Parish News:

Parish Camp Opportunities

I am excited to announce we are working on planning our VBS and also hoping for a Day Camp for our 7-12 graders in August. Stay tuned for more details.

Volunteers Needed for Yard & Garden Work

Do you have a green thumb or a strong back? We are looking for help around the church grounds. This can be done with social distancing. We have a couple volunteers who are willing to guide the process but we need more hands for the work. If you would like to help, please contact Cindy in the Parish Office.

Rosary

The Rosary is prayed before daily Mass at 7:50 am and before Saturday evening Mass at 6:50 pm. Please join us.

Attention Thrivent Financial Members

If you would be interested in putting your Thrivent Action Dollars to work by supporting our VBS or our Day Camp for 7-12 graders, please contact Cindy in the Parish Office.

Eucharistic Adoration every Wednesday 9 am - 3 pm.

All are invited to stop in to spend some time with the Lord in prayer. For those who can devote an hour, we have a sign-up sheet in the back of the church to assure that there is always someone present during the time of Exposition.

FORMED Now Offers Offline Playback

No internet? No problem! They now offer offline playback to all FORMED users at no additional charge. Simply download the FORMED app on your portable device, find the content you want to watch offline, and download it to your device. Then watch it anywhere without internet. If you need assistance please let Cindy know, she would be glad to assist you.

From the Desk of Father Steve: Learning Wisdom from the Great Saints of the Church

I began a new bulletin article series a few weeks ago in which I am sharing with you the writings of some of the great spiritual guides in the history of our Church. I believe that this is important because so often times in our contemporary society, the study of history and the works of those who have come before us is viewed as old-fashioned and irrelevant to modern life. In actuality, nothing could be further from the truth. A large part of recovering a sense of secure identity as Catholics comes from knowing that we stand on the shoulders of giants- that we are placed in a long line of holy and courageous men and women who have lived the Christian life well, and who have much to offer us today in regards to what it means to follow Jesus Christ with our whole minds and hearts.

And so, as we return to the season of Ordinary Time this weekend, having completed the special celebrations of Pentecost, Holy Trinity and Corpus Christi, I think that it is most appropriate for us to begin this new season of Ordinary Time by giving thanks for what has gone before. Granted, this spring has been quite difficult for us as a society and a world, with the illness, violence, civil unrest and conflict that we have faced in the last three months. But I firmly believe that one of the ways that we live joy in the midst of hardship is by taking time to give thanks for the blessings that God has given to us, even in the midst of suffering, and to see how His hand has powerfully guided us and provided for us during these times. Below is a segment written by one of the Fathers of the Church, St. Basil the Great (died 379 AD). This writing comes from his rule of life that he wrote for his monks, but I believe it applies very well to us too.

God bless you! ~ Fr. Steve

“What words can adequately describe God’s gifts? They are so numerous that they defy enumeration. They are so great that any one of them demands our total gratitude in response. Yet even though we cannot speak of it worthily, there is one gift which no thoughtful man can pass over in silence. God fashioned man in his own image and likeness; he gave him knowledge of himself; he endowed him with the ability to think which raised him above all living creatures; he permitted him to delight in the unimaginable beauties of paradise and gave him dominion over everything upon earth.

Then, when man was deceived by the serpent and fell into sin, which led to death and to all the sufferings associated with death, God still did not forsake him. He first gave man the law to help him; he set angels over him to guard him; he sent the prophets to denounce vice and to teach virtue; he restrained man’s evil impulses by warnings and roused his desire for virtue by promises. Frequently, by way of warning, God showed him the respective ends of virtue and of vice in the lives of other men. Moreover, when man continued in disobedience even after he had done all this, God did not desert him.

No, we were not abandoned by the goodness of the Lord. Even the insult we offered to our Benefactor by despising his gifts did not destroy his love for us. On the contrary, although we were dead, our Lord Jesus Christ restored us to life again, and in a way even more amazing than the fact itself, for his state was divine, yet he did not cling to his equality with God, but emptied himself to assume the condition of a slave.

He bore our infirmities and endured our sorrows. He was wounded for our sake so that by his wounds we might be healed. He redeemed us from the curse by becoming a curse for our sake, and he submitted to the most ignominious death in order to exalt us to the life of glory. Nor was he content merely to summon us back from death to life; he also bestowed on us the dignity of his own divine nature and prepared for us a place of eternal rest where there will be joy so intense as to surpass all human imagination.

How, then, shall we repay the Lord for all his goodness to us? He is so good that he asks no recompense except our love: that is the only payment he desires. To confess my personal feelings, when I reflect on all these blessings I am overcome by a kind of dread and numbness at the very possibility of ceasing to love God and of bringing shame upon Christ because of my lack of recollection and my preoccupation with trivialities.”

As our nation celebrates Father's Day this weekend, I would like to wish all of our dads a very happy and healthy Father's Day. Thank you for being such powerful witnesses of faith to your families. May God bless you this day and always! ~Fr. Steve

Parish News:

Mass Intention Requests

Offering Mass for a special intention is a long standing tradition in the Catholic Church. Special graces from the Mass are offered for the one whom the Mass is said. Masses are offered for many reasons: for the repose of souls in purgatory, in remembrance for someone who is deceased, in honor of a birthday or anniversary, etc. If you would like to have a Mass said for someone, you can pick up a Mass intention envelope in the brochure rack and drop it in the office door slot or call or visit the parish office during business hours. A card will be given to you to mail to whomever you choose so they may also participate in the Mass. The offering given signifies the sacrificial nature of giving of something of yourself to associate more intimately with Christ who offers Himself in the Eucharist. The customary offering for a Mass intention is $10.

Bazaar Committee

We are looking for volunteers to help with the fall bazaar. This fundraiser brought in nearly $3,000 last year, but it takes a lot of people participating. If you have skills in and enjoy any of the following or if you just like to help, please, contact Cassi: cooking & running a kitchen, managing a bake sale, decorating, vendor communication and directing set up, advertising, money management, carnival organizing, sign making, volunteer coordinator, writing thank yous, raffle organizer.

Save the Date

Our Fall Bazaar is scheduled for Saturday, October 10th. Watch for vendor applications to be available soon.

Junior & Senior High

Camp Survive had to be canceled but we're hoping to offer an alternative for those going into grades 7 - 12. We will meet for two days, no overnight, for all the best parts of camp: games, Mass, adoration, team building, skits, etc. Those who participate will have the opportunity to extend their week by serving at VBS should they choose to do so.

Vacation Bible School

With so many plans being changed this year, we were waiting to see if we could safely offer VBS. As of now we are planning to hold VBS in August. Stay tuned for more information.
