A minute in the Church, The Mass

One minute explanations about the Catholic Mass. Gus Lloyd

Same Thing, Different Names.

While most Christians are familiar with the term “Mass,” there are many different ways to refer to the same thing. The Catechism of the Catholic Church, in paragraphs 1328-1332, refers to many different names for the Eucharist, or Eucharistic celebration. It is sometimes called The Lord’s Supper or the Breaking of the Bread. These terms show its intrinsic connection with the Last Supper. Because the Eucharist is celebrated communally, it is sometimes referred to as the Eucharistic assembly. Because “it makes present the one sacrifice of Christ the Savior and includes the Church’s offering,” we call it The Holy Sacrifice, or Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

The Eucharist is also called the Holy and Divine Liturgy. Or sometimes simply The Liturgy. This comes from a Greek word meaning “public work” or “the work of the people.” This differentiates the public aspect of the Eucharist from private prayers.

Other expressions are The Sacred Mysteries, The Most Blessed Sacrament and Holy Communion. Finally, we refer to the Eucharistic celebration as the Holy Mass, a word that comes from the Latin “missa,” a form of the word that means “to send forth.”

PARISH COUNCIL REPORT

Fr. Kabuk led the new Parish Council in an opening prayer and then made his vision clear for the councils role in the Parish. Fr. had several mission statements including his great wish to have all organizations/ ministries involved in welcoming all parishioners and creating a loving church family. He also addressed the need to become a self sustain parish. A group effort will be made to start some fundraisers to help with our budget. The council suggested that all parishioners could look at their budgets and evaluate if their tithing is keeping up with their income.

Meetings will be scheduled as needed, and all ministry/members will provide a written report for Fr. at those meetings.
