PASTOR'S PONDERINGS

Dear Parish Family,

As we encounter our annual Stewardship Renewal, I hope that you will share in my enthusiasm for this year's focus, a vital element of Christian life. Ongoing personal formation is vital to our growth as Disciples of Christ. When we commit to continuously pursue our faith, we become Formed in Christ.

During this Stewardship Renewal, I encourage you to consider how you can intentionally pursue your faith by making commitments in prayer, ministry, and offertory giving - or what we call time, talent, and treasure. Read and pray over the materials that you should have all received in the mail and choose what most attracts or challenges you at this time in your life. All commitment cards are confidential. We have separated the ministries by parish so that you can easily tell which parish a ministry is affiliated with; however, please feel free to get involved in any ministry regardless of your parish affiliation. If we continue to pursue God, He will enlighten our minds, convert our hearts, and help us live a stewardship way of life.

It is a blessing to be your pastor, and I thank you for your commitment to be Formed in Christ as we deepen our stewardship way of life at St Patrick and St Canice.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Father Estrella
Pastor

Lay Witness talk for annual Stewardship Renewal

This weekend Fr Estrella has invited Seth and Desiray Baxter to share with us their personal experience with Catholic Stewardship at St Patrick's. As a parish, we are deeply grateful and blessed to have the Baxter's share their personal experience and insight into the Stewardship way of life. We invite each of you to pray for them as they share their encounter with God and his holy Catholic Church.

"Stewardship is the grateful response of a Christian Disciple who recognizes and receives God's gifts and shares his gifts and love of God and neighbor."

The Best 26 Hours You can spend this November

As men there is always something we need to do, the next project, the next practice, the next meeting. Our schedules will always be there for us to get through, but we are only offered this one opportunity this year in our parish for men to come together to spend just over a day in the Presence of Our Lord.

Don't miss this opportunity. Come join us as we strive to grow as Catholic Men. Come join us as we strive to grow as Catholic Men. You can still register at <https://spcornerstone.org> or at the parish website.

For more information contact Deacon Rick Soria @ 310-626-5673 or Mike Maples at 805-478-2264.

Creation Care Team:

Each year, the average American family of four loses $1,500 to uneaten food. USDA offers a range of advice to help Americans reduce food waste, which in turn increases household food budgets and makes nutritious diets more affordable (from US EPA). In addition, food waste, "shows an arrogant disregard for everything that, in social and human terms, lies behind food production". (Pope Francis' letter to UN Food and Agricultural Organization, Sept. 2023)

National Vocations Awareness Week is celebrated in parishes Nov. 5-11

National Vocation Awareness Week will be celebrated in the Catholic community throughout the United States Nov. 5-11.

This is a time for the Catholic Faithful to ask Our Lord for more dedicated holy priests, deacons and consecrated men and women. May they be inspired by Jesus Christ, supported by our faith community, and respond generously to God's gift of vocation.

Many parishes in the diocese will be hosting activities this week, including holy hours for vocations, a rosary for vocations, and priests and religious sharing their vocation stories.

Reflecting on the Gospel

How are people of faith to act in the world? Today's set of readings offers clear practices by which to live. The first reading from Exodus tells people what not to do: do not oppress foreigners, do not wrong widows or orphans, do not extort neighbors in need. Knowing what practices to avoid helps build healthy boundaries. It's like putting up a fence—the harmful practices stay on the outside. We are left with bountiful space inside the fence to do God's will. Today's gospel makes that crystal clear: first, love the Lord your God; second, love your neighbor as yourself.

These are two of the most well known commandments for people of faith, having first been part of Jewish law. By this point, we have a good idea of what it means to love our neighbors, even if we struggle to live it out at times. Concrete practices that show love for our neighbors include feeding those in need, visiting the sick and lonely, and advocating for just wages and good healthcare for all. The list goes on for ways we can love the people around us.

But the first and greatest commandment to love God with the fullness of our beings may not be as obvious. What does it look like to love God, in God's great vastness and mystery? How do we love something that is always present and often hard to see?

WE PRAY FOR:

DEACON'S CORNER

Jesus answered and said to him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come to him...

—John 14:23

Whoever loves me will keep my word, says the Lord, and my Father will love him and we will come to him.

"Teacher, which commandment in the law is the greatest?" He said to him,

"You shall love the Lord, your God, with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.

This is the greatest and the first commandment. The second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself.

The whole law and the prophets depend on these two commandments."

They were on a military training exercise & the men were getting bored. Still it was surprising when the radio operators of the British divisional Command heard a voice one quiet night breaking silence. The voice asked, "Are there any friendly bears listening?" After a moment a voice replied, "Yes, I 's a friendly bear," a 2nd voice soon responded & a 3rd "I am a friendly bear too." At this point, the Officer on Duty, grabbed the mic & let loose a blistering tirade at the operators for fooling around on their radios while on duty. When he had finished, there was silence for about 10 seconds, and then a child's voice said: "You aren't a very friendly bear, are you?" These 2 stories from Fr. Jerry Fuller reflects the heart of today's gospel far better than I can, so please enjoy them.

"Actor Christopher Reeves had everything – wealth, fame, fabulous health. He was one of the most handsome, physically fit men in Hollywood. Then he fell from a horse. Suddenly he was a quadriplegic. When he awoke from his accident, his first thought was that maybe he should go ahead & die. But one thing stopped him & gave him the will to live. His wife, Dana, spoke to him firmly, yet gently. 'I am only going to say this once,' she said. 'I will support whatever you want to do, because this is your life & your decision. But I want you to know that I'll be with you for the long haul, no matter what. You're still you, & I love you.' Those words gave Christopher Reeves the strength to go on." Today's gospel tells us that we need to put our priorities in order & love God above all else. Our love of God should come from our realization that God has 1st loved us, especially as shown through the life & example of His Son, Jesus Christ. Secondly, it means that we should have a healthy love of ourselves which comes from a knowledge of God's love for us. And thirdly, we must express that love of God & ourselves in our love of neighbor. This love must be expressed in words & in actions. Sometimes the words come hardest of all.

An 8-yr-old boy had a younger sister who was dying of leukemia. His parents explained to him that she needed a blood transfusion & that his blood would help her. They asked if they could test his blood. Sure, he said. The results showed that his blood would be a good match. Then they asked if he would give his sister some of his blood, that it could be her only chance at living. He said he would have to think about it. The next day he went to his parents & said he was willing to donate his blood to his sister. So they took him to the hospital where he was put on a bed beside his sister. Both of them were hooked up to IVs. A nurse withdrew a pint of blood from the boy, which was then put into the girl's IV. The boy lay on his bed in silence while the blood dripped into his sister. The doctor came over to see how he was doing. The boy opened his eyes & asked, "How soon until I start to die?" Something of this boy's positive & proactive love was clearly in evidence in the early Christians who were described as such by the 2nd-century Athenian philosopher, Aristides. In his "Apology of the Christian Faith," addressed to the Emperor Hadrian, the non-Christian Aristides wrote: ' Christians love one another. They never fail to help widows; they save orphans from those who would hurt them. If one of them has something, they give freely to those who have nothing. If they see a stranger, Christians take him home & are happy, as though he were a real brother. They don't consider themselves brothers in the usual sense, but brothers through the Spirit, in God. And if they hear that one of them is in jail or persecuted for professing the name of their redeemer, they give him all he needs ... This is really a new kind of person. There is something divine in them.'" Aristides had never read St. Paul who said in his letter to the Corinthians: "If anyone is in Christ, he is a new person; the old has passed away. Behold, all is new!" (2Cor. 5:20)

The 2 questions I need to ask myself, the 2 questions we need to ask ourselves are: Is God's love my priority & do I reflect His love within my family? Second, if Aristides was alive today would he write the same words about the parishioners here at St. Patrick's or St. Canice'?
