CORPUS CHRISTI

On Holy Thursday we celebrate the Last Supper and the giving of the Eucharist, the example of service, and the priesthood and how they all fit together. Today's celebration of Corpus Christi invites us to focus in on the mystery of the Eucharist: how Jesus transubstantiates bread and wine into his own body and blood. It's a Divine Mystery that we can reflect on again and again and never fully understand. It is a gift from God! This weekend is an opportunity for Catholics to stand-up and shout our "Amen", "I believe".

Fr. Pat Away

Fr. Greg and Fr. Luan will take care of our parishes this week as Fr. Pat takes a vacation. This weekend we will say Good Bye to Fr. Greg and Congratulations to Fr. Luan.

The Sacred Heart of Jesus

The entire month of June is dedicated to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. The actual Feast day is this Friday, June 27. The Mercy of Almighty God manifested in the words and actions of Jesus give hope to all of us. This is an awesome day to attend Mass, offer thanks to God, and welcome Jesus more and more into our lives.

Special Mass Choir

On Sunday, July 6 at the 4:15pm Mass at St. Monica, the a capella Liturgical Music Festival will add music to our worship. The festival, organized by Father Matthew Rensch and Sharon Trani, consists of musicians from around the state singing 4-part and polyphonic music for an evening Mass. After Mass, smaller subsets of musicians share liturgical music they've prepared, followed by a potluck supper in the parish hall.

Any parishioners who would like to participate as singers or simply attend Mass and the potluck please RSVP to Sharon Trani at sltrani@verizon.net

Pope's Monthly Prayer Intention

June

That the world might grow in compassion

Let us pray that each one of us might find consolation in a personal relationship with Jesus, and from his Heart, learn to have compassion on the world.

A Window into Our Stained Glass Windows

In our 4/13/25 we looked at our altar. After the Tabernacle, which houses the Eucharist, the altar is the holiest place in the church. It is not only where the bread and wine become Christ, the altar also represents Christ. There is even a saying "The altar is Christ." Through the consecration the altar becomes what Louis Tofari calls a kind of "living stone."

There's also a way that our windows contribute to our altar's "life." When I visited the uncovered altar during Holy Week, I noticed the windows reflecting in the polished granite. In the first photo the altar reflects the bible and sword under St. Paul and the upside down cross and keys under St. Peter. In the second, the Nativity is most prominent. I only noticed this today, a couple months after taking the photo, the convergence of the four posted bed on the altar. It gives new meaning to the open question of why Mary and Baby Jesus are on a four posted bed. Whether intentional or not, the Nativity image in the windows evokes an altar and the sacrifice that He will one day make on the cross. And the living light of the sun shines it on to the altar, creating another often unseen strand in the living web of faith at St. Augustine Church.

Don't forget to join us in the Parish Hall after Mass on June 22 for Fr. Greg's Farewell
