to do." That comment of quandary was followed by a litany of events that led her to see me. She continued, "The past couple of years have been very rough. My husband's health has not been good since his heart attack and he's unable to work; several years ago I broke my arm and had to have two surgeries to correct the chronic pain; due to the economy, my agency folded. I couldn't find a job and we lost our home in bankruptcy; we then had to move in with our divorced son and his two grade school children, one of which has autism." She then paused to choke back her tears and, in a pitch of pain said, "Suanne, we lost everything! But, I'm OK with that - they were just things. We're blessed because Tom and I love each other. We have our faith and our family. We have it a lot better than some people." She continued, "What I'm struggling with is this: It has always been my dream to go back to school for my degree, but now I feel like my husband, my son, and grandchildren need me more than ever. If I follow my dream, I will be too busy to care for them. If I put my education on hold, I will lose the dream." We sat quietly and I could tell she was searching my eyes for an answer. Then I asked her, "What do you think God is calling you to at this time of your life?" Her face softened. She then looked at me with resolve and said, "I know in my heart that God is calling me to serve my family." At that moment, I realized how wrong she was. She didn't lose everything. Through the losses and disappointments, Anne managed to hold on to the most treasured of all that belonged to her - her FAITH and her desire to do the will of God.

In this week's gospel, Nicodemus, a wealthy Pharisee and member of the Jewish Sanhedrin, is restless and searching for answers, wanting to fill a void, looking for spiritual food to end the pangs of a deeper hunger, and perhaps searching for an understanding of how this Jesus, who performs signs and wonders, is connected to his God. Nicodemus goes to Jesus in the dark of night. In an effort to help Nicodemus understand the connection between himself and the God of Abraham, Jesus appeals to his knowledge of the Hebrew Testament and refers to Moses lifting up the serpent in the desert.

"Just as Moses lifted up the serpent in the desert, so must the Son of Man be lifted up, so that everyone who believes in him may have eternal life."

Moses and the Hebrew people, in search of the Promised Land, were frustrated, tired, and losing trust. To make matters worse, they were being bitten by scorpions. To keep them from dying God ordered Moses to mount a serpent on a pole to protect the Israelites from dying. Anyone who looked at the serpent was spared death.

The serpent became a reminder that God is merciful and always looking out for them in their trials. That brass serpent was also a foreshadowing of God's only begotten Son soon to be mounted on the cross of crucifixion and lifted to save all of God's believers for all of time. Jesus assures Nicodemus that, in order to know light, peace, and life everlasting that he must believe that he, Jesus, is the Messiah.

How often does life get in the way of our dreams? Haven't we all experienced the venom of hardship that nips at our heels, testing our spirits and dimming our trust in God? Whether our dreams are dashed, we are in a spiritual desert, feeling incomplete, or lost and alone, our merciful Father has given us his Son with which to fix our gaze. Once mounted on the cross, this Savior of the world has shown us by his example how to overcome the darkness of the human condition. As St. Joan of Arc said as she was burning at the stake, "Hold the cross high so I can see it through the flames." Each day we have to seek the will of God in our lives and overcome restlessness through reliance on Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit who is our advocate.
